Milk Cost Quiz By Congress Draws Nearer

Senate Committee Approves King Resolution.

Probe Would Inquire Into Alleged Pegging of Prices.

The proposed inquiry into milk prices in the Capital moved rapidly forward yesterday when the Senate District Committee unanimously approved the resolution of Senator William H. King (Democrat), of Utah, which calls for a probe of prices of dairy products in the local market.

The chairman of the Senate District Committee indicated that the report of the committee will be called on the floor of the Senate on Monday. The object of the King resolution is to determine whether there is a combination or trust which is pegging milk prices.

Complaints of Citizens.

As soon as the committee convened yesterday, Senator King directed its attention to his measure for the price inquiry.

"I introduced a similar resolution at the last session of Congress, which was unanimously approved in committee, but which was not adopted by the Senate. I have introduced the same resolution, so that we may determine whether there is a milk trust operating in Washington."

In response to a question of Senator Hamilton F. Kean (Republican), New Jersey, the head of the Senate District Committee said:

"I have had numerous complaints from citizens that there is a combination which is controlling the Washington market and that milk and cream prices are inordinately high.

Capper Joins Demand.

"One man informed me," he said, "that he had formed a corporation here to market dairy products and he was forced out of usiness by this supposed combination."

The resolution calling for the milk probe also met with the approval of Senator Arthur Capper (Republican), of Kansas, who said he didn't believe the dairy farmers are gettin. too much for their milk. "What happens after the milk leaves the dairy farm I don't know. But I am interested in knowing why the prices here are high," he said.

The measure of Senator King would authorize the Senate District Committee or a subcommittee of it, to investigate conditions with respect to the sale and distribution of milk, cream, ice cream or other dairy products, the objective being to determine whether there is any combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade in any dairy products.

Under the resolution, the committee would be empowered to require the attendance of witnesses and to require the production of any documentary evidence as it deems advisable.

Divorce Is Granted To Joan Crawford

Los Angeles, May 12 (A.P.).—Telling a story of the "mental cruelty" of a "jealous and suspicious" husband, sun-tanned Joan Crawford obtained a divorce today.

The interlocutory decree, under which she can not legally marry again within a year, ended her four-year marriage with Douglas Fairbanks, jr., son of the veteran screen actor.

No mention was made during the trial of the $50,000 alienation of affections suit filed against young Fairbanks last March 16 by Jorgen Dietz, young Danish chemist. Dietz accused Fairbanks of stealing the love of Dietz's wife, Solveig, who since has been divorced.

Milk Combine Profits Bigger During Slump

This is the seventh of a series of articles discussing retail prices of milk and other dairy products as well as the methods of marketing these products in the District of Columbia.

The National Dairy Products Corporation, which controls the bulk of the milk distribution in the Capital, appears to be depression-proof. This statement is attested by the fact that after the stock market crash of 1929 in the first six months of 1930 this corporation showed a profit gain of 70 per cent over 1929.

This corporation, which has absorbed the most of the Washington dairies in addition to its position as a leading distributor of milk and cream throughout the country, is also

BRIGHTWOOD GROUP RAPS MILK PRICES

Association Commends Post Disclosures; Producer Tells More Facts.

The Washington Post was highly commended for its series of articles on milk prices in the District and the prices were declared "entirely too high" in a resolution adopted last night by the Brightwood Citizens Association.

The resolution, introduced by Capt. Milton D. Smith, of the Metropolitan Police Department, a member of the association, extended the association's appreciation for The Post's "efforts in behalf of the milk consumers in Washington."

An amendment to the resolution, offered by William McK. Clayton, candidate for District Commissioner, and also a member of the Brightwood association, asked that the Senate District Committee launch a thorough investigation into the retail price of milk in Washington. It was included in the original measure.

The resolution, in part, follows:

"* * * whereas a series of articles appearing in The Washington Post has brought to the attention of the people of Washington the higher price of milk in the District of Columbia than elsewhere, and has brought about a united effort on the part of various citizens' associations of the District to seek relief either by means of concerted action through the Federation of Citizens Associations or by Congress, then be it resolved:

"That the Brightwood Citizens Association * * * voices its approval of the manner in which the matter appearing in these various articles has been presented to the public, and extends to the management of The Washington Post its apprecaition for its efforts in behalf of the milk consumers of Washington."

New York Life Defers Mortgage Foreclosures

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—The New York Life Insurance Co. announced today that it has directed the suspension of all mortgage foreclosure proceedings on owner-occupied farms throughout the United States.

The action was authorized yesterday by the company's finance committee in anticipation of the singing of the farm mortgage bill by the President.

French Reveal Plot With Arms Arrests

Nice, France, May 12 (A.P.).—Two men were arrested today in connection with the discovery of 70 cases of machine guns and rifles believed by authorities to be destined for Spain.

Police expressed the opinion that they had uncovered an extensive plot to smuggle arms to alleged revolutionists in Spain.

Paraguayans Willing To Talk Truce Plans

Asuncion, Paraguay, May 12 (A.P.). Paraguay, in reply to a League of Nations note today, said it would accept plans for arbitrating the Gran Chaco dispute with Bolivia if hostilities ceased first with the assurance they would not be renewed.

A formal declaration of war in the eleven months' controversy was issued Wednesday by the Paraguayan government.

SENATORS PLAN TO FIGHT QUOTA IN OFFICES BILL

Glass Will Seek Defeat of Clause Providing State Dismissals.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

A well-organized effort to defeat the so-called "apportionment clause" gained momentum yesterday in the Senate, as the House passed the independent offices bill carrying a State quota plan for Federal dismissals.

It was learned last night that Senator Carter Glass (Democrat), Virginia, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and head of the independent offices subcommittee, to which the bill must be referred, will exert his influence to modify the quota provision.

The clause, as interpreted by Secretary E. Claude Babcock, of the Civil Service Commission, endangers the jobs of more than 10,000 employes from the District, already over its apportioned quota, as well as surplus workers from Virginia, Maryland, Vermont and Iowa.

Virginians Fight Clause.

The Virginia delegation in the Senate has aligned itself solidly with the effort either to strike out the clause altogether, or complete a modifying redraft of the provision along lines unsuccessfully attempted in the House.

Senator Harry Flood Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, yesterday expressed unqualified opposition to House language that would set up apportionment, originally designed to apply only as a guide for appointments, as a standard for Federal discharges.

He has conferred with Senator Glass on ways and means of modifying the House proposal, it was learned on good authority.

Other States Object.

Senators from Maryland, Vermont and Iowa, States immediately affected by the quota clause, are expected to line up with the nonpartisan effort to stop the clause before it reaches the floor of the Senate.

Senator Glass has called his subcommittee to consider the independent offices bill at a meeting Monday afternoon, when most of the provisions of the measure, including the apportionment language, will be talked over in executive session.

The bill, which passed the House by a 249 to 118 vote under a rule prohibiting amendment of its legislative features, carries $535,000,000 in independent offices appropriations and $165,000,000 in proposed economies.

It authorizes department heads to invoke a "rotative furlough" where reductions of force must be ordered, and sets up machinery for involuntary retirement of employes in the service more than 30 years. If the President ordains, this may involve the separation of 22,000 veteran employes.

The apportionment clause was included, in the face of a subcommittee recommendation urging modifying language.

Hoard Strikes Gold And Hordes Rush

Canon City, Colo., May 12 (A.P.).—News of a grass-root gold strike today sent hundreds of men into upper Copper Gulch, 20 miles southwest of here. A tent city was erected within a few hours.

The strike was made by Robert Hoard, Negro prospector, who said he had found gold ore running $38 a ton; silver and copper at the grass roots. The rush followed receipt of assay reports here.

The road to the region was crowded with motor cars tonight. Stakes marked claims throughout the gulch near where Hoard found his first gold. Dirt flew in all directions as the prospectors worked.

Belgian Chamber Quits, Voting Ministry Powers

Brussels, May 12 (U.P.).—The Chamber of Deputies tonight was adjourned by the government for three months, after voting special powers to the ministry for that period. The vote was 96 to 82. Socialist deputies denounced the bill for its dictatorial character, and claimed it was unconstitutional.

The move was interpreted as designed to enable the government to combat attacks on the Belgian franc.

Divorcee Wins $25,000 From Charles N. Welsh

Philadelphia, May 12 (A.P.).—Mrs. Estelle M. Wolon, titian-haired Chicago divorcee, today was awarded $25,000 by a jury in her breach of promise suit against Charles Newbold Welsh, wealthy Philadelphia clubman.

Killed for Insurance

Eight Accused in Slaying for $2,776 Policies.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—A grotesque insurance plot was charged today to eight men, who are accused of obtaining policies totaling $2,776 on the life of an unemployed fireman and then slaying him, after resorting to four different methods of assassination.

Michael Malloy, the victim, said police, had been plied with liquor in an attempt to undermine his health; he had been given wood alcohol; he had been taken while intoxicated to a remote section and run over numerous times with an automobile.

And when all these methods failed, police said, the beneficiaries under the insurance policies took him, senseless, to a rented room, put a gas hose in his mouth and finally killed him.

Then, the charges run, a physician signed a certificate that Malloy had died from pneumonia, and an undertaker put the body in a pine box, without performing any of the customary post-mortem duties such as embalming, obtained a charity burial plot for $12 and interred the box 12 feet below the ground.

In homicide court Frank Pasque, 24, an undertaker, and Tony Marino, 27, described as a speakeasy owner, were held without bail for examination.

Dr. Frank Manzella, 39, who signed the pneumonia death certificate, was held in $10,000 bail as an accessory after the fact.

Five others, all charged with homicide, are in jail awaiting trial in other crimes. Two more men are held in the same jail as material witnesses in the insurance case.

Malloy's body was disinterred and an autopsy disclosed he had died from gas poisoning.

Part of the insurance money already had been paid and split up among the plotters, District Attorney Foley said, before the arrests were made.

Foley said the slaying of Malloy was the first step of an elaborate plot to mulct insurance companies.

Authorities said they were investigating the death of a woman known to them only as "Betty," who a year ago lived with one of the prisoners and had come from Washington, D. C., where she was buried.

They also said their inquiry was being extended to another attempt to kill a man in much the same manner that Malloy was slain. In that case, however, the intended victim still is alive.

6 DIE IN OKLAHOMA TORNADO AND FLOOD

Kansas City, May 12 (A.P.).—Tornadoes and floods left heavy marks upon the Southwest tonight. Six deaths were attributed to Oklahoma twisters.

Five persons were killed and seven were injured in a tornado that swirled about the edge of Tulsa late today and later dipped at Oologah, the home of Will Rogers, cowboy comedian, to damage several buildings. At Chattanooga, Okla., a tumbling chimney killed Roy Shelton, 50. Many head of live stock were lost.

The dead in the Tulsa area: M. F. Gray, 25, a road worker; Albert Martin, 25; James Pennington, 40; Bessie Brown, Ralph Arnold, 30.

A tornado flattened tombstones near Fulton, Kans. Farm buildings were demolished, trees were uprooted and homes were damaged. Hard rains swelled streams in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 12 (U.P.).—Indiana streams were at flood stage today after a month of heavy rains, causing at least two deaths and doing extensive damage to farm crops and other property. The floods in some sections were the worst in 20 years.

Extortion Plot Bared In Girl's Death Leap

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—A purported plot to extort $700 from Dr. Maurice Restell, dentist whose comely young woman assistant leaped to death from his twenty-third-story office, led to the arrest of three men today.

Dr. Restell, exonerated of blame in the death of the girl, Rebecca C. Roche, 24, of Calumet, Mich., was near collapse at his home from worry and anxiety. The verdict at the inquest was that the girl committed suicide over hopeless love for her employer.

$5,300,000,000 BOND ISSUE IS SANCTIONED

President Also Discloses $220,000,000 New Tax to Be Needed.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

The White House announced formally yesterday that additional Federal bond issues aggregating $5,300,000,000 have been determined upon as necessary to finance the Roosevelt recovery program.

New taxes to the extent of $220,000,000 a year will be levied to service the proposed new issues.

President Roosevelt has approved the tax program, but has not yet determined upon the precise levies.

In sketching the broad outlines of his budget policy, the President told his press conference that he hoped to send detailed recommendations on public works, taxes and industrial coordination to Congress on Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Members of the Cabinet understand that a general sales tax program has been informally approved by the President.

In discussing details of his tax policy, however, President Roosevelt told newspapermen he has many plans under consideration. He feels that discussion of the new levies had best await his formal recommendations.

Announcement of the gigantic bond program came only a few hours after Mr. Roosevelt had signed the emergency farm relief and inflation bill, which vests him with plenary authority to expand credit and currency.

But in discussing this phase of the bill yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt recalled his Sunday night radio declaration that inflationary powers only

Farm Strike Is Postponed To Give President Chance

Leader of National Association Says Administration Should Have Opportunity to Demonstrate Value of Program for Agriculture.

St. Paul, Minn., May 12 (A.P.).—The national farm strike which was to start midnight tonight was indefinitely postponed late today to give President Roosevelt's administration "an opportunity to fulfill pre-election pledges to the farmers."

An announcement of the suspension of the strike plans, which aimed at obtaining costs of production, was made by Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers Holiday Association, which had called it.

After a conference with seven associates, Reno said telegrams would be sent immediately to all State presidents explaining "our reasons for this suspension."

Reno said the statement of President Roosevelt in Washington as he signed the farm relief inflation bill today, urging leniency in farm mortgage foreclosures and other financial claims against farmers, led association leaders to accede to recommendations that the strike be postponed until "the effect of his (the President's) farm relief program is known."

Shortly before the suspension was made public, Floyd Olson, Minnesota's Farmer-Labor governor, requested the association to defer the strike. The governor's communication was dispatched from a hospital where he was operated upon for appendicitis.

Reno said that leaders of the dairy industry, "which occupies a unique position at this time," would be allowed to determine whether they wished to go ahead with a strike against distribution of their products.

Madison, Wis., May 12 (A.P.).—Walter M. Singler, president of the Wisconsin Cooperatice Milk Pool, said today "the strike is on" when informed that the National Farmers Holiday Association had postponed the strike plans.

BONUS GROUPS STILL SPLIT ON CONCLAVE EVE

By EDMUND G. MONK.

A battered brass bugle will sound assembly today at Fort Hunt, Va., 10 miles down the Potomac from Washington, and the 1933 bonus convention will be on—minus 200 veterans who last night dramatically chose a soggy vacant lot back of the Washington Auditorium for their bivouac rather than join their allegedly Communist-inspired comrades at the Army post.

In a stirring climax to long hours of parleying between the two committees of the veteran factions in a conference arranged by the Veterans' Bureau at Fort Hunt, the smaller wing of the bonus army marched from its temporary stand in Seaton Park here to the bare camp ground of the night before.

Levin Appeals to Group.

The decision came after Emmanuel Levin, Communist member of the Veterans National Liaison Committee, had attempted to appeal to the insurgents to join their World War comrades at Fort Hunt.

Levin was introduced by Mike Thomas, slender leader of the recalcitrants. Immediately an angry murmur of dissent swept the throng of 200 veterans.

Courageously Levin began to speak. His words were drowned out in the rising roar and a concerted movement began toward the small rostrum. Just as he was about to be engulfed in the crowd, husky park policement and plain clothes men effected a flying wedge and hustled him to safety.

Thomas then made a short speech telling about the appetizing food, the cots and the tents at Fort Hunt. He told them he was going to the question and that those who wanted to accept the Government hospitality at the Army post would not be molested nor criticized.

All Vote to Stay Here.

The insurgent leader then grasped the weather-stained staff of the Stars and Stripes that the men carry and planted it in the turf.

"Those that want to go to Fort Hunt go over there," he shouted, pointing southward. "Those that want to stay here, remain on this (the north) side." Every one of the men stayed on the north side.

Word was then received that the vacant lot had again been obtained for the night. Forming in fours, the column marched off at Thomas' command and a half hour later were placing their tattered blankets on the muddy terrain for the night.

Mr. Thomas, John H. Newlin, Harold Foulkrod and John L. Sullivan had gone to Fort Hunt at the invitation of Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, Veteran Administration head, yesterday afternoon. There they went into

Roosevelt Favors Morgan Bank Law

(United Press.)

President Roosevelt, it became known yesterday, favors a provision in the Glass bill to force J. P. Morgan & Co., and other private financial institutions to abandon their banking deposit business.

It was reported simultaneously that Secretary of Treasury Woodin, an important industrialist in his own behalf, does not agree completely with the President on this provision.

Effects of these revelations upon possible passage of the Glass bill, upon the impending Senate investigation of Morgan & Co., and other private bankers and upon the bitter feud between the Morgans and the Rockefellers were questions that perplexed senatorial leaders last night.

2 "Kidnapers" Designated by Means Hunted

Money Fails to Check With Lindbergh Bills

Elizabeth, N. J., May 12 (A.P.). The safe deposit box, rented by Max Hassell, slain beer racketeer, at the Elizabethport Banking Co. and referred to today by Gaston B. Means at his conspiracy trial in Washington, was opened by Federal officials April 28 on a court order. It contained $213,500 in cash and a note for $50,000 signed by an Elizabeth lawyer.

The order was procured when the Federal officials began an investigation of Hassell's income tax evasions.

Trenton, N. J., May 12 (A.P.).—Capt. John J. Lamb, of the New Jersey State police, said tonight the money found in a safe deposit box in Max Hassell's name was checked against Lindbergh ransom bill numbers, "but no connection was found with the Lindbergh case."

FRESH FRENCH DEBT STUDY IS FORECAST

Laboulaye Visits President as Climax of Day Full of Developments.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

An important conference between French Ambassador Laboulaye and President Roosevelt last night climaxed a day full of important developments in international politics. It was learned last night that the visit of the French Ambassador was the signal for a fresh study of the Franco-American debt situation, which takes on a special significance in the approaching day of reckoning for payment of the next installment.

Other significant events were as follows:

First, the signing of the tariff truce by the United States and seven other powers in London;

Second, the termination of the visit of Hitler's envoy to the White House conversations, Dr. Hjalmar H. G. Schacht, who was obviously pleased with the result of his talks here;

Third, the United States will be ready to embark on an air campaign to make American military and naval aviation second to none in the event of any failure at the Disarmament Conference in Geneva;

Fourth, the completion of an understanding between the United States and Belgium in advance of the London Conference;

Fifth, the announcement of the date of May 31 for the departure of the American delegation to the Economic Conference.

Ambassador de Laboulaye called at the White House yesterday afternoon and remained with the President for some time. Afterward he crossed over to the State Department and held another long talk with Secretary Hull, at the conclusion of which he announced that his visit was with regard to French approval of the

Democrats Beat Measure by Tie

(Associated Press.)

Republicans thought they had one on the Democrats in the Senate yesterday when a tie vote occurred and Vice President Garner was not to be found to break it, but in the end they came out second best.

Not only did the Democrats lose nothing by the tie, but their orators were quick to expand on Charles G. Dawes' famous nap that cost President Coolidge the confirmation of one of his Cabinet appointments. Furthermore, Garner was not napping, but distinctly busy at important affairs in the President's Cabinet meeting.

The vote was on an attempt by Senator Vandenberg (Republican), Michigan, to prevent President Roosevelt from raising second-class postage rates. "The vote is 37 ayes and 37 nays and the amendment is defeated," announced Senator Clark (Democrat), Missouri, who was presiding.

Ransom Is Declared to Be in Bank at Elizabeth, N. J.

Authorities moved last night to apprehend Wellington Henderson and Irving Fenton, who Gaston B. Means swears kidnaped the Lindbergh child, when Means, in the closing minutes of his testimony, gave their addresses as "3419 or 2419 Grand River avenue, Detroit, Mich."

In one of the dramatic moments of the trial of the former Justice Department agent and Norman T. Whitaker in District Supreme Court, Means fumbled through his notebook and read the addresses in response to United States Attorney Leo A. Rover's query as to where they could be found.

Near Canadian Border.

Mr. Rover had asked, "Where is Wellington Henderson, where is Irving Fenton?" and Means electrified the entire courtroom by saying that he knew. He said they could be found "along the Canadian border near Detroit." Mr. Rover asked for their addresses and he responded by reading from his notebook.

Means also declared that the Lindbergh baby was alive in Juarez, Mexico, last May 17, and that the body identified by Col. Lindbergh as his infant son was a "plant."

Shortly before, Means had declared that Col. Lindbergh's $50,000 and Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean's $100,000 were in the Elizabethport Banking Co., at Elizabeth, N. J., in the name of Neal Hassell, who he named as a conspirator in the kidnaping.

After the adjournment, until 10 a. m., Monday, Mr. Rover declared that Henderson and Fenton would be sought. He added with a smile: "But they will not be found."

On Stand All Day.

Means, who, with Whitaker, is on trial for conspiracy to defraud Mrs. McLean of $35,000 in the Lindbergh ransom hoax, again held the witness stand all day yesterday and continued the sensational story which he began on Thursday.

Mr. Rover did not dignify Means' testimony with a lengthy cross-examination. With faint irony in his voice he rose and said:

"Now, Mr. Means, this story you have been telling is true; you would not tell this court and jury anything that was not the truth?"

Means affirmed.

Then Mr. Rover snapped a question: "Where is Violet Sharpe?"

Means said she was dead.

"Where is Ed Aubinger?"

Means said he committed suicide.

Says Hassell Was Shot.

Rover continued, "Where is Max Hassell?"

Means replied that he was shot to death by Fenton on April 12.

"Where is Max Greenberg?"

Means replied that he was killed with Hassell.

"Where is William J. Burns?"

Means replied that he was dead.

"That's all," said Mr. Rover.

COUZENS ASSAILS ACHESON NAMING

"Unable to Best Serve Public Because of Connections," Senator Says.

(Associated Press.)

The second of President Roosevelt's major nominees to undergo a Senate attack, Dean G. Acheson, Maryland attorney, was opposed on the floor late yesterday for the position of Undersecretary of the Treasury.

Senator Couzens (Republican), Michigan, who objected to the confirmation of Secretary Woodin of the Treasury, forced a delay in action on the nomination.

Announcing he had nothing personally against Acheson, Couzens said he objected to "a policy" of men being put into the Treasury "who are unable because of former connections to best serve the public."

Couzens went on to explain that as an attorney here, Acheson had formed connections that without being dishonest, he might favor in tax matters before the department. He added:

"Temptation Too Great."

He indicated he held the same belief toward Guy T. Helvering, of Kansas, whose nomination to be collector of internal revenue is before the Senate Finance Committee.

Prior to Couzens' taking the floor, the Senate confirmed Representative Heartsill Ragon, of Clarksville, Ark., to be Judge of the Western District of Arkansas at the request of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

Ragon is ranking Democrat on the powerful Ways and Means Committee and has been one of the leading administration supporters in the House.

Slattery Appointed.

An announcement from the Interior Department explained his appointment "is recognition of his many years of public service in private life and of his intimate knowledge of the work which has to be administered by the department."

Slattery was described as a friend and lieutenant of President Theodore Roosevelt, and he was Assistant Secretary of the Interior under Secretary Lane in the Wilson administration. He also has served as secretary and counsel for the National Conservation Association. He later assisted the late Senators Thomas J. Walsh and R. M. La Follette in preliminary work on the Teapot Dome oil inquiry

Johnson Recommended.

Secretary Ickes recommended to President Roosevelt yesterday that Fred W. Johnson, of Rock Springs, Wyo., be nominated as commissioner of the general land office.

President Roosevelt yesterday named William A. Julian, of Ohio, Treasurer of the United States; J. Walter Doyle, of Hawaii, to be collector of customs at Honolulu, and Norman D. Godbold to be first judge in the Circuit Court of Hawaii.

Long Tells Senate Where Riches Are

(United Press.)

Attired in a Palm Beach suit to match the heat of his own oratory, Senator Huey Long delivered a lecture on economics to the Senate yesterday—with pictures.

He spread three huge charts on the rear wall of the Senate Chamber. One of them was headed "Ill Fares the Land." Subheadings read "Future as Seen by Franklin D. Roosevelt," "1930 Concentration and Crash," "1916 Alarm of Woodrow Wilson and Saturday Evening Post" and "1907, Theodore Roosevelt's Warning."

These cryptic statements, together with a maze of triangles on the charts, baffled the Senate until the Kingfish began to explain that they showed how much of the Nation's wealth is in the hands of a few people. He said he wanted to redistribute the wealth.

The Senate listened intently, but at a late hour last night the wealth was reliably reported to be undistributed.

Last Farm Board Cotton Will Be Sold on Tuesday

(Associated Press.)

Henry Morgenthau, jr., chairman of the Farm Board, announced yesterday that the last remaining cotton of the Stabilization Corporation, 19,306 bales, would be sold to the highest bidder at the corporation's office at New Orleans next Tuesday.

All of the cotton is now in storage at various foreign locations. Twelve thousand bales are at Shanghai, with other consignments at Genoa and Venice, Italy; Dunkirk, France, and Lods and Gdynia, Poland.

House Refuses to Probe Motion Picture Industry

(Associated Press.)

Hollywood may breathe easy. The House of Representatives will not descend in its might for an investigation of the moving picture industry.

After weeks of never quite explained delays, the investigating proposal of Dr. William I. Sirovich, Democratic representative from New York, yesterday was taken up and ridiculed to death. The performance ended with a one-sided vote—227 to 115—by a chamber which seldom has been averse to investigative expeditions.

Cut to Milk Producer Would do Him Great Injustice, Writer Asserts. Mentions Charity to Needy.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have been reading with much interest the articles in your paper regarding the price of milk to the consumer in this city.

As I am a producer and consumer of milk it places me in rather an embarrassing position to side with either, but the thought occurs to me that if, through an investigation, the dealers are forced to reduce the price of milk to such an extent that they will be operating at a loss, I am afraid we would force out of business the very few independent dealers who are left.

On the other hand, if the price of milk is reduced to the farmer, there is no doubt in my mind but that at least 50 per cent of those farmers who are shipping milk to Washington would lose their homes and farms, for my own personal experience has proven to me that the farmer can not possibly stand another cent cut in the price of milk. I have tried for the past three years to save two farms for an estate in Virginia and each year they show a net loss of at least $1,000, and for your information the only monthly salaries paid by me amount to $60. Of course, I must have extra labor during the busy seasons, but that extra help does not cost me over $100 per year. These farms, at the present time, are feeding and housing four different families and if the cost of operating these farms should be increased by a reduction in the price of milk it would be impossible for me to hold the property and therefore, would throw four families out of work.

None of the articles I have read so far in your paper have mentioned the fact that the farmers are giving and the dealers are bottling and delivering approximately 2,400 quarts of milk per day to the undernourished families and their children housed in the District of Columbia.

The men who do the milking have to get up from about 3:30 or not later than 4 in the morning and they are kept busy on the farm until dark and that is 365 days in the year, and I do not mind stating that I would not work for myself under similar conditions.

If your investigation should reduce the price of milk to the farmer I personally would feel that your paper had done a grave injustice to a hard-working and liberal class of people.

Thanking you in advance for publishing this letter, I am

Private Combine, Connected at Both Ends, with Neither Willing to Recede, Seen as Preventing Competition Here.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I want to commend you for your vigorous efforts in behalf of the milk consumers in Washington. As a member of a citizens' association committee investigating this matter I have interviewed representatives of both producer and distributor and I have come to the conclusion that there apparently is a powerful combine on both ends with neither one willing to recede and with the combination, prevents private competition. I hope the Congressional investigation now under way, for which The Post deserves full credit, will result in a revision of milk and cream prices which will be fair to all.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Please let me tell you how much I appreciate the splendid work you are doing to give Washingtonians a rate on milk and cream like to other cities in the United States. I have been having severe stomach disorder and the doctor recommends a daily consumption of a pint of cream. It is a strain on the working man's pocketbook to have to put out what I do for my milk and cream bill.

Keep up the good work! I am for you and your paper.

Prices of Milk Excessive and Unwarranted, Letter Says Praising Post's Interest With Situation.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: While we were in Fort Edward, N. Y., we bought milk for 10 cents a quart—some places 9 cents—and direct from the farm for 5 cents a quart. It was good rich milk (Guernsey milk) high in butter fat. Compare that with the prices here! When we told people up there the price of Washington milk they were shocked and couldn't understand.

Writer of Experience in Several Large Cities Feels Milk Bill Here Is Like Being Held Up.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have read with much interest your articles on the price of milk and cream in Washington. You are indeed to be commended highly for this disclosure. Within the last year I have personally inquired into the prices of milk and cream in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, and found the situation just as you disclose. For the past ten years, at least, I have purchased from two to four quarts daily from one of the larger companies and have almost felt I was being "held up" when I paid my bill.

My only regret is, this matter did not come up at least two years ago and let us hope something good comes from your action.

Burdensome Mechanical Requirements of Health Department Blamed for Milk Situation in Part by Writer.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have been reading with much interest your articles on milk gouging in the District and have been wondering if you would ever get to the cause of the situation, but so far I have seen no reference to it.

You will perform a real public service if you will analyze the rules and regulations of the Health Department for the handling of milk, from which it will appear that the mechanical requirements are so burdensome and so expensive as to practically destroy competition.

During the "milk strike" in Lincoln, Nebr., a few months ago the farmers found that the city milk peddlers, by the aid of the city health department, had built up a wall against them in the shape of the well-known humbug "Pasteurization," which is a scheme devised by the big milk peddlers to enable them to unload onto the public old, stale milk that ought to be thrown away, and to keep out of the market the small dealer who can not invest in the elaborate equipment required by health departments.

The law should fix penalties for selling impure milk or milk that is more than a certain number of hours old, and take away from health authorities the power to prescribe mechanical contrivances.

DAIRY COMBINATION FOUND TO HAVE INCREASED PROFITS

The effect of its acquisitions of virtually all the dairies which once operated in the Capital has been to stifle competition as well as to eliminate competitive skill in the dairy industry.

When the National Dairy Products took over the smaller dairies here the owners agreed not to compete with the big corporation. In one instance, the corporation attempted to prevent a man, who had sold his business to the big corporation, from engaging in a menial task in an independent dairy. This case was lost by the National Dairy Products Corporation.

The result of all the restrictions placed about the sale of the smaller dairies to the National corporation has been to remove from the industry the most skilled of dairy operators, so that there has been a stifling of the benefits which accrue to the public because of competitive activity.

The good faith of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association has also been questioned by at least one independent distributor who is one of the few competitors of the National Dairy Corporation.

This distributor had this experience: He was campaigning to increase the quality of milk supplied to him by his dairy farmers. When the milk reached a very high grade, he was informed that the dairy farmers would in the future ship to the Chestnut Farms Dairy, which is a subsidiary of the National Dairy Products Co.

He inquired of the Producers Association why his shipper had been shifted to the larger dairy. He was informed that the transfer had been requested by the shipper. The distributor contacted the shipper, who denied that he had asked to be transferred to the larger dairy. The dairy farmer informed the distributor that he had just been told to ship to Chestnut Farms by the Producers Association.

This independent distributor claims that preferential treatment is accorded the subsidiary of the National Dairy Products Corporation by the Milk Producers Association. This producers association is supposed to be merely a marketing association; with no interest whatsoever in the large corporation.

The concluding article of this series will appear tomorrow exclusively in The Post. This article will show the manner in which the National Dairy Products Corporation became a controlling factor in the Capital milk market.

Bankers Forbid Teacher Parade

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—The big Chicago bankers today demanded that the city's unpaid school teachers refrain from further public demonstrations. Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank, told President Orville J. Taylor of the Board of Education that if the teachers carried out their plans to parade tomorrow the banks would refuse to aid them in obtaining back salaries through purchase of tax warrants.

Shortly before Traylor issued the ultimatum, the School Board adopted resolutions for tax warrant limitation demanded by the bankers to effect the sale of $12,627,000 of the warrants. The bankers promised to purchase them conditional upon the limitation.

The teachers received $3,400,000 today, their salaries for the month of September, 1932. The $12,627,000 would pay them up to the first of the year.

French Give Italy Import Advantage

Paris, May 12 (U.P.).—A new trade convention between France and Italy, which American business men declared would further reduce exports from the United States to France, was promulgated by the government today.

The treaty, pushed through before the calling of an economic truce during the world economic conference, gives Italian products an advantage over American, the United States business men pointed out. Italy hereafter pays a turnover tax of 2 per cent, while the United States importers pay 4 to 6 per cent.

The pact closely resembles the recent agreement on import turnover taxes signed by France and Belgium, against which the United States strongly protested.

FARM AID-INFLATION MEASURE IS SIGNED

Administration Will Assume Broadest Power Ever Given Executive.

(Associated Press.)

President Roosevelt signed the farm relief-currency inflation bill yesterday, signaling the assumption by his administration of the broadest powers ever delegated to an executive and his advisers in peace time.

The ink was scarcely dry before Secretary Wallace set his staff to solving one of the most serious of the many-sided farm program—the distress in the milk industry, just now most critical in the Chicago territory.

Immediately after the ceremony of approving the bill the President issued a special message urging a halt on all farm foreclosures pending the setting up of machinery for a vast program of farm mortgage finance, for which $2,000,000,000 will be available. A similar message on urban mortgages was expected later.

The most extraordinary power of all in the measure, granting the President authority to expand credit, increase the amount of paper money, reduce the gold content of the dollar and fix a free coinage ratio between gold and silver—lay dormant for the day, apparently scheduled to be held in reserve for a time.

This inflationary power, in the President's own words, will be used "when, as, and if" needed to accomplish his purpose of ending the depression.

Wallace, shouldering authority aimed to boost farm prices, limit production and release the food and textile industries from antitrust law prohibitions, confirmed his selection of George N. Peek, of Moline, Ill., as chief administrator.

Chester Davis, former Montana commissioner of agriculture, is scheduled to have an important place in the administrative personnel. Wallace will announce the appointment of Jerome Frank, Chicago attorney, as chief counsel.

Wallace Promises Dairy Farm Help

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Wallace last night pledged to work out "as speedily as possible" the methods to be used under the new farm relief act to correct present "chaotic" conditions in the milk markets and other portions of the dairy industry, and to help boost the return of the dairy farmer. His statement was made to representatives of the industry from the Chicago area as his first activity in putting into effect provisions of the act.

The representatives of the industry presented a proposed trade agreement between their associations which they said would increase substantially the price to the farmer and at the same time protect the consumer. They urged its early approval.

Harry A. Pfister, president, and Don N. Geyer, secretary, of the Pure Milk Association; Dr. F. D. Walmsley and Frank Kullman, of the Chicago Milk Council, and John Lowe, of the Chicago Milke Dealers Association, attended the conference. They also discussed their problem with George N. Peek, chief administrator, whose appointment was announced yesterday.

R. F. C. Approves Loan For St. Louis Work

'Bachelor' Murder Victim Was Wed

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Another strange angle in the double murder Wednesday of Edward A. Ridley, eccentric millionaire, and Lee Weinstein, his confidential secretary, cropped up today when the police investigation disclosed that Weinstein had been married eight years while his family thought he was a bachelor.

Police found his wife, a comely woman of 31, living at a hotel where they were registered as "Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee." She said that she was formerly Miss Nora Desick, of New York; that she met the dead man as "Lee" when he was a shoe salesman, and that they were married by a priest in Norfolk, Va.

Communication with Norfolk authorities, detectives said, disclosed that Weinstein, or Lee, was known there as a gambler.

Weinstein's mother, sister and brother here expressed amazement at the disclosure of his marriage.

Vatican Water System Inaugurated by Pope

Vatican City, May 12 (U.P.).—A new water system in the Papal State, including elaborate garden sprinkling jets, was inaugurated today by Pope Pius XI, in the presence of a gathering of cardinals, prelates of the papal court and civil officials.

The system cost 17,000,000 lire (nearly $3,000,000). Installation was supervised by Franco Ratti, an engineer and a nephew of the pope. He received the grand cross of St. Gregory the Great as recognition for his work.

Governor Moore Signs Bill Aiding Newsmen

Jersey City, May 12 (A.P.).—Gov. A. Harry Moore signed a measure today designed to protect newspapermen from revealing confidential sources of information.

Under the new law, a newspaperman may not be compelled to disclose the source of any information printed in the newspaper employing him, before any court, grand jury, legislative committee or any other inquisitorial body.

Text of Roosevelt's Farm Law Message

The act extends relief not only to farm borrowers but to mortgage creditors as well.

Holders of farm mortgages will have the privilege of exchanging them for Federal Land Bank bonds, the interest payments upon which are to be guaranteed by the Treasury of the United States.

Farmers whose mortgages are to be exchanged for these bonds will reap the benefit of lower interest rates and more liberal terms of payment.

It is to the interest of all the people of the United States that the benefits of this act should be extended to all who are in need of them and that none should be deprived of them through ignorance or precipitate action.

For this reason, I appeal particularly to mortgage creditors and all others who have money claims against farmers. Every effort will be made to administer the act promptly, considerately and justly.

All preparation that could be made in advance by officers of the Federal Land Bank System has been made.

However, applications can not be acted upon instantly.

Time for examination, appraisal and perfection of records will be necessary.

I urge upon mortage creditors, therefore, until full opportunity has been given to make effective the provisions of the mortgage refinancing sections of the farm relief act, that they abstain from bringing foreclosure proceedings and making any effort to dispossess farmers who are in debt to them. I invite their cooperation with the officers of the land banks, the agents of the farm loan commissioner and their farmer debtors to effect agreements which will make foreclosures unnecessary. This is in line both with public duty and private interest.

Legion Auxiliary's Head Adopted by Indian Tribe

Pocatello, Idaho, May 12 (A.P.).—Mrs. S. Alford Blackburn, of Versailles, Ky., national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, today became the first white woman member of the Bannock-Shoshone tribe of Indians.

Mrs. Blackburn was presented with a beaded headdress bearing the American Legion Auxiliary emblem embroidered in Indian design. She was given the Indian name of Inga-Tun-Seap, which means "Red Flower."

Rockefeller Mural Will Be Replaced

New York, May 12 (U.P.).—Negotiations have been opened with several prominent American artists for a painting to cover Diego Rivera's uncompleted mural in Rockefeller Center, it was understood today.

The mural, which was covered when Rivera refused to delete a portrait of Lenin, was hidden today by fiber boards. Blank canvas was stretched over the boards and it was believed that the new painting would be on the canvas.

Rivera, in the meantime, announced that he had received an offer to paint a mural for an exhibit in the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago. The offer came after it became known that the General Motors Corporation had canceled the commission given Rivera for a mural in its exposition exhibit.

Industrialists Work On Trade Accords

While administration officials are devoting themselves to the intricacies of a new $220,000,000 tax measure, American industrial leaders have been commissioned to perfect legislation authorizing trade agreements looking to the stabilization of industry.

This measure, which is to repeal sections of the antitrust laws militating against cooperative industrial stabilization, is being written by a special commission of industrial managers headed by Robert L. Lund, of St. Louis, president of the National Association of Manufacturers. It is to be attached to the public works bill next week.

President Roosevelt yesterday commissioned the Lund committee to perfect the bill over the week-end. Among other committee members are Gov. Max O. Gardner, of North Carolina; James H. Rand, president of Remington-Rand, Inc.; E. H. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and James A. Emery, general counsel of the National Association of Manufacturers. The essential provisions of the bill have been agreed upon.

would be invoked "when, as and if" they appear necessary.

Members of the Federal Reserve Board who met yesterday for the first time with their new governor, Eugene Black, were assured there is no present intention of applying the inflationary sections of the farm bill. Governor George L. Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve Bank participated in the Treasury conferences.

Official announcement of the new taxation program to sustain the proposed additional bond issues also pointed away from monetary inflation rather than toward it. The new taxes would amortize the additional bonds in 15 years.

Floating Method in Doubt.

No decision yet has been reached as to ways and means of floating the new issues. Popular sale, as with the war-time Liberty Loan drives, has been under consideration at the Treasury for several weeks. Officials have been discouraged, however, by the failure of the drive for $500,000,000 in popular subscriptions during April. On that offering, less than $250,000,000 was sold direct to small holders. The balance was underwritten by the banks at the last minute, to prevent failure of the offering.

President Roosevelt's broad outline of his budget policy also brought the first official White House declaration that the "two-budget system" will be adopted, beginning with the fiscal year 1934. The operating budget will carry only the regular recurring items of Federal administration, such as wages and salaries, printing and stationary, traveling expenses and incidentals.

The second budget is to carry so-called capital investments, including public buildings, highways, rivers and harbors and naval construction.

$500,000,000 MADE AVAILABLE FOR AID

(Associated Press.)

President Roosevelt yesterday made available $500,000,000 for direct unemployment relief, but insisted at the same time that States and cities continue to care for citizens in distress.

In signing the Wagner-Lewis measure, which for the first time gives direct Federal aid, the President said the legislation "is a challenge to governors, Legislatures and local officials to stimulate their own efforts to provide for their own citizens in need."

He laid down the principle that only when local communities and States have exhausted their resources should the Federal Government add its contribution.

The measure provides $250,000,000 in outright gifts to the States. The remainder would be apportioned on the basis of $1 of Government help to every $3 spent by the State.

The fund would be administered under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation through a special administrator. It appears likely that Harry Hopkins, director of relief for New York State, will be chosen for this post.

Two New Civil Service Commissioners Sworn

(Associated Press.)

Harry B. Mitchell, of Montana, yesterday became president, and Mrs. Benton McMillin, of Tennessee, a member of the Civil Service Commission, taking the oath of office without the promised presence of Supreme Court Justice Cardozo, who was detained in court.

Both made the ceremony occasion for short speeches. Mrs. McMillin, widow of a former diplomat and governor of her State, was accompanied by Mrs. Cordell Hull, wife of the Secretary of State, and the entire Tennessee congressional delegation.

Coast Guard Enlisted Men to Be Dropped

(Associated Press.)

The Government's economy program will force the dismissal of 1,500 Coast Guard enlisted men, 180 temporary warrant officers, cause the laying up of 74 patrol boats, 60 picket boats and closing of several Coast Guard stations.

Coast Guard headquarters said yesterday this step would be necessary to keep the expenses for the fiscal year beginning July 1 within the amount appropriated by Congress. The reductions take effect by June 20.

Bill Suspending Mine Claim Tax Is Passed

(Associated Press.)

The House yesterday approved and sent to the White House the Borah-White bill to suspend annual assessment work on mining claims in the United States and Alaska.

The bill will relieve holders of mining claims from doing the customarily required $100 worth of work on their claims this fiscal year. Many have not been able to afford the outlay under present conditions and have been threatened with loss of their claims.

TEACHER PREVENTS ABDUCTION OF GIRL

Another Sent With G. O. P. Chief's Daughter After Decoy Phone Call.

Springfield, Mo., May 12 (A.P.).—What authorities believed to be an attempt to kidnap Betty Jean Curtis, 14-year-old daughter of Arthur M. Curtis, State Republican chairman, was thwarted today by alertness of Cora B. Ott, assistant principal at Senior High School here.

Betty Jean, a pretty sophomore, was called from class to the telephone in the assistant principal's office. A woman's low voice told her, she said, that her mother had been injured in an automobile accident, and asked her to go at once to St. John's Hospital. Miss Ott insisted that someone go with her, however, and she and a chum made the trip to the nearby hospital in a taxicab.

Mrs. Curtis was not at the hospital.

The child's father was summoned, and Mrs. Curtis was found attending a play at Drury College, which a son attends.

Authorities doubted the affair was a cruel joke at the child's expense. Betty Jean said she did not remember ever having heard the telephone voice previously.

Curtis said that, if would-be kidnapers were responsible, they had selected "a poor prospect for ransom," adding that precautions would be taken during the remaining weeks of school. He said he believed the persons responsible for the telephone call may have expected Betty Jean to walk the short distance to the hospital alone.

Law Sought for Woman To Wed Her Stepfather

Austin, Tex., May 12 (A.P.).—A Texas girl will be able to marry her stepfather, if Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson signs a bill sent to her today by the Legislature. The measure was introduced by Representative Emmett Morse, of Houston, inspired by a situation in his home city.

A man married a woman considerably older than himself. They adopted a baby. Before the wife died, she requested the husband to marry her daughter by a former marriage so that the daughter might help him rear the baby. The stepdaughter is only a few days younger than the man.

Holdup Suspects Taken Without Resistance

West Plains, Mo., May 12 (A.P.).—A 48-hour man hunt through woods and bayous of the Ozark Mountain country ended today with the capture by a posse of two of three men alleged to have robbed the Bank of Hammond, Mo., of approximately $1,000.

The prisoners, who gave the names of Orval Hooses, Springfield, Mo., and Jack Dillon, of Cushing, Okla., were exhausted from their long struggle on foot through the rough country and surrendered without resistance near Gamaliel, Ark. Part of the loot was recovered.

HITLER TO PROCLAIM PEACE IN REICHSTAG

Importance Attached to Mov With Geneva Impasse on German Arms.

Berlin, May 12 (A.P.).—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today summoned the German Reichstag to convene on May 17 in order to make an impressive and solemn declaration before the whole world in the presence of the Reichstag of Germany's desire for peace.

This the Associated Press learned on reliable authority. It was categorically denied that the Nazi chieftain intends to announce Germany's desire to withdraw from the world disarmament conference in Geneva, but will try to fix responsibility in case Germany fails.

A spokesman of the chancellor's Nazi party intimated that Herr Hitler will not go into details or try to refute arguments, but with a large perspective, will attempt to expound Germany's wish for peace, coupled with a plea that nations keep their hands off Germany's internal policies and let her work out her salvation for herself.

Great importance was attached to the Reichstag convocation, not only because of an enabling act passed last March, giving Chancellor Hitler dictatorial powers, but also because of the impasse reached in Geneva over Germany's arms demand.

Regarding one of the points of controversy at the conference, the industrialist Allgemeine Zeitung asserted that "should defense organizations be counted as soldiers, there remains nothing further for the government than actually to make members of these organizations into soldiers."

Cleric Would Halt Playing of Bridge

Philadelphia, May 12 (A.P.).—A bridge-playing minister today told the Needlework Guild of America that the American method of play is "neither human nor divine, social nor spiritual."

"It is a fierce game and only the military side wins," he asserted. "It should be discontinued or it should be played on a more humane basis. Players should be allowed to laugh at least twice during an evening."

The speaker was the Rev. John R Hart, jr., former Episcopalian chaplain at the University of Pennsylvania. His audience included 500 delegates to the guild's annual conference.

200 BONUS MEN DECLINE TO JOIN FORT HUNT "REDS"

Leaders Began to Waver.

While the parley went on, orators left behind kept the insurgent bloc in constant fettle against Levin. During the conference at Fort Hunt, Foulkrod, Newlin and Thomas began to waver when they were promised a separate section of the camp for their men. However, they decided to leave it to the men to decide and, accompanid by the other committee, they went back to put the question.

The convention will hold seesions beginning today through next Thursday as agreed with Col. Louis Howe, White House adviser, by the liaison committee. After that, the committee has given their word, the men will disperse to their various sections of the country.

Their platform is immediate payment of the bonus; restoration of disability benefits eliminated in the economy act, and unemployment relief for workers and farmers. The insurgent group bivouacked here in the city insist only on immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus.

900 Now at Fort Hunt.

Monday a parade has been tentively arranged for by the conventionites at Fort Hunt. The route expected to be pursued is from near the Monument, to Fifteenth street, up Fifteenth street to Pennsylvania avenue and from there to the Peace Monument.

There were approximately 900 men in the Fort Hunt camp last night with a slow stream trickling in via the registration tent at Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. No large groups were reported on the way here, although small groups were arriving intermittently.

Up on Capitol Hill yesterday one new, bright aura opened for the veterans of the Nation with Representative Joseph Byrns, of Tennessee, leader of the powerful Democratic majority in the House, declaring to newspapermen that "we are looking about for some way to help the needy veteran."

Inquiry Begun.

The administration had already begun an inquiry as to the possibility of passage of the bonus bill in Congress. In addition the White House has indicated 25,000 jobs in the reforestation projects are veterans' for the taking. The former soldiers here so far have given the cold shoulder to the latter proposal.

Down at Camp Hunt a temporary organization has been effected. Each tent has a chairman and this chairman sits in with companies gathered from several groups of tents. This gathering in turn elected a central committee and this committee has named Maurice Miller, of Chicago, as commander for the time being.

Miller, Veterans' Administration officials say, is a strict disciplinarian and has his men well in hand. A "Safety Corps" has been organized for policing the men among themselves.

Firemen Guard Camp.

A detachment of smokeeaters from the District Fire Department has been stationed at Fort Hunt for fire prevention work during the bonus convention. Eighteen men, drawn from the regular training school of the department, are ensconsed at the army post.

A reserve pumper truck has been sent down by the District fire authorities along with a light hose wagon. The eighteen men work in three 8-hour shifts. They have 2,200 feet of hose, sufficient to reach any of the buildings in the large reservation. The men are transported between Washington and the camp by Veterans Bureau buses.

The Administration-provided food at the Fort Hunt bonus camp is excellent—in fact accommodations there so comfortable as to throw into contrast the gritty attitude of the 200 irreconcilables who prefer soggy outdoor lots to the tents, cots and chow at the encampment on the river bluffs.

Protection Is Assured Virginia by President

Full protection will be given the Virginia communities surrounding Fort Hunt, Va., where the bonus seekers are gathering, it was indicated from the White House yesterday.

Twenty-five more State Troopers, however, arrived on the scene yesterday to strengthen the detachment of nearly 30 already called into the area. The State constabulary, with its fleet of white roadsters and motorcycles, is barracked at Alexandria in the National Guard Armory.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Carter Glass said, after a call on President Roosevelt yesterday, he was assured of the protection. He declined to discuss the matter further, but it was understood that troops would not be used to patrol the area.

Glass went to the White House in the company of Representative Smith, of Alexandria, who was the first to protest officially against location of the camp at Fort Hunt. His district surrounds the camp.

The increase in the State police detachment in northern Virginia followed a conference of State and local officials yesterday. Twenty-five policemen were ordered to Alexandria from Virginia Beach.

Meanwhile, another chapter was added to the controversy between Smith and Gov. Pollard regarding the veterans encampment.

Smith wrote Pollard he was "amazed that my mild protest at dumping the bonus army on Virginia without police protection should have caused you to lose your dignity and your temper in a single outburst."

Ford Sells Credit Company Interest

Detroit, May 12 (U.P.).—Henry Ford's interest in the Universal Credit Corporation has been sold to the Commercial Investment Trust Corporation for approximately $30,000,000, the billionaire automobile manufacturer announced today.

Thousands of persons throughout the country who purchase Ford cars on credit will be affected by the transaction. Universal Credit Corporation has been for a number of years the automobile financing organization for the Ford Co. and the same relationship will continue under the new ownership. The Credit Co. will continue to devote its entire resources to offering the "authorized Ford finance plans" exclusively for Ford dealers and Ford purchasers.

The reason we are selling the Finance Co. is very simple," Ford said. "We are essentially manufacturers, and the Finance Co. is essentially a banking business. We wanted to separate the two."

Woman's Purse Snatched.

Miss Emma Lu Raford, 471 Florida avenue northwest, reported to police that her purse containing $2.75 was snatched from her hand late last night by a small colored boy as she was walking east on Rhode Island avenue near Ninth street northwest.

Death Battle

Poundmaster 60, Finally Dispatches Great Dane That Attacked Him.

Redwood City, Calif., May 12 (A.P.). J. B. Shook, 60, city poundmaster, entered a cage today to feed a 175-pound Great Dane, a normally tractable beast, picked up in the streets.

Thirty minutes later he staggered out the door and fell in a faint, the bloody victor in a battle to the death.

Shook's right hand was mangled. He was bitten eighteen times on the arms, head and body. Inside, the Great Dane lay dead with a pistol bullet through its head.

The poundmaster said the dog attacked him unexpectedly when he entered the cage, seizing his right hand in a vise-like grip.

Man and dog fought for twenty minutes before Shook got a "scissors hold" on the dog's neck and forced it to relax its hold on the hand. The poundmaster then was able to bring into play a pistol he carried for emergencies. Gripping the animal's head between his knees, Shook fired a bullet into the brain and the fight was over.

Physicians said Shook's condition was not critical, but he was placed under observation for possible signs of rabies.

GAS BLAST WRECKS TENEMENT; 33 HURT

Pittsburgh, May 12 (A.P.).—A gas explosion shattered a three-story apartment house in the congested hill district late today, injuring 33 persons.

While police and firemen searched the debris for possible victims, 12 of the injured, all Negroes, were removed to hospitals. Physicians said none was critically injured.

Twenty persons, also Negroes, were treated for minor cuts and bruises. Police said most of the injured were pedestrians.

Deputy Fire Chief Frank Jones said gas escaping from a pipe joint, where an attempt had been made to tap the main, caused the explosion. He said the gas company had turned off the supply for nonpayment of bills.

Police found a still in the building. Practically the entire rear of the house was blown out.

Fumes in Office Fell Policeman

Private Emmett R. Waters, 25, of the Third Precinct, was overcome by sulphur fumes late last night while searching for a woman said to have been trapped in a fume-filled laundry office at 1166 Eighteenth street northwest. He was rescued by Private Warren S. Rinker, and treated at Emergency Hospital. His condition is not serious.

Waters and Rinker went to the laundry office when a fire alarm was turned in at that address. On arrival they found there was no fire, but the office was being fumigated by burning sulphur.

When a bystander reported that he had seen a woman in the office, Waters broke down the door, and started searching for her.

Woman Spy's Sentence Is Postponed in Italy

Rome, May 12 (A.P.).—An indefinite postponement in the sentencing of Camilla Agliardi, Italo-French woman, who was convicted with an Italian naval warrant officer of revealing naval plans to a foreign power, was granted today pending decision on a petition for mercy to King Victor Emmanuel.

It is generally expected her sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment.

Guard Slays Man Near Mexico Line

Las Cruces, N. Mex., May 12 (A.P.). Killing of a man identified as Faustino Morquecho Medellin by Jack Thomas, border patrolman, was announced in a border patrol report received here today.

Medellin was shot to death last night after he and a companion crossed the international boundary from Mexico near a brick plant in Dona Ana County, New Mexico.

Thomas said he fired in self-defense as the man attempted to attack him during questioning. Medellin's companion escaped. Medellin was said to have relatives in El Paso, Tex.

INQUEST TO BE HELD IN POLICE SHOOTING

Driver Fired On as Patrolman Is Brushed From Fleeing Automobile.

A coroner's inquest will be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning into the fatal shooting, early yesterday of Percy Jones, colored, 20, of 1621 T street northwest by Second Precinct Policeman L. W. Rank near Seventh and N streets northwest, after another policeman had been injured when knocked from the running board of the colored man's car while trying to stop it.

In an official report to headquarters, Rank said he and A. W. Taylor, also of the Second Precinct, were patroling on Seventh street near M street when they saw the car driven by Jones in a reckless manner. As the car came by, Rank said, Taylor shouted to stop and jumped on the running board. A few minutes later Jones' sideswiped a truck, brushing Taylor off into the street.

Thinking Taylor fatally injured, Rank said he fired several shots at the car which was fleeing down the street. Rank then turned to Taylor, whom he accompanied to Emergency Hospital in a passing car, where he was treated for lacerations and possible internal injuries.

Argentina Would Sign Trade Pact With U. S.

(Copyright, 1933, by the United Press.)

Buenos Aires, Argentina, May 2.—President Augustin P. Justo declared today that Argentina was ready to sign a trade treaty with the United States in a cordial effort to stimulate commerce between the two republics and quicken business activities in both countries.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press, the president said that his government hoped a new deal in the commercial relations between Argentina and the United States could be swiftly realized.

Militiamen Guard Prisoner in Maine

Ellsworth, Me., May 12 (A.P.).—National Guardsmen patrolled the courthouse here today as Norman Moore, 25-year-old farm hand and erstwhile carnival wrestler, was formally accused of responsibility for Ellsworth's $2,000,000 fire Sunday night.

While the courtroom was crowded with residents, many of whom were homeless as a result of the fire, and hundreds of others congregated outside the building, no disorder occurred.

Moore, who yesterday signed an alleged confession, calmly pleaded not guilty to a charge of arson. Bail was fixed at $10,000 and the burly farm hand was returned to the jail in the custody of Sheriff Harold R. Hodgkins. County officials indicated he would be sent to the State hospital at Bangor for observation.

Chicago Cleaners Ban Racketeers in Pact

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—The cleaning and dyeing industry of Chicago, long victimized by gangster terrorism and violence, was organized today to throw off racketeering influence, with Judge Francis Borelli as arbiter and adviser.

Ten representatives of 115 firms in the $30,000,000 industry signed with Judge Borelli a pact which pledged abolition of all agreements with gangster-controlled associations or unions.

Two Women Shot As Robbery Fails

Lucerne, Ind., May 12 (A.P.).—Two women were wounded as gunmen, thwarted in an attempt to rob the Lucerne State Bank today, fired several shots at a crowd that gathered. Bank employes returned the fire, but the robbers escaped apparently uninjured.

Witnesses said several shots were fired from the bandits' car by a person dressed in woman's clothing.

Two members of the gang had gained admittance to the bank before it opened for business.

Minister's Wife Given Divorce for Desertion

Springfield, Mo., May 12 (A.P.).—Mrs. Gladys Inman was granted a divorce here today from the Rev. Sharon C. Inman, suspended Presbyterian minister, a few hours before the Ozark Presbytery began a final hearing at Cave Spring on charges resulting from the 35-year-old preacher's recent desertion of his church and wife for Miss Ezia (Pat) Holdridge, 20-year-old blonde.

Ousting of Veteran At Home Protested

Topeka, Kans., May 12 (A.P.).—The Kansas Department of the American Legion, through its adjutant, Ernest A. Ryan, urged President Roosevelt today to suspend all further discharges of veterans from the Veterans' Administration home, at Leavenworth Kans., until the Chief Executive completes a review of the governing regulations.

Ryan addressed the following telegram to the President:

"Veterans greatly appreciate your decision to review and probably amend recent legislation. Immediate action should be taken to review regulations discharging hundreds of needy veterans from Veterans' Administration home at Leavenworth. Practically all are thrown on local charities. American Legion of Kansas urges that you suspend all further discharges until you complete review of regulations."

Differential Fixed For Coal Freight

(Associated Press.)

An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner yesterday recommended that the commission require the Delaware & Hudson Corporation and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to maintain rates on anthracite coal from the Wyoming region of Pennsylvania that will not exceed the rates from the Schuylkill region by more than 13 cents per long ton, to points on the Baltimore & Ohio in Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

A group of coal dealers in Washington, D. C., and other points on the Baltimore & Ohio complained that rates from 22 mines in the Wyoming region were so high the coal could not be sold in competition with mines on the Reading Railroad, the Lehigh Valley and the Central of New Jersey. The examiner found that the rates are too high by comparison and directed that the differential charged from the Wyoming region over the Schuylkill region be held to not more than 13 cents per ton of 2,240 pounds.

275,000 FORESTRY WORKERS APPROVED

President Sanctions Plan Calling for 1,300 Work Camps in Nation.

A program placing 275,000 men in emergency conservation work camps in National and State forests by July 1 was approved yesterday by President Roosevelt and will go into effect immediately.

Submitted by Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, the new plan calls for 1,300 forest camps throughout the country. Of this number 1,062 have already been selected, leaving less than 300 sites to be approved. May 25 has been set as the dead line for selection of sites.

5,400 Men Per Day.

Under the new schedule the Labor Department must select 225,000 men during the next six weeks and send them to Army conditioning camps. The War Department will have to install them in forest work camps at the rate of 5,400 men per day. The Army's schedule calls for the establishment of 27 forest work camps per day until their quota is complete.

Discussing the program, Mr. Fechner said it would be necessary to enroll men at the conditioning camps at the rate of 8,540 per day, a greater average than was maintained by both the Army and Navy during the World War.

The Labor Department announced that 165,000 men have already been selected for the camps and that the remainder of the national quota will be selected by June 1, at the rate of 9,000 per day or more as required.

1,200 More to Camp.

Approximately 1,200 men from Virginia and Washington, who have been conditioned at Fort Washington, Fort Humphreys and Fort Monroe, will move into forest reservations of Virginia on Monday, it was announced at the Third Corps Area, U. S. A., Baltimore.

The men will be distributed in camps in Shenandoah National Park, Natural Bridge National Forest, Rockbridge County, Va.; George Washington National Forest, Shenandoah National Park, Big Meadow, Madison County, Va.; Colonial National Park, Natural Bridge, National Forest at Sherando, and Unaka National Forest.

Classes in general education have been instituted at Camp, No. 1, Third Corps Area, near Luray, Va. This supplement to the daily work program includes daily talks on American and local history, road building and forestry work. The instructors are volunteer speakers, which include the mayor and assistant principal of the schools at Luray.

King Still Too Ill To Attend Court

London, May 12 (U.P.).—King George was still too ill with rheumatism to attend the second court in Buckingham Palace tonight, at which eight young American women were among the hundreds presented.

Queen Mary and her youngest son, Prince George, tall and handsome in his resplendent garb, received the curtsies of the women from all over the world who journey to the capital of the British Empire to pay homage at the Court of St. James.

The American women presented tonight by Mrs. Ray Atherton, wife of the United States charge d'affaires, included Mrs. Reyward Cutting, New York City; Mrs. F. Hamilton Dyckman, Orange, N. J.; Miss Alice Geyelin, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Mrs. Arthur Lehman Goodhart, New York City; Mrs. Franklin C. Cohen, Philadelphia; Miss Augusta Harrison, Villanova, Pa.; Mrs. John Upham, St. Paul, and Mrs. Frederick Bate, Chicago.

The Federal Diary

By GEORGE D. RILEY

IF YOU think you have your troubles, listen to this:

Every day and all day the birds flutter up to the Fifteenth street balcony at Commerce. The trips they make with twigs and grass are many. They mean to build nests.

Next morning the balcony is strewn with the nest material and the nests are no more. That doesn't stop them. They go ahead all over again, starting from scratch, picking up the same grass and weaving it around. And the next morning—well, the next morning, there just isn't any nest. What is earnest work for those birds is a nuisance to men.

May we moralize and the next time you feel you're getting licked take a walk over to Commerce and watch those determined feathered weavers who don't read the myriads of "no parking" signs Washington has to offer. It'll inspire you.

Asked J. A. Winn (*), drum major, U. S. Navy Band, if he would assist us with a story for tomorrow. You know, Mr. Winn is an enthusiastic member of the Potomac-Appalachian Trail Club. He went up to his shack at Potomac Gorge and by the dim lamp light he assembled material for a story we're sure you'll enjoy.

And to carry out the theme in the item immediately above, this is mating season even for the old owls up above Cabin John. Mr. Winn saw them silhouetted against the evening sky on the branches of a dead tree and their hooting was his only distraction. We hope to have the privilege of telling you more about Mr. Winn himself before long and about the many services he had seen.

YOU can look forward to playing No. 6 hole, Indian Spring, where The Federal Diary's First Annual Golf Tournament will be held May 25. No. 6, par 3, for 165 yards, is an island green completely surrounded by traps.

A tee shot, according to the way George Diffenbaugh, pro, describes it, from an elevated tee to an elevated green. A very fine one-shot hole.

A six-iron for average iron player. If wind is in the face, a longer iron is needed. A sliced ball carrying even to the green will likely be out of bounds.

To C. J. Sutphin, Navy (U. S. M. C.), and R. T. Balch, Agriculture: sorry of the confusion. Both of you are on the official list of entrants. The list now includes the names of 227. It would have far exceeded 300 had not a limit been invoked, said J. Leland Acuff, general chairman, last night.

Mr. Acuff says he plans to call a meeting of the general committee for Thursday evening, the hour and place to be announced.

Victory in the intermediate section of the tournament fell to Franklin G. Hopkins, Labor, who defeated D. S. Burch, Agriculture, 2-1, after two drawn games.

The N. F. F. E. donated title trophies to the winner from a field of 31 from all branches of the service. The Federal clubhouse contributed a chess set to Knapp and inlaid board to Burch as consolation prizes.

A meeting will be held shortly under the auspices of The Federal News to form a Federal Chess Club, for promotion of chess, generally, throughout the local departmental service.

Following conclusion of the recent tourney, the Federal News extended its thanks to Willard Mutchler, chess editor of The Post, for aid in managing the competition.

For once since the Federal Bridge League was organized in November by Federal News, Standards Phychem team is out of the lead.

Following recent weekly play at the Federal Clubhouse, 1515 Sixteenth street northwest, George C. Hill's Standards Engineers lead, due to the eleven boards they scored. Phychems won eight, dropping into second.

Should Hill's men retain the lead a playoff will be needed with Phychems for the title.

WINNERS SELECTED IN FOX MUSIC TEST

Six Handsome Plaques Are Awarded to Various Local Groups.

Winners of the six handsome trophy plaques, awarded by the Loew Theaters management to local instrumentalists and choristers in the third annual Loew's Fox music week festival, last evening, on the festival's conclusion, were determined by Messrs. Edward Potter and Phil Lampkin and Miss Jessie MacBride, judges of senior high and senior contestants, and by Mrs. Fanny A. Roberts, Mrs. Edna Bishop Daniel and Dr. C. Christiani, judges of junior groups.

The trophy awards, which will be presented to winning clubs on Loew's Fox stage Monday evening, are announced as follows:

Senior choralists—American University Men's Glee Club, Harlan Randall, director, this club having won first place also in the two previous annual contests at Loew's Fox; honorable mention to the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. Men's Glee Club, Robert Davidson, director.

Senior instrumentalists—Washington Gas Light Co. Band, Otto Siebeneichen, leader; honorable mention to the Washington Orchestral Society, Dr. C. Christiani, director.

Senior high choralists—McKinley High School Boys' Glee Club, Mrs. Bella Thompson, director, and W. Weldon Smith, student leader; honorable mention to The Central Songsters, Mrs. Janet Torbert, director.

Senior high instrumentalists—Washington Boys' Independent Band, Maj. Clinton J. Brown, leader; honorable mention to the Second Regiment Cadet Band of McKinley High School, Capt. Ludwig E. Manoly, leader.

Junior high school choralists—Eliot Junior High School Boys' Glee Club, Miss Hannah Bonnell, director; honorable mention to Eliot Junior High School Girls Glee Club, Miss Hannah Bonnell, leader.

Junior high school instrumentalists—Inter-Junior High School Orchestra, Franklin J. Jackson, director; honorable mention to Gordon Junior High School Orchestra and Harmonica Band, Mrs. Helen Shaw, director.

LOEW'S FOX

"THE WARRIOR'S HUSBAND." Fox picturization of the play by Julian Thompson, adapted to the screen by Ralph Spence, featuring Elissa Landi, Marjorie Rambeau, Ernest Truex and David Manners. Directed by Walter Lang. Reviewed Friday morning.

Just a wee bit spicy in many of its sequences and very occasionally a trifle offensive in its implications, this peculiarly inverted comedy nevertheless is, in the large view, novel and hilarious screen diversion.

Based on the provocative idea that in Pontus, in the year 300 B. C., or thereabouts, the women were the rulers and the men the dependents, to be sheltered, protected and pampered by their Amazonian consorts, "The Warrior's Husband" relates by what subterfuges, trickery and deceptions, Hercules the strongest man in the world, with a yellow streak as wide as an awning stripe up his back—succeeded in securing possession of "Minerva's girdle," the trinket through whose power the mere males were kept in abject subjugation and made to tend the homes while the women went out to war against their neighboring tribes.

There is a wealth of fun in such gorgeous pretending as this. Some of it, undoubtedly, is subject to misinterpretation—depending on the degree to which the spectator's mind runs to such perversions of the usual order as obtrude themselves during the fantastic action.

That this contented country of Pontus was ever awakened from its indifference to the superiorities of the male gender was due wholly to an invasion of the Greeks who had set up a ridiculous institution known as marriage! What came of that has much to do with the romantic charm of a fanciful tale that abounds in the most delicious exaggerations, the most pungent satire and the most profoundly amusing revelation of the oddities of an age of comparative innocence.

Much zest is lent the dialogue by use of that familiar and reliable device of making the conversation wholly and unfailing anachronistic by placing modern wisecracks in the mouths of all the fabled characters of a remote and classic age.

The success of this undertaking depends little upon characterization in the usual sense, but is contingent almost entirely upon the glibness in present-day slang of those most prominently cast. All, happily, are proficient—Elissa Landi, as the juvenile "heart interest;" David Manners, Theseus, her Greek wooer; Marjorie Rambeau, reigning Amazon; Ernest Truex, in the title part; Maude Eburne, Hugh Herbert, "Tiny" Sanborn, Ferdinand Gottschalk and scores more.

Will Mahoney, most reliable of the veteran vaudevillians, scores his customary smash hit with his crazy, "She's My Lilly and I'm Her Willy" song, his incomparable hard-shoe dancing and the extraordinary feat of playing the xylophone with hammers attached to his dancing shoes—the "Mahoneyphone," of wide renown. In a class by himself, this chap, and always will be.

Huber, the magician, opens the stage bill with baffling feats of legerdemain—and I mean baffling—William Hall, radio barytone, scores emphatically with a rich and resonant voice admirably displayed in a splendid selection of popular and standard ballads. Arthur and Morton Havel, assisted by a cast of three, repeat their steamship frolic, and Phil Lampkin's medley overture adds further variety to the spirited goings-on.

The Fox Movietone News rounds out a program gayly and delightfully dominated by comedy. N. B. B.

METROPOLITAN

"SONG OF THE EAGLE." Paramount picturization of a story by Gene Towne and Graham Baker, featuring Charles Bickford, Richard Arlen, Jean Hersholt, Louise Dresser and Mary Brian. Directed by Ralph Murphey. Reviewed Friday evening by W. A. Whitney.

Whether "Song of the Eagle" is a picturization of beer's vicissitudes from 1916 to 1934, or whether it is another prescient plug for the administration, or even whether it is the highly embellished story of a law-abiding brewer, is a little difficult to say.

Just what the eagle's song is, or was, seems to have been overlooked, but what we have here is the story of beer's demise and the rise of racketeering, with a forward look to utilizing former soldiers in putting the quietus on illicit beer barons. Merely to follow any one of the three possibilities suggested would be far too much for one picture. Bulking the several themes results in a heterogeneous conglomeration that at times moves with mortuary celerity and at other times at such a mad pace that all semblance of unity of treatment and purpose is lost.

Yet, in this jumble of events two characters stand out—those of Brewer Otto Hoffman and his maternal frau, played by Jean Hersholt and Louise Dresser. Theirs is a tragic tale, but they rise to the occasion with some of their best work.

Charles Bickford, the No. 1 beer truck driver turned public enemy No. 1, does one of his better delineations. The lighter motif is furnished by Richard Arlen and Mary Brian. Others in the lengthy cast, all of whom turn in creditable performances, include Andy Devine, George E. Stone, Bert Sprotte, Gene Morgan and George Hoffman.

Banjo-eyed Eddie Cantor heads the list of short subjects with his one-reeler, "Insurance," a concentrated bit of typical nonsense. Ruth Etting, assisted by Charles Althoff, Chester Clute and Ruth de Quincy, offers "Along Came Ruth," in which she sings several of her better-known numbers. An issue of the Paramount News completes the line-up.

"REUNION IN VIENNA." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of the play by Robert E. Sherwood, starring John Barrymore, with Diana Wynyard, Frank Morgan and Henry Travers. Directed by Sidney Franklin. Reviewed from preview screening Tuesday, May 9.

By NELSON B. BELL.

Save for a slight redundancy in the form of a sight-seeing tour through Schonbrunn, the palace of the Hapsburgs in Vienna, now a stark and echoing Mecca of Baedeker burdened trippers, this is a respectful and lusty picturization of Mr. Sherwood's vigorous and at times audacious comedy of an exiled prince and his quest of a former love.

It is, perhaps, an especially eloquent tribute to Mr. Sherwood's skill as a playwright that his comedy loses so little in the transition from flesh to shadow and from the deft hands of Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne to the no less earnest, if slightly less facile, consideration of John Barrymore and Diana Wynyard.

For the youngest of the Barrymores, it must be said, is not fired by the same youthful passions that warmed Mr. Lunt to his ardent rekindling of a courtship dead these past ten years, nor has Miss Wynyard, the sedately sentimental young English actress of "Cavalcade" and "Men Must Fight," contrived completely to shed the austerity and reserve that so ill befit an impetuous beneficiary of royal favor and infatuation.

While the attempt of Prince Rudolph Maximilian to rewin the undivided interest of his former inamorata, since safely and happily married to a practitioner of psychoanalysis, forms the major movement of the play's development, there are interesting sidelights in the pathetic pretensions of a little group of monarchists, who drink surreptitious toasts to their former emperor, and in the Freudian clashes that mark the final sequences of the picture, when, as in the last act of the play, husband and lover enter into a delightfully satirical and pungent pseudo-philosophical discussion of their common interests in, and right to, the lovely lady who has meant so much to both!

Throughout its length, "Reunion in Vienna" is literate, adult entertainment, keyed in a high pitch and both written and played with a frankness and gusto that are explicit and exciting.

Even if Mr. Barrymore and Miss Wynyard fall something short of the ideal players for the stellar roles of this essentially youthful romance, there can be no quibbling over the intelligence and cogency of their reading of the Sherwood lines. Miss Wynyard, to be sure, is inescapably British in the part of a gay young Viennese, but hers in any environment is a personality of charm and poise that fits well into the simulated haunts of royalty. Barrymore, with his fine flair for comedy, is a ribald and roistering rowdy in the role of the profligate and penniless prince.

Frank Morgan offers substantial support as the husband who seems to fare not quite so badly in the picture as he did in the play, and Henry Travers repeats his inimitable performance of the role of the strictly disciplined father, which he created. Una Merkel does well with a meager bit and May Robson survives a deal of rough treatment as Frau Lucher, in whose mildewed hotel the reunion is held. The production is one which manages to preserve a good deal of the flavor of the play, although without the full measure of its tabasco!

On the supplementary bill will be found an M-G-M Traveltalk, "Iceland;" a Mickey Mouse cartoon, "The Mail Pilot;" one of Lew White's organlogues, "Home Again," and the Metrotone News—an extremely generous and palatable bill-of-fare.

EARLE

"LILLY TURNER." First National picturization of the play by Phillip Dunning and George Abbott, starring Ruth Chatterton, with George Brent, Frank McHugh, Guy Kibbee and Marjorie Gateson. Directed by William A. Wellman. Reviewed Friday afternoon.

A defeatist drama of drab content that unfolds itself in a depressing succession of sordid episodes, ending on a sacrificial note in the face of near-tragedy, "Lilly Turner" traces the career of a gal who had a pretty tough time!

Viewed purely as a character study, and not in any sense as an enlivening or uplifting bit of entertainment, the picture affords a reasonably faithful reflection of life among the carnival pitches and honky-tonks, but serves no useful ends either as drama or as an exposition of the flexible artistry of the cameras and microphones. The whole thing, even down to the uninspired performance of Ruth Chatterton in the title role, is thoroughly and indefensibly mediocre.

Lilly Turner is a headstrong young woman who marries a flashy fellow of whom she knows nothing beyond his candy-striped shirts and glib flow of gab. He turns out to be a cheap carnival grifter, who deserts her just in time to permit her to suffer the death of her baby daughter alone. So she marries the ballyhoo man with the outfit, a kindly but good-for-nothing drunkard, wages a perpetual battle against the hangers-on who keep up a constant bombardment of her powers of resistance, and finally falls in love with the handsome young engineer who is driving a taxi, waiting for something better to turn up, but takes the place of the strong man with the show when that husky's mind gives way.

The futility of the whole thing is not mitigated by the final incident that has Lilly sacrificing her happiness with the engineer, on his way to a job in Mexico, to stay by the side of her dying husband whom the escaped lunatic has knocked through a high window to a broken back and the hospital.

Gordon Westcott, Frank McHugh, George Brent, Guy Kibbee, Marjorie Gateson and Robert Barrat do what can be done with the supporting roles of renegade, already married to an earlier wife; sideshow barker, taxi driver-engineer, medicine show owner, his wife and the strong man gone berserk.

It might be mentioned, in passing, that Miss Chatterton appears a good deal of the time in the present-day equivalent of a pair of tights and in one sequence executes that questionable terpsichorean tidbit known as the "cooch dance." That will give you a rough idea!

On the stage, Dick Powell, recently risen to screen eminence by virtue of agreeable performances in "Blessed Event" and "Forty-second Street," makes a tremendously pleasant impression upon his first appearance in person in the Capital. Mr. Powell is an ingratiating young man, a bit taller than the screen makes him seem, with a voice it is enjoyable to listen to, considerable versatility as an instrumentalist, a nice smile for story telling and a step or two in his feet. He is assisted by an agile little blonde who dances all over the place and is at her best when not filching the style of Gracie Allen. Singing the hits from "Forty-second Street"—and playing some of them on trumpet and saxophone—the well-groomed Mr. Powell got off to a rousing start yesterday afternoon.

Others introduced by the gally garbed Miss Maxine Doyle are Grecella and Theodore in a spectacular and better-than-usual dancing act; Don Zelaya, who combines physiology with his piano playing in a familiar fashion, and the Three Radio Rogues, Hollingwood, Bartel and Taylor, who return with the best act of its kind on the boards.

A "Merrie Melodie" cartoon, "Wake Up the Gypsy in Me;" Mr. McNamee's news items and orchestral overture, in the Russian manner, by Freddie Clark and his men complete the bill. N. B. B.

RKO-KEITH'S

"THE WOMAN I STOLE." Columbia filmization of Joseph Hergesheimer's novel, "Tampico," featuring Jack Holt, Fay Wray, Noah Beery, Raquel Torres and Donald Cook. Directed by Irving Cummings. Reviewed Friday evening by Dorothea Lewis.

Mr. Hergesheimer's fantastic and sometimes colorful characters have quite a topsy-turvy time in this little morsel about oil in Algiers, bandits in Algiers, and ruthless women in Algiers trying to get out. Or is it Algiers?

As the characters themselves describe the plot succinctly: Jim Bradier, rough, tough, powerful, according to his own testimony, comes half across the world to steal Mr. Corew's wife and ends by returning with Mrs. Corew's husband, several bottles of liquor and a native girl.

And what of Mrs. Corew? Well, Miss Fay Wray, the most eternally and fearsomely menaced of heroines, here tries her hand at being a menace with a capital M, and will either send you into absolute paroxysms of loathing for the character or considerable admiration for her sincerity in playing such an utterly unsympathetic part so unsympathetically.

This picture seems to be one for either side of the ledger.

On the credit side there is first and foremost the bang-up performance of Donald Cook as Corew, an easy, sincere young actor doing some excellent speech-making; Fay's good-bad woman; and a certain interest and compactness to the plot which, for all its twists and turns and melodrama, make its nice ending seem like the conclusion of a neat short story, for all the picture's novel origin.

On the debit side, you'll find a trifle too much chin-jutting by that perennial he-man, Jack Holt, the aforesaid melodrama, some of Mr. Hergeshimer's justly famous inane dialogue, an unutterably silly scene between the rough man of action, Bradier, and a villainous Moroccan bandit being subtle over a bottle and a cigar, Miss Wray's overly stylish clothes, and a complete disregard in the final reckoning for the fate of the oil field.

Of the members of the cast other than the leading trio, we like best Raoquel Torres, as Teresita, and Ferdinand Munier, as Louis Sixto.

In addition to the rather short feature, the bill includes a pretty terrible Edgar Kennedy comedy, a cartoon comedy, a Pathe subaldiary and the RKO newsreel.

Truckload of Dynamite Arrives After Search

Durango, Colo., May 12 (A.P.).—Missing since May 3, when he left Antonito, Colo., en route to Durango with a truckload of dynamite, Frank Howard was in Chama, Colo., today. He explained he had experienced mechanical trouble on a stretch of road 104 miles long in an uninhabited district.

A thorough search of the district was made yesterday by Paul Rutherford and a group of citizens, who believed the dynamite may have exploded.

BRADY GETS 9 YEARS IN MARTIN'S SLAYING

Railroad Man Pleads Guilty to Second-Degree Count in Tuxedo Shooting.

Oscar Brady, 28-year-old railroad man, charged with the murder last April 5, of Charles W. Martin, of Tuxedo, Md., was sentenced yesterday by the Prince Georges County Circuit Court to nine years in the penitentiary.

Brady, who pleaded guilty last Monday to the charge of second-degree murder, was calm as sentence was passed. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brady, his parents, and a few relatives were with him at the time. As his mother left the courtroom she collapsed and was taken to a physician.

The sentence followed the hearing of the State's witnesses and several acquaintances of Brady. A letter from a Washington doctor was read which said that Brady had the mentality of a boy of 8 or 9 years.

Chief J. J. Crowley of the Prince Georges County police department presented the confession, alleged to have been signed by Brady, which said the defendant was at the home of Mrs. Mary Dawson at Tuxedo on the night of March 5. He left there, the confession read, and later met Martin, who had also been at the home, on the road home.

Brady and Martin then became engaged in an argument, the confession read, and Martin attempted to hit Brady with a crank handle. Brady then shot Martin three times, he confessed.

William E. Clifton of the Prince Georges County police, testifying for the State, told of being called to the scene of the tragedy and of finding the body there. Later, he said, he went to Brady's home in company with Officer Ralph Brown. Here they found the defendant's blood-stained clothes and after making an arrest were apprised of the hiding place of the gun. Brown, also called to the stand, corroborated Clifton's statements.

De Pinedo Delays Take-off on Flight

New York, May 12 (U.P.).—The scheduled take-off tomorrow of Gen. Francisco de Pinedo on a projected nonstop solo flight to Bushire, Persia, has been postponed, it was learned tonight at Floyd Bennet Field.

Gen. Pinedo, once Italy's foremost air hero, now hopes to start his 6,200-mile flight early next week. His is the longest nonstop solo flight ever planned and would carry him twice as far as the famous flight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh from New York to Paris.

Meanwhile, James Mattern, who last year accompanied Bennett Griffin on an attempt to fly around the world, is tuning up his plane at the same field for a projected solo globe-girdling journey. He hopes to lead the annual spring carnival of transoceanic flights by beating Gen. Pinedo to the take-off.

Club Will Restore 'Manse' in Staunton

Staunton, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—"The Manse," the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson, here, will join Stratford, the home of Lee, and Kenmore, the home of Betty, sister of Washington, among the famous estates in Virginia whose gardens are being restored by the Garden Club of Virginia.

"The Manse" is in the custody of a national organization formed some time ago to make it a shrine to the memory of the World War President. Harry Flood Byrd, now senator from Virginia and at that time governor, was named chairman of the organization. Charles Catlett, of Staunton, is chairman of the custodian committee of the shrine.

situation in this city was given by Charles W. Ray, president of the association, a milk producer himself, who declared himself in accord with the milk price disclosures by The Post.

Mr. Ray, who owns and operates the Charley Forest Dairy Farm at Sandy Spring, Md., told the group that the price paid the producer of milk has decreased 5 cents a gallon during the last few years, while the consumer has received a reduction of only 2 cents.

"In my opinion," he said, "an investigation into this matter by Congress would benefit the farmer producer of milk."

William McK. Clayton, in asking for the Senate investigation, declared that in his opinion the farmer was not getting his just share of the profits.

"We should find out just where and why the profit goes," he said, "and just how much each party receives and why."

Milk combines and the middlemen in the picture were also hit by the speaker. "If things in the milk business aren't open and above board, we want to know it," he said. "If they are operating legitimately, though, the investigation will do them no harm."

Discussion of the resolution introduced by Capt. Smith brought out that milk retailers have a system whereby they pay 25 cents a gallon for a certain percentage of the producer's output—they are able to use only a part of each farmer's output—and all surplus is bought at only 15 cents a gallon.

This is done, they say, to help the farmer, since he would have to throw away all milk he is unable to sell. This "surplus," however, is sold to the consumer at the regular price.

A resolution protesting the price of milk was introduced at a meeting of the Brightwood Association some months ago by Capt. Smith, but after being sent to the Federation of Citizens Associations it was returned with a request that the association take no action at the moment.

Melvin Sharpe, executive assistant of the Potomac Electric Power Co., addressed the association on the work the power company has been doing in Washington during the last year.

A motion was passed indorsing the District Fire Fighters Association request that vacancies in the Fire Department office be filled by men from the ranks of the department.

ST. LAWRENCE PACT CRUSADE INITIATED

Michigan's Governor Calls Parley of 23 States to Seek Ratification.

Lansing, Mich., May 12 (A.P.).—Gov. Comstock today initiated a move among executives of Midwestern States to force ratification of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways treaty by the United States Senate.

The Michigan executive called a conference of governors of 23 Midwest States in Chicago, Tuesday, to plan a drive for ratification.

Gov. Comstock planned the conference during his visit this week to Washington when he was informed that President Roosevelt was anxious to obtain Senate ratification during the present session of Congress. Opposition of Atlantic Seaboard States in the Senate convinced him that immediate action is necessary, the governor said.

The governor said he was fearful the Canadian government might rescind its ratification action unless the Senate acts soon. He said the Dominion government is threatened with political changes and that a new party may come into power which is antagonistic to the proposed St. Lawrence waterway project.

The governor will leave Monday afternoon by airplane for Chicago. He will speak Monday night in behalf of the treaty along with other governors from this the Middle West.

Martin Is Chosen Rotary Area Head

Newport News, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Delegates to the annual meeting of the fifty-sixth Rotary International District today elected John E. Martin, Suffolk superintendent of schools, as its governor for the coming year.

The election closed a three-day convention, after the group went on record as favoring Mexico City for the 1934 international convention city. The recommendation of Mexico City was said to be in line with its advocacy of the stimulation of better international relations.

Immediately after his election, Gov. Martin was presented to the convention by a group of past governors, including Frank Evans, of Norfolk; John Weymouth, of Hampton, and Charles K. Brown, of Staunton.

Truce Is Declared In Levee Cut "War"

Jackson, Miss., May 12 (A.P.).—Under a threat of complete martial law, a "truce" was reported to have been reached in one section of the Mississippi delta today between factions opposing and those favoring the cutting of levees to speed the fall of long-swollen sectional rivers.

In another area militiamen were massed behind a sweeping investigation into recent attacks on the dykes.

Adjt. Gen. Thomas J. Grayson, returning here to make a report on the situation to Gov. Sennett Conner, said he had negotiated the "truce," in Tallahatchie County, scene of reputed levee-dynamiting plots, after informing leaders of the opposing factions that the delta would be put under martial law if further depredations occurred.

PARLEY MAY SETTLE LETICIAN QUESTION

Presidents of Colombia and Peru to Confer Over Town's Status.

Lima, Peru, May 12 (A.P.).—Direct negotiations were agreed upon today by Peru and Colombia to settle their dispute over Leticia and the upper Amazon border area.

Since September 1, 1932, the two nations have been in a de facto state of war over the sun-baked village, which was ceded by Peru to Colombia in 1922.

Nine months ago Peruvians seized the town, considered important because it controls a strip of land which will give Colombia an outlet to the Amazon River system and eastward to the Atlantic.

Alfonso Lopez, president of the Colombia Liberal party, will come here Sunday to discuss with President Benavides of Peru plans for solving the Leticia difficulty.

American neutral countries and the League of Nations have for months tried to end the Leticia dispute.

Penchant for Painting Causes Divorce Action

White Plains, N. Y., May 12 (U.P.).—Maj. William R. Quinn carried his celebration of St. Patrick's Day each year to undue extremes, according to the testimony of his wife, Mrs. Helen J. Quinn, in the trial today of her suit for separation.

On March 17, for the last three or four years, she said, her husband has made it a practice to paint the faces, arms and hands of their three children with green paint. He also tried to paint Mrs. Quinn green, she testified, but she declined.

High School Cadet Shot by Playmate

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., May 12.—Richard Good, 16-year-old Handley High School student, was in a local hospital today with a serious rifle wound in his chest inflicted by a playmate, Clarke Loy, 15, when the two pointed guns, believed not loaded, at each other and pulled the triggers.

Good, a cadet in the military corps at the school, was using his service rifle, which was not loaded. The bullet struck a rib in Good's right chest and was deflected toward the spinal column. Physicians extracted the ball.

Members of the Good family are reported to have declared the shooting "purely accidental."

Summit Point Farmer Victim of Heart Attack

Special to The Washington Post.

Charles Town, W. Va., May 12.—Suffering a heart attack yesterday, Charles William Snyder, 70, well known farmer, died at his home near Summit Point, this county, an hour later.

Surviving are the widow, formerly Miss Sydenstricker, whose father was a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South at Summit Point, and five children. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon, with burial here.

Rev. Percy F. Hall Plans Anniversary Observance

The Rev. Percy Foster Hall, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Alexandria, tomorrow will observe the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the ministry, and also the twelfth anniversary of his coming to Alexandria. There will be a musical program in which the regular choir, the junior choir and the surpliced choir of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd will participate.

Members of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons, of which the Rev. Mr. Hall is chaplain, have been especially invited to attend, as have the members of the Kiwanis Club, of which he is "sky pilot." Mr. Hall's three sons and a grandson of his brother, Harry Hall, of New York, will also attend. Assisting in the service will be a son, the Rev. Reginald Hall, of Beltsville, Md., and the students in charge of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd. The subject will be "Magnify Jesus."

The Rev. Mr. Hall was ordained in 1893 by Bishop Aaron N. Littlejohn, in the Cathedral of the Incarnation at Garden City, Long Island. He studied at Columbia University, New York, and the General Theological Seminary. Prior to coming to Alexandria he served as assistant rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, under the Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim. Prior to that service he was rector of St. Timothy's Church, Catonsville, Md., for nearly 20 years, going there from Grace Church, New York, where he was assistant rector and instructor in St. Faith's Deaconess School under the Rev. W. R. Huntington. While a young deacon he was in charge of St. Paul's Church, Patchogue, Long Island, and before that of St. John's Church, Arden, N. Y.

In 1893 he married Miss Fredericka Wentworth Parrott, of The Greenwoods, Arden, N. Y. He has been chaplain of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons for the last 10 years.

MAY FETE ENJOYED BY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Thousands Pack Coliseum at M. U. in Pageant for Prince Georges.

In a colorful program of song, dance and pantomine, Prince Georges County graded schools yesterday entertained thousands that packed the Coliseum at the University of Maryland.

The pageant, staged under the supervision of Mrs. Catherine Green and Miss Mary Kemp, was opened with the ensemble singing "Maryland, My Maryland." This was followed by the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades singing "What Can I Do, America?"

The climax of the afternoon came with the presentation of an old English May Day and the crowning of Lorraine Jervais as Queen of the May. Charles Iuul was inducted into the kingship.

Two other features which brought great applause were the circus parade, presenting in striking reality the well-known animals, clowns, midgets, fat women and dancers, and the dramatization of "The Pied Piper of Hamein." The music was directed by Kathryn Reidy, accompanied by Mattie Williford.

Senator Johnson's Son's Wife Makes Reno Home

Reno, Nev., May 12 (A.P.).—From an upstairs window in a small stone cottage Mrs. Archibald Johnson, daughter-in-law of United States Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, admitted today that she had established residence in Reno and expected to stay a while "because I like it so well here."

Mrs. Johnson, who is the former Martha Ruddy, would not say, however, whether she planned filing suit for divorce.

Jack Dempsey Named In Beer Permit Case

Newark, N. J., May 12 (A.P.).—The name of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, was mentioned today in connection with proceedings to revoke the beer permit of the Harrison Beverage Co.

Dempsey was named as the man who introduced a Richmond, Va., friend to sources that arranged a meeting for him with Max Greenberg, beer baron and reputedly one of the owners of the Harrison Brewery.

Father of Four Marx Brothers Dies at 72

Hollywood, May 12 (A.P.).—Samuel Marx, father of the four Marx brothers, screen comedy quartet, died today at the home of his son, Arthur (Harpo), after an illness caused by a kidney ailment. He was 72 years old, and was born in Alsace, France, coming to America 50 years ago.

4 Whistler Originals Bring $5,210 at Sale

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Four original Whistler etchings sold at auction tonight for a total of $5,210, and $850 was paid for an etching of Anders Zorn's "Fisherman at St. Ives."

The pictures came from the collections of Mrs. L. F. Easton, of La Crosse, Wis., Mrs. Ira Davenport and Alexander Hudnut, of New York, and the estate of Willis Vickery, of Cleveland.

MRS. WEIDENHAMER'S RITES.

Burial Will Be in Williamsport After Services Tomorrow.

Interment will be Monday at 2:30 p. m. at Wildwood Chapel, Williamsport, Pa.

FRESH FRENCH DEBT STUDY IS FORECAST

Advices from Paris had indicated that Foreign Minister Paul Boncour had dispatched new instructions to the ambassador here with regard to the conditions of meeting the deferred December 15 payment. It was impossible to confirm this fact from any source last night. The Secretary of State announced that his talk with the ambassador had embraced many subjects, of which war debts was one. The ambassador refused to comment on the reports of his new functions which would tend to indicate a gradual veering around in the French official attitude toward the debts.

The departure of the American delegation has been fixed for May 31 on board the steamer President Roosevelt, which will bring the delegates in ample time for the opening of the meeting June 12. President Roosevelt is still preparing the list of delegates, but it is believed a certainty that the following will be included: Secretary Hull, Assistant Secretaries Moley, Tugwell, Special Assistant William C. Bullitt and James M. Cox, Newton D. Baker, Senator Key Pittman and Representatives McReynolds, of Tennessee, or Doughton, of North Carolina.

The understanding between the United States and Germany was phrased in the joint communique issued at the conclusion of the Schacht conversations here yesterday. The tenor of the communique was expressed in this sentence:

"We fully agree in our firm resolve to help the world situation by attacking present problems vigorously."

Kiwanis to Give Scout Stars.

Scout star badges will be presented by the Kiwanis Club of Arlington County to Ernest Sparks and Douglas Grantham, of Troop No. 104, Clarendon, and Justin Crawford, of Troop No. 140, Cherrydale, tonight in recognition of their becoming first class scouts with five merit badges. The presentation will take place in Lyon Village.

24 Cardinals Greet Pope.

Vatican City, May 12 (A.P.).—Twenty-four cardinals today presented their greetings to Pope Pius on the occasion of his Saint's Day, which is that of St. Achille.

HALLOCK IS CLEARED BY ARLINGTON JURY

Former Clerk of County's School Board Acquitted of Embezzlement.

Defense counsel in the case of F. J. Hallock, former clerk of the Arlington County School Board, won a sweeping victory in court yesterday resulting in the sudden ending of the case with a verdict of not guilty. Hallock was indicted on a charge of embezzlement of $5,862.50.

After arguments on motions of defense counsel, former State Senator Frank L. Ball and H. Bruce Green objecting to character of testimony introduced by the commonwealth and arguing the commonwealth could not introduce any evidence which would in any way vary the minutes of the county school board, Judge Walter T. McCarthy ruled as follows:

"The court is of the opinion that the evidence the commonwealth proposes to introduce to vary the terms or the words of the minutes is inadmissible and irrelevant. Having ruled that, the court is of the opinion that it would be useless to proceed with the case further."

Permitted by the court to consider the rulings, Commonwealth's Attorney Lawrence W. Douglas forthwith announced "The State rests."

The jury, which had been excused since early Thursday afternoon during arguments of counsel, was ordered into court and Judge McCarthy told the jury that the laws of Virginia did not permit the court to ask for a directed verdict, but he instructed them to retire to their room and return a verdict on a case on which they had no evidence.

Within five minutes the jury returned with a verdict of not guilty signed by Arthur J. Porter, foreman.

With the announcement of the verdict, two pending indictments charging forgery were nolle prossed at the request of Commonwealth's Attorney Douglas.

Germany Will Stop Gold on Its Bonds

Basle, Switzerland, May 12 (U.P.).—The German government today informed the Bank of International Settlements that in the future it would abandon gold payments on its bonds held in the United States.

Payments, the announcement said, would be made in "legal tender"—depreciated American dollars. The bonds, like United States Government issues and bonds of most foreign countries, call for payment of interest and principal in gold.

Bonds immediately affected are the government 5½ per cent bonds, maturing in 1965 (Young plan loan), of which there are $93,069,500 outstanding in the United States; government 7 per cent bonds (Dawes plan), of which there are $70,597,600 in the United States. No announcement was made regarding other German bond issues.

Children's Festival To Be Staged Today

The Children's Festival of Washington will be staged in Central High School Auditorium at 2 p. m. today. Dr. Hayden Johnson, president of the Board of Education; Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, Mrs. Philip Sidney Smith, Henry Gilligan, Dr. Abram Simon and George W. Whitwell are among members of the board who are sponsors of the annual festival of the children belonging to educational dance and drama groups of the Community Center Department.

Senator Warren R. Austin, Senator Hamilton Kean, Dr. Frank W. Ballou and Dr. Rebecca Stoneroad will be among those attending. A committee of Community Center secretaries, headed by Mrs. L. W. Hardy, with Mrs. E. K. Peeples, director of the department, as ex officio member, and including representatives of each of the community centers, will have charge.

Gold Mine Stock Promoter Is Held

Miami, Okla., May 12 (A.P.).—W. W. Barrett, Webb City, Mo., promoter, was bound over for district court trial late today following a preliminary examination before County Judge J. H. Venable on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses in what prosecutors contend was a gold mine stock scheme in which Miamians and others lost between $5,000 and $10,000.

The State alleges Barrett, who was arrested last Saturday at Webb City, falsely represented a mine 100 miles south of Chihuahua City, Mexico, in the alleged stock sales.

Barrett presented no testimony today. His arrest followed a trip to Mexico by three investors. One of these, C. D. Gibson, testified they found the "mine" to be a barren, unimproved hole. A. J. (Lon) Lampkin, former county clerk, also testifying for the State, told of Barrett's alleged claims of rich gold veins and mining equipment and of a picture of a nugget the size of a hen egg which he declared was displayed here.

French War Funds Take Sixth of 1933 Budget

Paris (Saturday), May 13 (U.P.).—The Senate was reminded of the specter of rising militarism in Germany as it adopted early today the war department budget of 1,225,000,000 francs, one-sixth of the entire 1933 budget.

Gen. Robert Bourgeois, vice president of the military commission of the Senate, pointed out the necessity of strict maintenance of military strength because of the German situation.

2,640 Families Leave Chicago Relief Rolls

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—A return to jobs was reported today to have taken 2,640 families off the unemployment relief rolls in Chicago and Cook County during April.

Assistant Chairman Charles B. Goodspeed, of the relief commission, said there were 127,357 families obtaining relief on April 30.

Rubber Boats Will Challenge Gulf.

New Orleans, May 12 (A.P.).—Joseph Belloco, of Detroit, Mich., landed his 82 rubber boat here today after a 1,000-mile Mississippi River trip, and announced that he was prepared to enter the Gulf of Mexico to continue to Miami, Fla., New York and Chicago.

BONDING COMPANY PAYS BALL LOSSES

County Accepts $350,000 as Full Settlement of Shortages.

BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Completing legal details, William F. Clarke, attorney for the Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Maryland, in the presence of Judge Walter T. McCarthy, in the Circuit Court, yesterday turned over to County Treasurer Charles T. Jesse certified checks totaling $350,000 in full settlement in the case of E. Wade Ball, former county treasurer. The total alleged shortage was $520,154.50. Ball was convicted April 1 and sentenced to 2½ years.

The matter first came to light in February, 1932, when the county board was advised by a Cincinnati banking house that $12,000 of county school bonds and $10,000 of bond coupons had not been paid.

Upon the request of the county board, Gov. Pollard sent T. Coleman Andrews, State auditor of public accounts, with a corps of State auditors to the county to make a complete investigation.

R. B. Jordan was in charge of the investigation. For more than a year the auditors delved into the records of the country treasurer, the county clerk and the clerk of the county school board.

Having attended both the trials of former County Clerk William H. Duncan and former Treasurer E. Wade Ball, Jordan left last night for Richmond, where he will have direct charge of the audit of the accounts of the State Highway Department.

Hit-and-Run Tale Scouted by Police

Dubious about the reported hit-and-run accident in which Ira B. Major, 39, 222 Seventeenth place northeast, suffered a possible skull fracture and other severe injuries early yesterday, Prince Georges County police last night announced they were investigating the possibility of his having been beaten by enemies in the county.

Benjamin Meyers, 33, a taxicab driver, is being held on a charge of investigation in connection with the case. Police said that Meyers jumped from the rumble seat of the car in which Major was being brought to Sibley Hospital for treatment when the car was halted by a policeman near the District line.

Meyers insists, police said, that Major was struck by a hit-and-run driver as they were walking along Rhode Island avenue in Mount Rainier.

ALEXANDRIA LEGION TO PARADE TONIGHT

Many Other Organizations Also Will Participate in Spring Festival.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

Alexander Post, No. 24, American Legion, will hold a spring festival parade starting at 7 o'clock this evening, in which a large number of local organizations will participate.

Robert G. Carter is chief marshal of the parade, which will start at King and Royal streets. He will be assisted by Sergt. Maj. Marc Freeman, of Fort Humphreys, chairman of the parade committee. Pupils from all the Alexandria public schools will participate, and will also enter floats. The drum and bugle corps of the Clarendon Post, American Legion, the drum and bugle corps of the Alexandria Post, the Citizens Band, the drill team of Job's Daughters, of Washington; the schoolboy patrol, the cadet corps of the Alexandria and George Mason High Schools, and a large number of floats and decorated automobiles entered by local merchants, will be in the line of march.

The various units will assemble at points convenient to King and Fairfax streets, and the line of march will be on King street west to the Union Station.

A verdict of accidental death was rendered yesterday by Coroner W. E. Beattie, of Alexandria, in the case of an unidentified white man, apparently between 20 and 25 years old, whose body was found late Thursday night on the overhead bridge at the head of King street.

"A report was made by J. F. Gerlacher, engineer of Southern Railway engine No. 1706, that a man had been killed on the bridge. The police report indicates that the man is supposed to have been killed by a freight train which left Potomac Yards just ahead of engine No. 1706. The train was inspected upon arrival in Richmond, however, and showed no signs of having struck any one.

The only identifying mark found on the man was the word "Jess" on the collarband of his shirt. He is described as about 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, dressed in gray trousers, blue broadcloth shirt, jumper jacket and white and tan sport shoes. In his pockets were found 15 cents, a cheap watch, a tooth brush and tube of paste.

Sidney Wineman, president of the Century Manufacturing Co., stated yesterday that there is no strike among the female employes of that plant, which is engaged in making men's work shirts, but that some of the employes did not care to take a 10 per cent reduction in wages and are no longer with the company.

He further stated that the operators have been employed on a half-time basis since February 23, and have now been guaranteed full time for the remainder of the year.

Representative J. Hardin Peterson, of the First Florida District, will address the members of the Baraca Bible Class of the First Baptist Church tomorrow morning at the Mother's Day celebration. He is the first vice president of the World-Wide Baraca-Philathea Union.

In observance of Mother's Day the members of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Catholic Church will receive Holy Communion at 7 a. m. mass tomorrow. The regular meeting of the society will be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow in Lyceum Hall.

Fairfax 4-H to Hold Its Annual Rally Today

The 4-H Clubs of Fairfax County, Va., will hold their annual rally day today on the grounds of the Fairfax School.

The morning program will include singing by club members and talks by Wilbert T. Woodson, county superintendent of schools, and Miss R. Belle Burke, State club agent. A sketch depicting a "Wedding of the Gay 90s" will be staged by members of the Herndon and Forestville clubs. The afternoon program will include pageants on the history of costumes.

DISARMAMENT PROSPECTS.

With the world economic conference only a month distant, President Roosevelt and Dr. Schacht, German envoy, issue a joint statement in which they agree that the success of the conference "can not be achieved unless, along with economic disarmament, there is military disarmament."

This statement is made more emphatic on the President's part by his strenuous efforts, through Ambassador Davis and others, to hasten an agreement on armaments. But on Dr. Schacht's part it does not harmonize with the efforts of his government to increase German armaments, both naval and military.

If Germany would refrain from demanding the right to build up armaments, and would stand firmly upon the proposition that other nations should scale down their arms, there might be some prospect of agreement at Geneva. The covenant of the League of Nations contemplates that the disarming of Germany shall be followed by general reduction of armaments. This policy could be insisted upon by Germany to its great advantage, but when Germany attempts to build up armaments the other nations can ignore the league declaration.

Great Britain is little concerned with agreements relating to the land forces, intended to reduce friction between Germany and France. Germany, however, demands the right to build a 26,000-ton battle cruiser, which immediately evokes a growl from the British lion. If Germany should persist in this demand, the British government may invoke the land, sea and air sanctions of the Treaty of Versailles. This treaty, if strictly enforced, will keep Germany powerless.

Soviet Russia gives notice that it is strengthening its naval defenses in the Baltic and the Black Sea. Ships will be built, maneuvers will be held, and bombing planes will be provided for coast defense.

Viscount Ishii, on his way to Washington, announces that Japan will insist upon naval parity with the United States at the next conference to be held in 1935, the year before the London treaty expires. The new Japanese drive against Peiping is anything but an encouragement to European powers to reduce their armaments.

While Japan is preparing to demand naval equality with the United States, American policy is not clear. President Roosevelt includes naval construction among the items of the new public works program, but no details are disclosed, and meantime ships are to be laid up and stringent naval economies enforced.

There is official authority for the statement that some progress has been made in the interchange of views at Washington concerning disarmament negotiations at Geneva. In the absence of further information the public must be satisfied with hope. If these hopes should be blasted by the failure of the disarmament conference it is reasonable to expect the breakdown of the economic conference and a stiffening of resolve on the part of Americans to work out their own salvation and make sure of their national defense. Pressure for an increase of air power may result in the building of planes instead of postponing provision for that element of defense. It is conceivable that the United States would proceed to build the strongest navy in the world.

President Roosevelt has shown astonishing skill in reconciling international differences in preparation for the economic conference. What he is doing toward disarmament agreements can not be disclosed, but his confident preparations for the economic conference indicate that he expects something substantial to emerge from Geneva, notwithstanding the manifestations of warlike activities among various nations.

TAXES AND PUBLIC WORKS.

Another sweeping relief project is about to be launched from the White House. President Roosevelt's advisers have prepared a bill that would authorize the expenditure of approximately $3,300,000,000 on public works and provide for Government control of industry. If the plans which are being pressed upon the President by his associates and members of Congress should materialize, this may become the most important bill of Mr. Roosevelt's reconstruction program.

Apparently the President is determined to go ahead with a gigantic public works program. A few weeks ago he was reported to be dubious as to its practicability because of the financial situation and the heavy burden that this increased debt would impose upon taxpayers. Sponsors of the public works idea have worked strenuously to overcome these objections. They believe that they have now evolved plans that Mr. Roosevelt and Congress will approve.

It is encouraging to note that the advocates of this program have agreed that higher taxes will be necessary to make it possible. The Treasury might find it extremely difficult to sell bonds to the amount of $3,300,000,000 when there is doubt as to whether the outstanding bonds will be repaid in gold.

In spite of the President's aversion to the sales tax, his advisers are suggesting that method of financing the public works program. The words "reemployment tax" do not change the nature of the proposed levy. It would be an excise tax on industry, with certain agricultural products exempted because they are already subject to taxes for the benefit of the farmer.

The experts know of nowhere else to turn for revenue sufficient to pay interest and retirement charges on the proposed bonds. Higher income taxes probably would not be productive. Special excises on a few products have been disappointing, and the proposed tax on "the breakfast table" would be such a direct blow to the millions who are already in distress as to make its serious consideration doubtful. It appears that the administration will be forced into an indorsement of the sales tax if this gigantic public works program is to go forward.

Taxes are never welcome. Yet it is essential to increase the tax burden if the Government is to spend several billions of dollars in a new effort to create jobs. Congress must weigh carefully the advantages of spending this vast sum for public works against the disadvantages of higher taxes and a large increase in the national debt.

AL SMITH FOR MAYOR.

Various political elements in New York City wish to draft Alfred E. Smith for the mayoralty nomination. Good Tammany man that he is, several independent and fusion interests would like to see him supplant the present Tiger leadership, having confidence in his ability and integrity regardless of his affiliations with the organization which has been placed in such an unfavorable light through recent investigations. New York certainly is in need of the services of such a man at the head of its government, and if Mr. Smith can be induced to run there is little likelihood that he could be successfully opposed.

There has long been a feeling that men who have filled or been candidates for the higher offices of the land should not thereafter compete for lesser positions. It is a mistaken sentiment that robs the nation and minor political departments of valuable service. No such practice obtains abroad. Cabinet members and presidents serve their terms and afterward resume parliamentary positions. M. Herriot continues in his position as Mayor of Lyons.

Democratic Democrat that he is, Al Smith would probably have no false pride in this matter, but he probably would not consider for a moment the acceptance of a fusion nomination unless he should be nominated also by the Democrats. His personal popularity in New York doubtless would insure his election, and there would be general confidence that not even the influence of Tammany Hall could swerve him from official duty. It would undoubtedly be a great pecuniary sacrifice for Mr. Smith to accept the call, but both politically and financially New York City appeals insistently for a capable savior. Only two States in the Union can offer as large a population to a chief executive as the American metropolis. To supply New York with a good administration as mayor is a statesman's job.

TRUCE WINS APPROVAL.

European nations reconsidered their opposition to President Roosevelt's tariff truce when it became apparent that they were putting the World Economic Conference in jeopardy. The truce is now a reality, even though the broad reservations of some signatory nation leave them free to go ahead with their previous plans. The governments of Germany, France, Great Britain, Belgium, Italy, Japan, Norway and the United States agree not to "adopt any new initiatives which might increase the many varieties of difficulties now arresting international commerce." Any country may withdraw from the agreement after July 31 after giving a month's previous notice to the conference. The truce will remain in effect from now until the end of the conference.

In many respects the truce is disappointing. It requires a real sacrifice on the part of the United States, since this Government will not be able to put into effect the new agricultural duties which are part of the plan to raise farm prices. On the other hand, Great Britain is free to go ahead with trade negotiations already under way, and France may apply her excess duties to American products if the dollar sinks in value on the international exchanges. Nevertheless, the truce is a gesture of good will that was undoubtedly necessary to pave the way for the world economic gathering.

It is strange that Great Britain, France and Germany should hang back when the United States initiates a move of this kind. For years they have been attempting to draw this country into an international conference for the adjustment of economic problems. As soon as the United States is willing to join in a world cooperative movement European powers seem to be skeptical.

The difficulties encountered in the negotiation of the tariff truce foreshadow some of the difficulties that will arise at the conference. No nation is entering this conclave with the intention of giving anything away, but most of them are very definitely looking for favors from the United States. France and Great Britain have already demonstrated that their penchant for cooperation does not extend to problems that touch the domestic welfare of their people. If the United States is not to make all the concessions the delegates from Washington will undoubtedly have to adopt a similar attitude.

THE ADVERTISING MAN.

Modern advertising found its first and best development in the United States. It has become the merchant's most important sales agent. For the high standards of advertising today the newspapers are in great measure indebted to the cooperation of the responsible advertising agents of America. They have been instrumental in elevating the artistic quality of the appeals to the consumer as well as the integrity of the argument.

The annual convention of the American Association of Advertising Agencies has been in session in Washington. Representatives came from all parts of the Nation to take counsel with their invited guests, publishers, advertisers, the out-door publicity interests and the radio managers. Advertising agencies today cover a wide field, though their first interest remains that of the public prints, first among them being the daily newspaper. With all the contrivances of modern science nothing has yet been perfected to take the place of consistent advertising in the daily newspaper. Advertising today has become almost an exact science. Sales can be gauged to publicity appropriations with remarkable accuracy.

While statesmen are considering the adoption of regulatory measures for industry they might well consider the success which has attended the cooperative efforts to keep advertising clean and honest that have crowned the work of the publishing and advertising interests.

A financial writer concludes that the bottom was reached when all American banks were closed at once. The country could not go in any other direction than up.

President Roosevelt will spend a pleasant week-end deciding which of 55 tax schemes is most attractive to the American taxpayer.

Canada refuses to permit export of electric power to the United States. Why not make it alternating current?

Don't forget that the United States has survived the failure of many conferences.

45 MILES PER HOUR

By WILLIAM ULLMAN.

Forty-five miles an hour is not fast. No, no, no! Ask any motorist. Why, that is merely his normal cruising speed on the open road! Now, 60 miles an hour may be approaching a real speed, but certainly not 45!

Perhaps the general attitude regarding 45 miles an hour might be modified if motorists were to think of it in terms of energy; let us say the energy involved in stopping the car from that rate.

To get this picture, assume a car weighing 3,000 pounds and having an engine horsepower of 75. It did not require a maximum outlay of the engine's power to bring the car to the speed in question. Fifty horsepower could do it fairly easily. But that 50 horsepower will not stop the car within a reasonably safe distance.

No, indeed, it will not. To bring the car to a stop within a distance of 90 feet, which is not asking too much with respect to safety, requires 150 horsepower. It is obvious then that the brakes have to be vastly more powerful than the engine of a motor car.

Consider some of the other phases of this energy problem. How many pounds of pressure must be generated at the brake linings to achieve this relatively ordinary stopping feat? Just a mere 16,800 pounds. This braking energy, of course, takes the form of heat. Quite a lot of heat, too! If, for instance, it were applied to the heating of two pints of water at a temperature of 70 degrees, it would lift the temperature to 212 degrees, the boiling point, in just two and three-quarters seconds.

Large figures, these. Much larger than the basic 45 with which we started. However, they are what the 45 translates into with respect to stopping—150 horsepower, 16,800 pounds of pressure and heat enough to boil two pints of tepid water in two and three-quarters seconds!

Among engineers and other scientific groups, the sentiment holds that were motorists to get a sense of these larger figures they might have more respect, consideration and sympathy for that secondary power system with which their cars are equipped; namely, the brakes. The fact is that although possessed of more power inherently than the engine the brakes are inclined to lose it more rapidly through abuses. The engine goes on for years being capable of delivering pretty close to a maximum of performance, but unless it is matched by a similar capacity on the part of the brakes the motorist's situation is far from a happy or safe one.

Carefully analyzed, 45 miles an hour is fast, for it takes 150 horsepower to stop it.

Action!

FAITH.

These days are trying.
There's no denying
There's much of sighing
About our pains.
But birds are winging
The sky and singing
And laughter's ringing
Where faith remains.

Little is altered!
Though we have faltered
Let this be psaltered
In merry strains.
Though plans miscarry
And troubles harry
Such blows we'll parry
While faith remains.

Our faith still strong is!
We'll right what wrong is!
Life's pathway long is,
And snows and rains
May beat in our faces,
But rich with graces
And sweet the places
Where faith remains.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MY Dear Louise: You hear a great deal of talk about the equality of the sexes, but young mothers still say: "I'm glad it's a boy; life is so hard and dangerous for a girl."

Life is hard for a girl. Her sex still suffers many disadvantages. She never will be as free as a boy is.

But people are wrong about the danger. It may be that certain places or conditions are dangerous for a girl and not dangerous for a boy, but that doesn't prove anything. The girl can avoid such places and conditions.

The peaceful meadow is dangerous for a fish, but the fish has no business there. Let it stay in the river and all will be well.

Today the newspapers told about a girl who was attacked by toughs as she and her companion came out of a building. Her captors forced her to enter a car and then they drove away with her. Now her life is ruined.

Such dreadful things don't happen to boys. But I never heard of such a thing happening to girl as she was coming out of a church. In this case the girl was coming out of a saloon.

Once in a while you read about some girl being thrown out of an automobile. You pity her and hate the brute who attacked and disgraced her. But her tragedy wasn't a result of life's unfairness to girls.

There is no law or custom that compels girls to enter a stranger's car when they are offered a ride.

The dreadful things that happen to girls very seldom happen where girls ought to be. In nearly every instance the environment is sordid and vicious, or the villain in the drama is a stranger or a drunk.

Once in a great while some nice girl is insulted by an employer or fellow worker who is a pervert or a rake, but that danger is rare and remote.

As a general rule—and the rule holds good in almost every instance—no man who is sober makes advances or attempts familiarity unless the girl meets him half-way. And it is very easy to stay away from men who aren't sober.

Your sex exposes you to some unpleasant things unknown to men. But you have this comforting assurance: A girl can associate with decent people and go to decent places and do nothing that is stupid or wrong, and thus escape every danger except the ones that are common to us all. Love,

DAD.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Don't Tie Roosevelt's Hands.

Kansas City Times.

Congress has gone far in giving the President large discretionary powers in the conduct of domestic affairs. Other such grants will be made. It would be folly to neutralize or circumscribe the effects of such action as may be taken under this executive authority by tying the President's hands in international negotiations, which are so intimately and inextricably related to his whole emergency program.

The time is past for blind and selfish nationalism. This does not mean that one who recognizes this fact is an internationalist in the opprobrious sense. It does mean that international adjustments must be made in the interest of all nations. Such adjustments mean reciprocal concessions. A test of the will and the capacity of nations to meet their common problem will be made at the forthcoming economic conference in London. A test of the courage and confidence of Congress will be its action on the desire of the President for authority to deal with the tariff, war debts and kindred subjects at the conference.

No Back Step.

Boston Transcript.

The Nation will not look with complacence on any program designed to offset in any degree the savings effected by the national economy, not through the elimination of pensions to the able-bodied and to those whose connection with the war was so remote as to give them no claim on the generosity of the country. The job of stopping the veterans' raids on the United States Treasury was a long and difficult one and was only accomplished when an aroused public opinion lent full support to an administration determined to put an end to abuses that had grown up over the stretch of the years. President Roosevelt showed real courage in dealing with the problem. He has shown even greater courage so far in rejecting the demands of those whose only object is to have themselves or their friends supported at the Government's expense. We trust he will not now yield to the importunities and threats of the self-seekers. To do so would be the policy of timidity; to back down would be to undo the good that was achieved as the result of ceaseless endeavor on the part of literally hundreds of thousands of our citizens.

Congressional Decorum.

Detroit News.

The present Democratic House of Representatives at Washington has made a record for action, though chiefly by quickly voting to President Roosevelt the duty of acting. It appears that many long hours still pass there when nothing more presses than the needs of the 435 members for outlet in speech. Decorum, while the orating goes on, is reported neither what it once was nor what, in the opinion of veterans who date back many years, it ought to be.

As the orators of the day declaim, it seems that knots of congressional youngsters chat with one another noisily; that others read newspapers, crackling them as they turn the pages; and that still others, imagine, sit under the noses of the orators and in plain view of the galleries, eating apples. Something ought to be done. If this continues, people watching from as far off as Detroit will find more substance than otherwise they might in the accounts of Congress having abdicated and turned its legislative job over to Roosevelt.

Harrowing Experience.

Lexington Herald.

Former Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills objects to inflation. Now, there's a man who learned last November what it means to be blown up.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

NINETY DAYS, NO MORE, NO LESS.

SCENE—A DOCTOR'S OFFICE.

Doctor—What seems to be the matter?

Patient—I don't feel just right.

Doctor—When did you first notice it?

Patient—It just came over me.

Doctor—What are the symptoms?

Patient—I get awfully depressed when I see a fake label, and I go cold all over every time I see one of those undersized pint bottles.

Doctor—Don't you think it is just a temporary condition?

Doctor—I have an idea I can cure you in much less time than that.

Patient—If you do I'll have to change doctors.

* * * *

Doctor—I'm rather inclined to believe you'll be all right in 60 days if you follow my treatment.

Patient—Nothing doing, doc. I've got my mind all made up to be sick three months.

Doctor—Suppose I give you a prescription for 60 days and see how you are at the end of that time?

Patient—I'm determined to need treatment for 90 days even if I have to consult a specialist.

* * * *

Doctor—Which seems to pull you out of an illness more quickly, Bourbon or rye?

Patient—I generally build up faster on rye, but I'll take Bourbon if you think it better.

Patient—This is the 15th.

Doctor—And you don't want to get well until August of the same date?

Patient—That's it, doc. You're a homeopathist, aren't you?

Doctor—Yes; I don't believe in cutting unless it is absolutely necessary.

Patient—I hope the druggist who fills this prescription feels the same way.

* * * *

Doctor—Well, good day, and drop in and let me know how you are getting on.

Patient—I will. And, doctor, by the way——

Doctor—What is it?

Patient—Here's my address. Could you send up a dozen bottles of ginger ale and some ice?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thanks God That a Man Has Arisen, to Meet the Country's Desperate Need.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Will those men and women who are inclined to be hypercritical as to the present and cold toward the remedies suggested in the emergency of today be fair-minded enough to consider our present state as compared with our pains and qualms and fears of the early days of March, recently passed?

Something approaching a miracle has been achieved. Our benefits already at hand are great and growing. Those which bid fair to grace the early future are sweet with promise. Why should we be hesitant or fainthearted or whisper ill-begotten messages of doubt?

Are we, perchance, like unto the impatient patient who ails as much in spirit as in body, in that he rewards not in faith and quietness of soul the ministrations of the wise physician?

Let us, as it were, consecrate ourselves to our devoted leader and follow him without paleness of spirit or mean complaint or far-beckoned woe. And let us thank God that, as heretofore, a MAN has arisen to meet our country's desperate need!

Federal Salaries Should Be Raised if Cost of Living Goes Up.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It was the new administration under President Roosevelt which was instrumental recently in bringing about a 15 per cent reduction in the salaries of Federal employes. Following this measure came the advocating of a rise in prices of general commodities.

Now the President is urging employers to raise salaries proportionately to these increased commodity prices. Would it not be in order for this same authority to start the ball rolling in this direction and set an example to the leaders of industry by raising the salaries of Federal employes?

Is the justice of this suggestion open to challenge?

Culbertson on Bridge

By ELY CULBERTSON

A PSYCHIC SLAM.

LEADERS in other fields of sport and entertainment usually have as their favorite avocation the game of Contract Bridge. One particular group I have in mind consists of a coterie of New York's leading orchestra leaders, song writers and musical comedy producers, including Messrs. Ben Bernie, George Olsen, Howard Dietz and various others. These gentlemen not only continually play Bridge among themselves, but often are to be seen in the various clubs playing with and against the leading Contract stars.

Mr. Howard Dietz, one of the country's leading musical comedy writers, recently reached a winning slam contract after having opened the bidding as Dealer with a complete psychic, playing with Mr. David Burnstine. The opponents were none other than Messrs. Howard Schenken and Edward Wetzlar.

South, Dealer.

Pass(5)	3♠	4♡	4♠
5♣(6)	Pass	6♣(7)	Pass

1—Mr. Dietz has what looks to him a practically hopeless hand and fears a sure game and probable Slam by the opponents. He decides to try to prevent it by opening the bidding with a completely psychic bid of one heart.

2—Just what Mr. Wetzlar meant by his two-spade bid is questionable. The hand is certainly too strong for a Preemptive Overcall and too weak if he meant it for a strength-showing bid.

3—Mr. Burnstine is completely "on the spot." He does not know if West's two-spade bid shows strength or is a psychic. In either event it is more than possible that his partner has a psychic bid in view of his own 5½ honor-tricks. Mr. Burnstine, therefore, decides to stall for time by the bid of three clubs.

4—Mr. Schenken, of course, can not tell that the Opening bid was a psychic, in view of his mediocre holding. He therefore decides to try to annoy the opponents by bidding three diamonds.

5—Mr. Dietz, of course, can not afford to enter the bidding at this point, despite his very fine fit with partner's clubs, for he feels certain if he does he will find himself at seven.

6—Mr. Dietz now quite properly decides, despite his trickless holding, to reenter the bidding. He does not know of his partner's great honor strength and quite naturally assumes that four spades for the opponents must be a laydown. He also knows that since his partner has bid clubs and supported hearts, he can not be beaten very badly at five clubs and may even make it.

7—Mr. Burnstine, of course, has known for the last two rounds of bidding that his partner almost definitely has a psychic bid. However, he is practically positive that the psychic bid does not contain a heart suit, and, in view of the frenzied spade bids by the opponents and the club Raise by his partner, he can quite surely place a single ton or void in spades in South's hand. He feels that, at the worst, he will have a finesse for the Slam.

The play of the hand was quite simple. Ruffing the spade or diamond gave the Declarer the necessary amount of entries to Dummy to finesse twice against the King of clubs. The hearts broke and the Slam was made—a highly gratifying result to Mr. Dietz, who held but two Tenspots as his total honor strength.

What Today Means

"TAURUS."

IF May 13 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:15 a. m. to 9:30 a. m., from 12 noon to 1:20 p. m. and from 10 p. m. to 11 p. m. The danger periods are from 4 p. m. to 5:15 p. m. and from 8:15 p. m. to 9:20 p. m.

Influences operating on this May 13 will make for a period of constant but unrushed activity. The day should prove to be a full one and its close should see much of a satisfying nature accomplished. The business trip begun on this day will most likely not bring hoped-for results.

The child born on this May 13 will quite possibly have a good deal of jealousy in its make-up; it will not get along well with its brothers or sisters. Will demand a great deal of attention from its parents, most particularly from its mother. Not a neat little one.

If May 13 is the date of your birth, you are more than likely a person who is ever occupied in doing something of a worth-while nature. Your energies are undoubtedly directed along a set line and you have time for little else; you are not a "narrow" person at all, for you do manage to "keep up" on the important things going on about you, but you do not have time to fritter away on this or that unless it is definitely going to advance you toward your goal. In your relations with others you are inclined at times to be a bit too exacting, possibly demanding, but this attitude arises from the zeal which you put into your own work and which you just naturally expect to find in others.

Born on May 13, you are careful how you spend your money; you do not disperse it frivolously or carelessly. You are somewhat of an idealist; should you become sufficiently enthused over some social problem it is not at all improbable that you might turn reformer. Most certainly you have a great interest in people and you are happy when you are able to help some one to help himself. You have many fine qualities and you have great faith in God. It would not be at all surprising to find you doing some great work of a religious nature, possibly as a clergyman, possibly as a worker in some church. Marriage will mean a great deal to you.

Successful people born on May 13: Montgomery C. Meigs, soldier. Johnson M. Mundy, sculptor. Arthur Rotch, architect. Daniel G. Brinton, surgeon and ethnologist. Percy Stickney Grant, clergyman. William Boyce Thompson, financier.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Isn't it smart with its modish little frills and quaint puffed sleeves?

A light blue rayon crepe silk printed in white has a particularly delicate and exquisite effect for more simpler "best" as its inspirator.

The Meanderer

Finds Authority on Etiquette of Wine Serving; Suggests Sunday Dinner and Novel Foods.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205, Extention 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

"How shall we serve wine?"

That question has arisen many times since wines joined beers on the legal alcoholic beverage list. The Meanderer found a well-known grocery downtown announcing its willingness to deliver wine orders. Novices at wine serving—and the more than 15 years of the eighteenth amendment created many novices at wine serving—want to use the wine but hesitate because they are not familiar with the etiquette of its serving.

From a maitre d' hotel, who has known wines since he was a boy in Austria, whose father was a wine maker for 50 years, the Meanderer has secured a briefly-stated outline of the etiquette of serving wine. Archdukes and duchesses have known the service of this man so versed in the matters of wines.

The head of a popular grill in Washington has been helpful, too, in assisting the Meanderer to a simple statement of the etiquette of wine serving. He has offered as an exhibit in the important matter a yellowed book, "The Epicurean," relating to the elaborate cuisine of the old Delmonico's in New York City.

While the Meanderer is making ready the leaflet on "The Etiquette of Wine Serving," those who would like a copy of it may send in their self-addressed, stamped envelopes for early attention.

Hand-made pretzels labeled "Bavarian style" are new arrivals alongside the beers and wines for sale. The pretzels of this type are supposedly hand-twisted and baked in a different manner from the machine-made pretzels. They sell them in two food shops the Meanderer has visited. A box of these new pretzels costs 30 cents.

"Gentlemen's make-up box" is the unique label on a bright red box in a new food shop on F street. Gentlemen will find therein for their "make-up" a bottle opener, a bottle cap to fit any size bottle and a "fizzer," or cap for beverage bottle with a sipnon effect, so that the drink may be "fizzed" as it is poured. The "make-up" box, which has been selling for bridge prizes, costs 75 cents.

A complete food market on Connecticut avenue remains open every night until midnight, making it possible for the late food shopper to fill her needs completely from the one market. The manager of the market has found the plan of opening for sales at night most successful, as there are many late shoppers up the big thoroughfare.

Sunday dinner, as supplied from your big neighborhood chain store this week-end, may include young frying chickens at 29 cents a pound; fresh peas, 3 pounds, 15 cents; new potatoes of fine quality, 5 pounds, 17 cents; spring turnips, 2 pounds, 15 cents; fresh asparagus, which the manager describes as "thick as his forefinger," for 25 cents, in bunches weighing more than 2 pounds; fresh, excellent quality radishes, spring onions, kale, spinach or lettuce; a Mother's Day cake decorated with pink and white flowers in the icing—a round, two-layer cake for 30 cents; or a pound of raisin cake or of plain pound cake and a pint of ice cream, both offered as a special for today, at 37 cents.

Rhubarb and strawberries were combined in a delicious pie brought to a chain store by a customer who wanted to demonstrate her best efforts with these seasonal foods. The rhubarb and strawberries, with the necessary sweetening and thickening, were alternated in the pie, which was baked in two crusts.

Today's Recipe

Creamed Onions, Serving Six.

12 medium-sized onions
1 teaspoon salt

Peel onions. Cover by 4 inches with cold water. Bring to boiling point. Drain and cover again by 4 inches with cold water. Add salt and boil 15 minutes. Drain well and add sauce.

Sauce.

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 cups milk

Melt butter and add flour, salt and paprika. Mix well and add milk. Cook slowly and stir constantly until creamy sauce forms. Pour over hot onions and serve at once.

WHAT'S GOOD TO EAT.

EPICURES SEIZE CHANCE TO REVEL IN ASPARAGUS

By ANN BARRETT

EPICURES who believe in eating good things while they are plentiful are centering their lunches and dinners around asparagus. Asparagus cooked in whole plump spears (never, never cut it up, says Poet Edgar A. Guest) then sauced with butter or Hollandaise. Or in a velvety creamed soup. Or maybe in a spring salad with green peas and fresh mint.

Whatever way you serve it, the first golden rule is to clean it well. While the bunch is still tied together, cut the tough ends off (2 inches or so, depending on age and freshness.) Then swish the heads quickly back and forth through water, skin the spears from the bottom up, and nip off all the little scales from the sides. (These little scales are fiendish for hiding sand.) Then tie the asparagus up in a bunch again with a clean white cord. And—second important rule—cook it standing upright, in the smallest possible amount of water for the shortest possible time, and still have it tender.

Easiest Way to Cook.

Here is a good way to do this. Have about 1½ inches water boiling in bottom of double boiler. Stand asparagus upright in this. Invert top of double boiler over this bottom part so as to form a tall, steamer-like kettle. Then steam the asparagus only till lower part of stalk is tender (20 to 30 minutes). (This way the tops stay whole instead of cooking away to mush.) Then carefully lift the bunch out onto a hot platter, drain off the water and cut the string. Sprinkle with ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ cup melted butter.

Asparagus Soup.

For the last word in asparagus soup, cook a bunch of the vegetable as directed above. Cut off the tips for garnish and put the rest through a sieve. Next heat 2 cups milk with 2 cups rich chicken broth (or use all milk), and add asparagus pulp. Then melt 2 tablespoons butter, blend into it 2 tabalespoons flour. Stir this into asparagus mixture (with 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper) and cook till thickened. For garnish, whip ¼ cup cream and add a dab of this with several asparagus tips to each serving.

Spring Luncheon Salad.

For a delicious hearty salad, cook asparagus as directed above, saving tips for garnish and cutting remainder into 1-inch pieces. Next mix 2 cups diced lean veal (cooked) with 2 tablespoons vinegar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 6 tablespoons salad oil. Let this stand in refrigerator an hour. Then drain off excess dressing, and mix meat with ½ cup finely chopped celery, 1 cup cold cooked peas, 2 cups cooked, cut asparagus and ½ cup mayonnaise. Arrange attractively on lettuce, garnish with asparagus tips, and sprinkle with 2 teaspoons finely chopped fresh mint.

Send for Strawberry Recipes.

Asparagus and strawberries! Not in the same dish, of course. But we're so lucky to have two such delicacies available at the same time, I want to speak here of our brand-new strawberry bulletin. It's running over with recipes for luscious desserts: those two great American rhapsodies in red—old-fashioned shortcake and strawberry chiffon pie. Besides fresh strawberry ice cream and mousse, strawberry whipped cream cake, 6 recipes for preserving strawberries and many others. This bulletin will come to you promptly if you mail me a self-addressed envelope with 6 cents in loose stamps and the coupon below.

Your Child

By MRS. AGNES LYNE

BUSY mothers with a family of one or two children and a baby are likely to expect the eldest, especially if the eldest happens to be a girl, to look after the baby when housework or other duties are pressing.

Some few little girls take to this task quite happily. Some pretend they like it a lot better than they do because they can see that it is expected of them.

But most little girls are quite resentful. Secretely they regard with very little love the helpless occupant of the carriage who keeps them chained to one spot while they would like to be running about as gay and carefree as all the others of their own age.

It is natural that the child entrusted with such responsibility should so react.

The baby tended by a resentful little big sister is certainly not well cared for. The child nurse herself is not learning to take responsibility gladly and proudly. Her resentfulness, perhaps, too, tinged with jealousy toward the baby who occupies all mother's spare attention, makes her mean-spirited and uncooperative at home.

It is a fine thing is the older children can be made to feel protective concern for the baby. But this is possible only up to the point where the little services they do begin to interfere with their own rights as children—the right to freedom and play and a proper share of parental love.

Where the mother can succeed in getting the older children happily to help with the baby for short half hours now and then, she has added something to good relationships within the family.

Where she tries to force these things, she is hurting these relationships and storing up future trouble in the character of each child.

Keeping Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

MAY OR MAY NOT.

READER writes: 1. Will an electro-cardiogram reveal angina pectoris?

2. Can an abscess in the ear drum drain and extend into the mastoid and cause serious trouble, necessitating a very dangerous operation.

REPLY.

1. It often does show the heart is subject to attacks of angina. However, it may not. Cardiograms are usually made between attacks.

2. Yes.

INGROWING NAILS.

G. D. L. writes: Occasionally I see mention in your column of winter itch and ingrowing toe nails. Speaking from experience through a long life I have found this remedy effective for ingrowing toe nail: File with a medium flat file across the nail about three-eighths inch width until the nail appears pink. Do not trim the edges of the nail. Keep the nail clean. In about a month repeat the operation. The nail will grow toward the center and draw the nail out of the flesh. For winter itch: I have found this effective for myself, after having been tormented for several years, especially in the winter. Pour pure cider vinegar in the palm of the hand on retiring at night and gently rub the afflicted skin until dry. Repeat this on alternate nights for about four nights and then see if the itching is not a thing of the past. Note I have said cider vinegar.

WEEKLY PRIZE WON BY MRS. GATEWOOD

Post Weekly Recipe Award Made for Fricassee of Chicken.

Mrs. Mamie Gatewood, of 1613 Nineteenth street northwest, has been awarded the $5 weekly prize in The Post's recipe contest for her recipe for brown fricassee of chicken. Her recipe follows:

Take, for four persons, a nice, fat stewing chicken, cut it in pieces after washing and put it in enough water and salt to cover it, and boil slowly until tender.

Fry to a golden brown.

Pour off the grease, leaving three tablespoonsful in the pan in which the chicken has been fried.

Add three tablespoons of flour and one and a half cups of uncooked rice to the grease left in the pan; brown slightly, adding liquor from the chicken.

Cover and simmer slowly, adding more liquor as it cooks down.

When the rice is cooked, pour it into a colander and drain off the gravy.

Pile the rice in a platter, with the chicken around it, and serve the gravy separately.

The Mode

By DARE

IT'S the new collar that did it. The lovely and dainty and fresh and white and fascinating new collar.

Take any oldish dress, as long as it still has good lines, and if it is a black which isn't as black as it should be, have it dipped again. Then make a big organdy collar for it in white—and see if you friends don't all ask you where you got the new dress. Mine did when I did just that for a dress that was about ready to be turned over to Sister Dionne.

The Haute Couture has long known the value of the "lingerie touch" on expensive frocks. That's what the little white bits of things at wrist and throat are called, and it means collars and cuffs. Often the most expensive part of the frock is its collar—the frock itself can be bought for almost half its price sans collar, but who wants to? And surely the most flattering part of it is its collar.

So I have prepared a new collar and cuff leaflet for you, one which I am sure you will like, and one that is full of different kinds of collars and cuffs that you can make in your spare finger time. Or give the leaflet to your maid and tell her you are in need of this or that one, and watch her make it up easily from the leaflet. There are shapes for sports wear, materials for dress wear, ideas for collars that really form part of the blouse—and, oh, just worlds of things. You will find a dozen collars that you like; so send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this new collar and cuff leaflet.

Have you seen the rubber bathing suits? They were tried out at Palm Beach and Nice and suddenly all the world and her sister wants one—yes, all made of rubber. They sound co-o-o-o-o-o-ld, but they wear hot—as it were. And they actually reduce. That was never their intention, of ocurse, but since we have found out that they do we like it. Their styling and silhouette in general is the last word in chic—and they are not at all expensive. So altogether the rubber bathing suit is something worth seeing before you decide that last summer's suit will do.

• • • •

There seems to be more than something doing on the head these days—so much so, indeed, that Paris modistes are showing new models weekly instead of seasonally. A famous house just showed some new and lovely summer hats made from linen and cotton fabrics, some large capelines with eyelet embroidery and tiny scallops around the edge that were delightful.

A light ribbed velvet called summer velet is used for evening toques in the new models. And Panama, both real and paper, seems to be the accepted straw for sports hats.

A very new shoe made by the new firm of Perugia in Paris is cut low on the outer side and high on the inner side—it is in black satin and has a single strap. This new firm makes lovely and unusual shoes at unusual prices.

THREE PRIZES WON BY THE GREY KNIGHT

Awards to Whitney Entry Include National Capital Horse Trophy.

A single Whitney entry, The Grey Knight, yesterday took three first prizes, including the National Capital Trophy, in the third day's session of the National Capital Horse Show, now definitely known as the Mrs. John Hay Whitney Horse Show, in consideration of her score of ten blue ribbons in these three days.

The Grey Knight also took the National Capital Trophy, presented by Karl W. Corby, last year. In addition to his winnings yesterday, the Whitney colors were also adorned with a second, a third, and two fourth ribbons won by his stablemates. The Whitney Bon Diable took fourth in the Capital Trophy class, and second in the hunter hacks class, which The Grey Knight won.

Impulse Wins Trophy.

The Riding and Hunt Club class, for a trophy presented by the club, was won by Margaret Cotter on Impulse, the horse which was judged champion hunter of one of last winter's shows at the club. Col. C. P. George, U. S. A., won the officer's chargers class, this being the first time competing Army officers had ever been judged in full field equipment. This class, as well as the troopers' mounts, were judged by Col. Kenyon A. Joyce, now stationed at Governor's Island, N. Y., but soon to come to Fort Myer as commandant.

The weather yesterday continued bad, with a light drizzle beginning with the third class. In spite of this, the galleries were larger than they had been earlier in the week, and in the 5-foot jumping class they saw the best jumping of the show so far. The most serious fall of the show occurred in the Corinthian class, when Miss Beatrice Patton was thrown and badly jarred. She was able to walk away from the spill, however.

Summary of Events.

Winners by classes were:

Troopers' mounts ridden by enlisted men—First, E Troop, Third Cavalry; second, Machine Gun Troop, Third Cavalry; third, E Troop, Third Cavalry; fourth, F troop, Third Cavalry. Open saddle class—First, Gulf Breeze, Miss Marjorie McLeod; second, Jack Lightning, Vernon G. Owen; third, Harriet Lee, Mr. Owen; fourth, Happy Time, W. F. Burrows.

Five-foot jumping class—First, Quick Silver, Miss Julia B. Whiting; second, Flash, Fort Myer horse show team; third, Mermaid, John A. McDonald; fourth, John the Baptist, Miss Evelyn Walker. Hunter hacks—First, The Grey Knight, Mrs. John Hay Whitney; second, Bon Diable, Mrs. Whitney; third, Clearanfast, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Plummer; fourth, Bandit Flag, Miss Anne Leith.

Model hunters for the Corby trophy—First, The Grey Knight, Mrs. Whitney; second, Captain Lawton, Mrs. Ellsworth Augustus; third, Clearanfast, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer; fourth, Bon Diable, Mrs. Whitney. Officers' chargers—First, Col. C. P. George on Ballia Sands, the Fort Myer horse show team; second, Badger, Fort Myer team; third, Home Again, Maj. Wilfrid M. Blunt.

Class for All Hunters.

Corinthian class for all hunters—First, The Grey Knight, Mrs. Whitney; second, Clearanfast, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer; third, Bon Diable, Mrs. Whitney; fourth, Two Legging, Mrs. Whitney.

Handy hunters—First, Miss Kleburne, First Sergt. William L. Toston; second, Flash, Fort Myer team; third, Papoose, Miss Louise Herron; fourth, Temptation, Fort Myer team.

Pairs of hunters—First, Bean Beetle, Miss Betty Cousens, and Ask Him, C. Allen Hatcher; second, Fort Myer team pair; third, Maj. and Mrs. G. S. Patton, jr.; fourth, Clifton Farms entry.

Riding and Hunt Club class—First, Impulse, Miss Margaret Cotter; second, Firenze Maybe, Mrs. M. Robert Guggenheim; third, Questionnaire, Mrs. Mary G. Hill, and fourth, Timber Top, Charles H. Carrico.

BABY'S "KIDNAPERS" NAMED BY MEANS BEING HUNTED

beer runners, were the "brains" behind the Lindbergh kidnaping, Means has testified earlier in the day. They were found shot to death at Elizabeth, N. J., on April 12.

Violet Sharpe was the maid of Dwight W. Morrow's widow, who, Means declared, supplied Henderson with information about the layout of the Lindbergh home at Hopewell. She committed suicide.

Ed Aubinger was a person to whom Means declared he paid some of Mrs. McLean's money to verify a rumor that the Lindbergh child was dead. William J. Burns was the well-known detective.

Whitaker May Testify.

What dramatic and bizarre developments the trial will bring out Monday is conjectural. Defense attorneys would not say whether there would be any witnesses to be heard.

There is the chance that Whitaker will take the stand. His attorney yesterday cross-examined Means, the questions indicating that he hopes to show that his client was merely working upon Means' orders.

As Means approached the end of of his long story he told how he is supposed to have turned over Mrs. McLean's money to three men who stopped his car near the south end of the Highway Bridge.

In telling his story of the kidnaping, Means declared:

"Hassell and Greenberg had been delivering beer and whisky regularly to the Lindbergh servants. The two whisky runners supplied the brains for the job, Henderson said. They told him how to handle the situation.

"They said go to the house, pick up the baby and have three bottles of beer in your pocket. And then say it was a joke, that you were delivering beer to the servants in the kitchen.

"Nobody will be there but Mrs. Lindbergh and if you just walk out you are safe. You can simply walk out of the house after picking the baby out of the crib."

It was done that way, Means said he was told.

Describes Child's Death.

Then he described the child's death.

This he received, he said, from a typewritten report from "Ed Aubinger," whom he had hired to verify a rumor that the child had perished.

The report stated, he declared, that the kidnapers accidentally dropped the child on its head and it died.

The reason that the child was not delivered to Mrs. McLean at Aiken, S. C., was explained to him by Henderson as that the kidnapers wanted to collect money from other sources first. They were then negotiating with John Curtis at Norfolk and with "Jafsie," he said.

Wanted Full Credit.

In the closing minutes of his testimony Means said that Federal, State and county investigators had "balled up the entire case because of jealousy and desire for publicity."

This was during questioning by his attorney, J. William Tomlinson, in answer to questions designed to show why Means had not sought any aid in his amazing investigations. He declared that he wanted full credit for solving the case and returning the child.

He was asked why he did not allow Mrs. McLean to consult her lawyers.

"When the child was returned," he said, "the headlines would read 'this lawyer solves the case.'"

SENATE PUTS TAX BACK ON CONSUMER

(Associated Press.)

After turning down more than a dozen amendments, including proposals for higher tariffs against depreciated currency countries and for decentralization of wealth through confiscatory taxation, the Senate yesterday passed the $166,000,000 gasoline-electricity tax bill and returned it to the House for action on revisions.

Passed without a record vote after two days of debate, the measure changes the House provision transferring the present 3 per cent electricity tax from the consumer to the producer by dividing it so that a 2 per cent levy would be paid by producers of commercial and household energy and a 1 per cent tax by industrial users.

Other provisions continue the Federal 1-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax another year beyond July 1, reduce drop letter postage from 3 to 2 cents, and authorize the President to change other postal charges up or down as he sees fit.

The gasoline levy is expected to raise $137,000,000 and the electricity tax about $31,000,000. The reduction in local first class mail rates is designed to increase mail volume and thereby hold up present revenues.

Among the batch of amendments rejected was that of Senator Long (Democrat), Louisiana, to decentralize wealth by imposing 100 per cent taxes on incomes over $1,000,000 and inheritances and gifts over $5,000,000.

Submerged Coupe Yields Girl's Body

Clarksburg, W. Va., May 12.—The body of Mary Polis Oliver, 25, one of the victims of a quadruple drowning in Elk Creek here early this morning, was recovered this afternoon when searchers found the coupe in which she and three others plunged to death in the flooded stream after the car skidded off a road. The body was found inside the car.

Watched by a crowd of several thousands, which had hampered the work, firemen, police and volunteers continued dragging the stream in a search for the bodies of another victim, Stephen Pintas, 40, Barrackville barber, driver of the car. Mrs. Louise Polis, 18, of Fairmont, was in the car, but fell out when it rolled into the stream and escaped harm.

Mrs. Oliver was the estranged wife of Salvatore Oliver, of Fairmont. She leaves a daughter, Rosalee, 9.

U. S. Agent to View Treasure Rivalry

Norfolk, Va., May 2 (A.P.).—Assistant District Attorney W. P. Boshmer said today differences between rival parties engaged in efforts to recover treasure from the sunken steamer Merida, off the Virginia Capes, had been referred to a special agent of the Department of Justice for investigation.

He said he did not have sufficient information to enable him to say whether any Federal action would be taken.

The matter was brought to the attention of Federal authorities by Capt. John Hall and Klass Everts, who contend their efforts to salvage the Merida were interrupted Monday by the action of the H. L. Bowdoin expedition in cutting off the anchor of their trawler. Nothing has been since heard here from the Bowdoin expedition aboard the tug Salvor.

JAPANESE TROOPS NEARING PEIPING

City Within 50 Miles of North China Capital Is Captured.

(Associated Press.)

The Japanese drive in north China, latest advices indicate, has taken them to within less than 50 miles of Peiping.

Reports to the Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun from Shanhaikwan, Chinese coastal city at the eastern end of the Great Wall, claim the capture of Shihhsiachen, 50 miles northeast of the north China capital, with the invaders in hot pursuit of the defenders toward Miyun, 10 miles beyond.

Meanwhile Chinese reports recount the arrival at Tangku, at the mouth of the Pai River, 35 miles east of Tientsin, of a Japanese airplane carrier, six of whose pilots engaged in a reconnoitering expedition.

Crossing of the Lwan River, marking the western boundary of the triangular area in the north China coastal region, Japan desires to keep clear as a buffer state for Jehol Province, was recounted also in the reports to Asahi Shimbun.

Leader Held in Theft Of Romney Band Fund

Romney, W. Va., May 12.—R. W. Nethkin, bandmaster with Romney Concert Band, is being held for circuit court here, charged with embezzlement of the band fund. He was given preliminary hearing in Keyser, W. Va., where he was arrested, and ordered held.

Hungry Burglars Still Hungry.

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—The burglars were hungry when they broke into Paul Biederman's meat market today. They were also hungry when they left. The meat they stole from show windows happened to be wax models.

DRY VIRGINIANS HOPE FOR REPEAL DEFEAT

Richmond, Va., May 2 (A.P.).—Virginia today was marked officially as a fighting sector in a militant dry campaign against repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and for retention of State prohibition and enforcement laws.

The State prohibition forces meeting here set themselves squarely against repeal, intoxicating beer and any machinery operating in that direction, and drew up a plan of vigorous combat in defense of their cause. The plan was broad enough to defend existing prohibition, both national and State, and at the same time project a strictly State drive in the event the proposed twenty-first amendment is ratified and State option becomes available.

Working hand in hand with the national prohibition emergency committee, the two-day conference ending here today adjourned to spread the organization of the Virginia Emergency Prohibition Committee in every precinct, in every county and every city in the State.

The movement plan adopted by the conference contemplated the use of churches, prohibition, temperance and welfare organizations and individuals in a Statewide counter attack on wet forces promoting sentiment for repeal of both the eighteenth amendment and State enforcement laws.

Testimonial Given Hood College Head

Frederick, Md., May 12.—Educators from half a dozen States and the District of Columbia joined representatives of churches and civic and business organizations today in commemorating the fortieth anniversary of Dr. Joseph H. Apple's presidency of Hood College. The ceremonies concluded tonight with a reception and dinner in Coblentz Hall attended by approximately 400 persons.

The afternoon celebration, planned to be held on the campus, but changed to Brodbeck and Alumnae Halls on account of weather conditions, were presided over by the Rev. Dr. G. Ellis Williams, pastor of Calvary M. E. Church and chairman of the committee arranging the event.

JAMESTOWN AGAIN OBSERVES FOUNDING

Several Organizations Join in Celebration After 326 Years Since Landing.

Williamsburg, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Jamestown, where 326 years ago the first permanent English settlement on American soil was established, tomorrow will once again observe its anniversary date.

The day has been designated as "Jamestown Day" by proclamation by Gov. Pollard. The exercises here will be under the auspices of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, with other groups and organizations joining in the observance.

The day's observance will start with a service in the ancient church, beginning at noon, with the Rev. Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, of Bruton Parish Church, conducting, assisted by the Rev. Dr. W. C. James, pastor of the Williamsburg Baptist Church.

Music will be furnished by a choir of 16 voices from the College of William and Mary, led by Prof. G. M. Small, of the Williamsburg Department of Music.

According to the custom which has been observed for the past 38 years, the A. P. V. A. will throw open the gates to Jamestown, permitting the public to enter the historic grounds free of charge for the anniversary day.

Joining in the observance will be the Young People's Service Leagu of Virginia, a branch of the Young People's Fellowship of the Province of Washington, which will hold its conference at Jamestown following the memorial services. Ashton Dovell, member of the Virginia House of Delegates, will address the young people's gathering on "The Revolt of Youth."

A program of choir music by the Eastern Virginia Singers and a festival chorus of the College of William and Mary will be held during the afternoon, followed by a group of old English country dances to be given to conclude the day's program.

Joining in arranging for the day's celebration were Mrs. Granville G. Valentine, of Richmond, of the A. P. V. A.; G. M. Small and Miss Margaret Wynne-Roberts, of William and Mary; Vernon Geddy, of the Williamsburg Holding Corporation; Robert Storrs, of the Young People's Service League; William M. Robinson, and B. Floyd Flickenger, of the Colonial National Monument, and Miss Elle- M. Bagby, of the Jamestown committee.

V. P. I. WILL HOLD NURSES' INSTITUTE

Five-Day Course in Various Phases of Community Health Planned.

Blacksburg, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Courses in home nursing, maternity and infant care, personal hygiene and community health will be offered in a five-day school to be known as "the doctors' helpers' institute," which is to be held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute June 19 to 23, it was announced here today.

The institute is under the direction of Dr. B. B. Bagby, director of the Bureau of Child Health of the State Department of Health.

Dr. C. R. Woolwine, health officer at V. P. I., is to lecture on communicable disease control, and may give lectures on other subjects during the course.

Miss Janet Cameron, food and nutrition specialist of the Virginia agricultural extension division, will lecture on preparation of food, and Miss Mary B. Settle, home improvement specialist of the Virginia agricultural extension division, will lecture and demonstrate sanitation in the sickroom.

Miss Maude E. Wallace, State home demonstration agent, is assisting in the preparation of the program.

This will be the ninth annual institute for doctors' helpers. It is offered by the State Department of Health to assist Virginia women in caring for the sick in their own or neighbor's home. The instruction is free and other costs are placed at a minimum.

The course is one of thirteen which will be held at V. P. I. this summer. During the same time, the annual rally of future farmers of Virginia will be held on the campus. Contests in crop and live-stock judging, public speaking and athletics will be held, along with the usual business meeting of the organization, which was founded at V. P. I. nine years ago and has since grown into a national organization.

Boy Uses Cowboy Rope To Hang Self in Tree

Oklahoma City, May 12 (A.P.).—Hanged accidentally by the "cowboy rope" he had made from a clothesline, 5-year-old Jimmy Sloan was found dead in his back yard here this afternoon.

Culpeper High Sets Graduation Record

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., May 12.—The largest graduating class in the history of Culpeper High School seems assured this year with 42 candidates for diplomas out of a senior class of 48 members. The largest graduating class in the past was in 1929 when 36 diplomas were awarded.

The commencement exercises will be held in the high school auditorium May 28, 30 and 31. Bishop F. D. Goodwin, Episcopal, bishop coadjuter of Virginia, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on May 28. The Rev. Kensey Johns Hammond, of St. Stephen's Church, Culpeper, will introduce the bishop to the class.

The graduation exercises will be held on May 31, following the presentation of the senior play May 30. Dr. H. C. Krebs, of William and Mary College, will make the address to the class, with the honor students, Leon Seigneur and Miss Betty Willis, giving the valedictory and the salutatory, respectively. Prof. T. W. Hendrick, superintendent of schools of Culpeper County, will present the diplomas to the successful candidates.

Special Discipline Refused for Camp

Harrisonburg, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Judge Philip Williams, of the Circuit Court of Shenandoah County, sitting today at Woodstock, refused an application for the appointment of special officers to enforce discipline at Camp Roosevelt, the civilian conservation corps first camp located in Shenandoah Valley County.

There are 200 recruits from Washington in this camp, the first established under the reforestation program.

Judge Williams advised the applicants they should take the matter up with the Federal Government. No reports of overt acts had been made by officers of the camp or of the county but today's application was regarded as a precautionary move. It was designed to clothe some of those now in authority at Camp Alson with State police powers.

California Starts Drive For Further Gas Slash

San Francisco, May 12 (A.P.).—Confident of bringing swift reductions in gas rates to nearly 90 per cent of the consumers in California, the State Railroad Commission announced today it will push its lower rates drive immediately against three companies.

The Southern California Gas Co., the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. and the San Joaquin Light & Power Corporation are objects of the attack, which received impetus this week when the United States Supreme Court affirmed reductions previously ordered by the commission in rates of the Los Angeles Gas & Electric Co.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

REPRESENTATIVE LOUIS LUDLOW, of Indiana, a good Democrat and thoroughly in sympathy with President Roosevelt's economic retrenchments in Government administration, nevertheless went on the warpath in the proposed abolishing of the Radio Commission press service.

"'Economy did it,' says some some," Representative Ludlow declared addressing the House. "Well, if that is the answer, I can only say that some very strange acts are performed in the name of economy. I am committed to the strictest economy, to cutting out useless agencies by the roots and to the wholesale consolidation of agencies that overlap and waste money, but I can think of a thousand agencies that should be removed from the structure of Government before the press service of the Radio Commission should be touched, if you ask my idea of the order of priority."

Designated as "Radio Commission Press Service," it sounds as if it were a large organization, but really is a one-man band, Frank Wisner.

"Every hour of the day and night Mr. Wisner has been at the service of the Washington correspondents. His exhaustive knowledge of radio has enabled him to answer all questions in terms of understandable English, short of technical obfuscations," Mr. Ludlow, who was formerly a Washington correspondent, continued.

"It is not entirely the loss of Mr. Wisner, much as they esteem him, but it is the loss of this highly specialized service. That is the real tragedy. Every Washigton newspaper correspondent knows of numerous department and bureau press services that probably could be abolished and economies could thus be effected without injury to the public service, and they do not understand why those bureaus should be spared and the one that many believe is the most important and useful of all should be sacrificed on the altar of economy. It is not common sense, that's all."

Representative Ludlow, whose remarks were greted by applause, then read a petition for the return of Mr. Wisner signed by George Holmes, manager of the Washington bureau of the International News Service; Raymond Clapper, head of the local United Press bureau; Kenenth Clark, head of the Universal Service here, and nearly 100 leading correspondents, including George Durno, president of the White House Correspondents Association; Raymond P. Brandt, president of the National Press Club; Charles G. Ross, president of the Gridiron Club; Theodore Alford, Kansas City Star; Theodore C. Wallen, New York Herald Tribune; Martin Codel, editor Broadcasting Magazine; Sol Taishoff, Consolidated Press; George Manning, General Press Association; James P. Hornaday, Indanapolis News; Harry G. Gauss, Chicago Daily News; Fred W. Perkins, Washington Daily News; Russell Kent, Birmingham News; Paul Wooton, New Orleans Times Picayune, and scores of others, all of whom, Mr. Ludlow said, are very much concerned over the proposed abolishment of the Radio Commission press service.

THE usual procedure was reversed at the dinner of the American Association of Advertising Agencies. Speaker Rainey, who was to have been heard in person, came in via the loud-speaker from Pittsburgh, his plane having been grounded by storms.

John Charles Thomas, Countess Olga Albani and the Revellers, usually heard over the air, were there in person. So was C. F. Gannon, former Washingtonian, now high up in the New York advertising world, and chairman of the A. A. A. A. radio committee.

"Did you ever notice at a dinner that people always talk a lot during the soup and earlier courses," observed Frank G. Taylor, advertising manager of Broadcasting Magazine, who was among the guests at the A. A. A. A.'s dinner, "but when the meat course comes on everybody gets quiet?"

The dinner, arranged by 3,000 friends of Postmaster General Farley, will be held in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore, in New York, tonight. The broadcast will begin at 9 o'clock over WMAL and 9:15 over WJSV.

PROF. RAYMOND MOLEY announces as the topic of his forthcoming articles, "The State of the Nation." Merle Thorpe beat him to it over the radio. Mr. Thorpe has been using "The State of the Nation" designation for his broadcasts for the past two months.

George Wood Bacon will talk on "The Process of Getting Taxes Reduced," when he is heard as speaker on the American Taxpayers League program over WMAL at 6 p. m.

Commencement exercises of the three United States service schools, at Annapolis, West Point and New London, will be broadcast within the next few weeks.

The first of the graduation ceremonies will be at the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., on Thursday, May 18; the second at the Naval Academy on June 1, and the third at West Point on June 13.

The Thornapple Street News explains the failure of Donn Tucker, its sports editor, to appear as scheduled over WJSV last week, as follows:

"Donn Tucker was supposed to talk over the radio Tuesday, but he said he always gets a pain in his stomach when he broadcasts, and he got a specially big pain."

A COMPLETE description of the running of the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico will be heard over WJSV at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon and WMAL at 5 o'clock.

Ted Husing and Thomas Bryan George will share the microphone for WJSV and Clem McCarthy and John Wilbrun for WMAL.

The Washington Juvenile Artists Club begins a series of broadcasts over WJSV at 10:30 o'clock this morning. This group, made up of Washington youngsters, will be heard each Saturday at the same hour. Miss Frieda Simo is director of the organization.

The opening program will be participated in by the following: Leslie Byrun, Rose and Dorothy Cohen, Cookie Giovannoni (recitation), Alice and Warren Merrill, Edgar Robey, Adele Van Hubal, Edward Chamberlain.

"A man should dress within his means," remarked Ann Butler, entertainer. "Well, if I did," retorted her partner, Chic Harrison, "I'd have to join a nudist colony."

Miss Sibyl Baker, supervisor of playgrounds of the District of Columbia, will speak on "Organized Recreation" over WJSV today at 6:30 p. m.

ANNE HARD has left the air for an early spring vacation and will not be heard Monday morning. Mrs. Hard has made many friends with her talks who will no doubt wish her a speedy return to the microphone.

Commemorating the birthday of Sir Arthur Sullivan, of Gilbert and Sullivan fame, "The Gondoliers," a comic opera, in two acts, will be performed by an outstanding cast of soloists during the broadcast of Gilbert and Sullivan Gems over WMAL at 8 p. m.

H. V. Kaltenborn, news commentator, will sail for England on Saturday, May 27, where he will report the progress of the World Economic Conference in a series of broadcasts from London.

The Portland Oregon Junior Symphony, an orchestra of more than [illegible] years of age, will be heard tonight over WJSV at 10:00.

Harry Cykman, 10-year-old San Francisco violinist, a protege of Efrem Zimbalist, will be heard as soloist.

INSTEAD of Greek meeting Greek it may be a case of two Greeks meeting a couple of other Greeks when George E. Durno and Martin Codel, Washington newspapermen, interview Col. M. H. McIntyre and Stephen T. Early, former Washington newspapermen, who are now working for a living, i. e., Presidential secretaries. This interview will take place over an N. B. C. network next Monday night and should be good.

No doubt "Mac" and "Steve" (as President Roosevelt calls them) will hand the interviewers cigars and pull the old one, "Yes, I was once a newspaperman myself." It being on the radio, however, they can't use the grand old alibi resorted to by so many in public life that they were misquoted.

We suppose having Charley Benter and the Navy Band standing by during the interview is in case the boys decide to sing.

Arkansas Society Meets Tonight.

The Arkansas State Society will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Broadmoor Apartments. The Kilowatt Glee Club of the Potomac Electric Power Co. will present a musical program.

A New Yorker at Large

By MARK BARRON.

New York—Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff:

Red-haired, tough-looking Burgess Meredith is being hailed by the critics for his violent and startling performance as an incorrigible convict in a prison play.

What makes it especially interesting is the fact that several weeks ago Meredith was quietly playing the roles of Duck, the Dormouse, and Tweedledee in a production of "Alice in Wonderland."

What! No Jungle?

Irene Purcell has a new leopard skin coat which she says she'll never dare to wear on Forty-second street. She fears some of the boys in the shooting galleries along there may think they are in the jungle and take a shot at her.

Libby Holman is being seen around town again. I ran into her backstage in Tallulah Bankhead's dressing room the other night, and the next afternoon she was strolling, unrecognized, along Fifty-seventh street.

The city of Worcester, Mass., just about seems to have control of New York. Mayor O'Brien, Police Commissioner Dolan and Sheriff Higgins all hail from there.

A rural and somehow out-of-place sight occurs around Central Park every morning when several wagon loads of hay arrive at the stables nearby. It might be a good idea to hire one some night for an old-fashioned hay ride up Fifth avenue.

Nary a Quip.

Now here will be some scientillating conversation, I thought as I approached a huddle of five feminine wits on the pier of the Mayfair Yacht Club. But, instead, Mary Boland, Anna May Wong, Constance Collier, Marion Supportas and Teddy de Bernard were merely arguing about the price of shoes. I gloomily returned to my kippers and toast in a corner.

Robert Edmond Jones has chosen Natalie Hall to star in his production of "The Merry Widow" at Central City, Colo., this summer.

These Hall girls—Natalie and Bettina—have come along fast since they left their Massachusetts home for Broadway a few years ago. Both are beautiful, and rank high as donnas.

Natalie isn't married, but Bettina is. During her spare time the latter operates a hardware store on Staten Island. She also collects her friends' old silk hosiery from which she weaves rag rugs.

Motto on a bookmaker's card: "Don't delay; Start today; Win a parlay; Don't be skeptical." He should add E. Phocian Howard's famous preachment: "All hoss players must die broke."

SENATORS TO SEEK ANTI-ALLEY ACTION

Subcommittee Is Named to Obtain Progress Upon Capper Measure.

A subcommittee study looking to action Tuesday on the Capper bill to eliminate alley dwellings in the District, was ordered yesterday by the Senate District Committee.

The study was ordered following extensive hearings on the Capper proposal to abolish all alley homes in Washington by 1943 through condemnation, replatting and sale of the property.

It followed testimony by Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, author of the project, that Washington has 180 inhabited alleys and 6,000 alley dwellers.

Capper and Austin Named.

Chairman William H. King, of the Senate District Committee, named Senator Arthur Capper (Republican), Kansas, former chairman of the Senate District Committee, and Senator Warren Austin (Republican), Vermont, to the subcommittee.

Senator Austin and Senator Capper will confer with Corporation Counsel W. W. Bride and Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and public parks, on suggested changes in the bill.

Mrs. Hopkins told the committee yesterday there has been little improvement in Washington alley conditions in the last 20 years. She said surveys have shown the alley death rate to be 50 per cent greater than for the rest of the population.

Brick Walls Obstacle.

Asked why the Commissioners have not under their present authority cleared up the alley situation, Corporation Counsel Bride said the present law permits them to condemn a building only when it is 50 per cent deteriorated, and that most of the alley structures, constructed of brick, do not show this depreciation. He also pointed out the lack of an adequate corps of inspectors.

Other witness testifying to the need of improvement in alley conditions included Col. Grant, Mrs. Ernest Grant, of the Washington Tuberculosis Association, and Miss Gertrude Bowling, of the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society.

Navy Academy Hit By Economy Wave

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 12.—The naval economy wave has made its first sweep into civilian personnel of the Naval Academy, it was learned today, and it is reported that upward of twenty persons holding clerical positions in each of the various departments will lose their jobs after June 1.

Officials of the Academy, acting under directions of the Navy Department, are handling the situation in quiet manner, but it is understood that the policy adopted is to reduce operations of each department by at least $2,500 annually. In some instances, it is said that chief clerks and others in positions who have been on the rolls for many years, will not be let out.

The names of those to be affected by the slash have not been revealed through official channels, but it was said that notices were sent out today. It also is reported that today's slash is but a leader to further cuts that are to be made in the course of the summer.

Expatriates Flock Back Because Dollar Declines

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 12.—Crossing on what is believed to be the last transatlantic voyage of the United States liner Lewiathan, pride of the United States Merchant Marine, Frank W. Cannaday, mining executive, of 800 Madison street northwest, Washington; F. Leon Trejo and C. Paso, aeronautical engineers of the Spanish Embassy, Washington, and Mrs. George Gordon, of the State Department, returned here tonight.

Due to tremendous operating costs and slack season the United States Lines have received permission from the United States Shipping Board to cancel the remainder of scheduled sailings. Passengers remarked to Post correspondent on large exodus home of American tourists who had been living in and around Paris because of cheap living costs but who now are returning due to decline of the value of the dollar.

Unaddressed Post Card Delivered to Right Man

Willows, Calif., May 12 (A.P.).—This one has local postal officials mystified. John Knight, Berkeley turkey buyer, forgot to address a postal card which he sent to his father, J. L. Knight, local insurance man, but nevertheless the card was promptly delivered here 150 miles away. No names were mentioned in the message.

Postal clerks here, after some study, recognized John Knight's handwriting, but are puzzled as to how the card was sent to Willows.

D. A. R. of Martinsburg Headed by Mrs. Brown

Martinsburg, W. Va., May 12.—Mrs. Howard K. Brown was elected regent of Shenandoah Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at a meeting here yesterday.

Other officers elected included: Vice regent, Mrs. A. B. Eagle; recording secretary, Mrs. Ira E. Eyler, jr.; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Darby; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. A. Harrison; registrar, Mrs. W. H. Spillman; chaplain, Mrs. J. W. Brown; historian, Mrs. E. M. Sites. The board of managers selected is composed of Mrs. G. B. Geyer, Mrs. H. F. Smith and Mrs. G. J. E. Sponseller.

La Plata Bank Given Permission to Resume

Richmond, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond today announced that a license to begin business May 15 has been granted to the Southern Maryland National Bank in La Plata, Md.

This reopening brings Fifth Federal Reserve District number of open member banks to 297. The bank reported 87 still closed. Virginia has 139 member banks and 18 closed.

Programs and News of National Capital Churches

Dr. Gavin Will Begin Cathedral Oxford Centenary.

In commemoration of the centenary of the Oxford movement in the Church of England, which had its origin in 1833, a series of special sermons and lectures to be held at Washington Cathedral and in its College of Preachers will open tomorrow, when the Rev. Frank Gavin, of the General Theological Seminary in New York, will preach in the great choir at the 4 p. m. service. Dr. Gavin will explain the significance of the famous "Assize Sermon" delivered by Kebls at the University of Oxford a century ago this coming July.

The Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Brooklyn, will preach on "The Oxford Movement and Protestantism" in St. Alban's Parish Church Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Beginning Monday and extending through Saturday, special lectures will be held for the clergy at the College of Preachers, in accordance with a program announced by the warden, the Right Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander. Noted clergymen representing the principal theological seminaries in the Episcopal Church will deal with different aspects of the Oxford movement, and there will be several lay speakers, including Dr. Ralph Adams Cram, of Boston, and Clinton Rogers Woodruff, of Philadelphia.

The preacher at the 10:30 a. m. service tomorrow in the great choir of the Cathedral will be the Very Rev. Frederick C. Grant, dean of the Western Theological Seminary in Chicago.

Covenant-First to Install Deacons and Trustees Tomorrow.

Communion will be celebrated at the Covenant-First Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning, Dr. McCartney officiating.

The new class of elders, deacons and trustees of the church will be installed after communion. The new elders to be ordained are C. C. Haig, James S. Holmes, William C. Ingleton, sr., Otis B. Johnson, Herbert W. Smith, J. R. Van Fossen and Justice J. A. Van Orsdel. Deacons, Mrs. John Stalker and Sol Arnold, John H. Collier, A. A. Kahler, John A. Russell and Dr. Charles Thom. The trustees are Dr. Howard A. Edson, Otis B. Johnson and Edward C. Potter.

The Men's Society of the church and their ladies, as well as the officers of the church, will give an informal reception to Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, of the Central Union Mission, Monday night in the church chapel.

The Society of the Covenant will meet Wednesday at 11 o'clock in the church chapel. Dr. William P. Shriver and the Rev. Arthur H. Limouze will address the meeting.

"The Motherliness of God" Sermon in Pilgrim Church.

The Rev. Andrew Reid Bird, minister of the Church of the Pilgrims, will preach on "The Motherliness of God" at the 11 a. m. service tomorrow, and at 7:45 p. m. he will discuss "The Ideal Family."

At the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary on Monday at 8 p. m. the speaker will be Miss Elizabeth Gordon, of Campo Bello, Brazil, who is a missionary maintained in the foreign field by the Potomac Presbyterial. The public is invited. The men of the church will hold a special meeting Monday at 8 p. m. to consider the recently published Laymen's Appraisal Report of Foreign Missions.

The Presbytery of the Potomac will hold an adjourned meeting Tuesday, May 16, at 3 p. m., in the chapel of the Church of the Pilgrims. Thursday at 7:45 p. m. Dr. Bird will continue his series of lectures on "Messages of Books of the Old Testament for the Christian of Today," his special topic being "The Book of Judges."

National Christian Choir To Give Radio Program.

The National City Christian Church Choir of 50 voices, under the direction of W. E. Braithwaite, will give the fourth program Monday evening at 8:30 over Station WRC in the series of broadcasts of church choirs being sponsored by the Griffith-Consumers Co.

The soloists will be Mrs. Ellen Shreve, soprano; Mrs. Helen Turley, contralto; W. E. Braithwaite, tenor, and J. Horace Smithy, bass. An interesting program of solo and choral numbers has been planned.

Dr. Bohanan to Preach In Rock Creek Church.

The services tomorrow at Rock Creek Episcopal Church, Rock Creek Church road and Webster street, include celebration of Holy Communion at 8:30 a. m. and morning prayer at 11 o'clock, with sermon by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Franklin J. Bohanan. A dinner prepared and serviced entirely by the members will be offered by the Men's Club in the parish house on Monday from 5 to 7:30 p. m.

The candidates of the Girls Friendly Society will present their spring operetta and entertainment in the parish auditorium at 8 p. m. on Friday. The principals of the cast include Dorothy Hoke, Nellie Lamb, Jean Larkin, Betty Jane Seib, Betty Lou Wayson and Eleanor Wheeler.

The Very Rev. Charles Smith Lewis, of Albany, N. Y., will be the speaker at the meeting of the Church School Institute of the Diocese of Washington, to be held in Rock Creek parish auditorium on May 22, beginning with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Holy Comforter Chapel, Rock Creek Parish, 3714 Georgia avenue, the Rev. William L. Mayo, minister in charge, will hold celebrations of Holy Communion tomorrow at 7:30 and 11 a. m. Evening prayer at 7 o'clock.

"Courageous Womanhood" Topic At Sixth Presbyterian.

Tomorrow morning at the Sixth Presbyterian Church special observance will be given Mother's Day.

The pastor, the Rev. Godfrey Chobot, will speak on "Courageous Womanhood," and the Washington Centennial Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will attend this service.

The Christian Endeavor Society will meet in the chapel, the leader being Helen Dunbar. Thursday evening in the dining room of the chapel the Ladies Aid Society will serve a dinner at 6 o'clock.

Torah of Thy Mother Sermon at Hamline M. E.

The choir of Hamline Methodist Episcopal Church, John H. Marville, director, will give its annual spring concert at the church, Sixteenth and Allison streets northwest, on Wednesday, May 24, at 8:30 p. m. "The Deluge" and "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" will be rendered by a chorus of 50 voices, with solo quartet, and orchestral accompaniment.

Tomorrow is Mother's Day at Hamline Church. At 11 a. m. the minister, Rev. Dr. H. W. Burgan, will preach on, "The Torah of Thy Mother," and at 8 p. m. on the "Motherliness of God."

God, Mother of Universe, Vividishananda Sermon.

The Vedanta Society, located at 1712 N street northwest, will hold its services tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Swami Vividishananda, of India, the leader, will speak on "The Motherhood of God," discussing the Hindu idea of God as the Mother of the Universe.

He will conduct the usual classes on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock in the study of the Gita and Yoga aphorisms.

New Lecture Series Offered by Dr. Gyanee.

Dr. Bhagwan Gyanee, the noted Indian humanologist, whose recent lecture course at the Burlington Hotel attracted wide attention, has been persuaded to offer another series of free lectures at the Arlington Hotel, 1025 Vermont avenue northwest. The new series starts this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Dr. Gyanee will speak on "The Destiny of Mankind," explaining the constructive use of human intelligence. Tonight at 8 o'clock he will offer an outline of the principles of humanology.

Tomorrow at 3 p. m. he will give his explanation of "Why Atheism Is Spreading." Monday at 8 p. m. he will speak on "The Conflict Between Technique and Culture," and on Tuesday at 8 p. m. on "The Powers and Possibilities of the Pineal Gland." His subject Wednesday night will be "What Evolution Has Done to the Chemical Elements." Dr. Gyanee will conclude this series on Thursday night with an explanation of his theory of "The Inner Mysteries of Digestion."

Dr. Sizoo Will Preach On the "Mother of Jesus."

Tomorrow morning at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo will have for the subject of his sermon, "That I May See." Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Sizoo will conduct a service in recognition of Mother's Day, when his subject will be "The Mother of Jesus."

Miss Christine Herrmann will be the hostess at the tea of the Christian Endeavor Society tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. Following the tea hour the discussion of the theme, "Overcoming Problems in the Home," will be led by Miss Bernice Coate.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Joseph R. Sizoo will be hostess to the members of the Wednesday Morning Guild and their husbands at a supper meeting. Dr. Sargeant will give an illustrated lecture on Alaska.

The Rev. Mr. Wills to Sever From Epiphany Church.

At the Church of the Epiphany the services for tomorrow will be as follows: Holy Communion, 8 a. m.; church school, 9:30; morning prayer and sermon by the rector at 11. The special theme of the sermon at this service will be consonant with the celebration of Mother's Day and special music will be rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. Torovsky.

The Rev. Mr. Wills will be the special preacher at the Sunday evening service, as this is the last service at which Mr. Wills will be present as assistant rector. Mr. Wills will become rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Brookland, Monday, thus severing his connection with the Church of the Epiphany.

Old Time Song Service At Church of Brethren.

Responding to custom, Sunday will be observed as Mother's Day at the Church of the Brethren, at Fourth street and North Carolina avenue southeast. All mothers will be honored by the wearing of white flowers by the members of the congregation.

The evening service will consist of singing the old-fashioned hymns of the church. The Sunday School classes will be represented in the service and various groups will sing special hymns. Some solos will be sung. The stereopticon will be used and the history of some of the songs will be given. The authors will be presented. On May 21 the Young People's Organization for Maryland and Delaware will hold a convention at this place.

"The Unforgotten Mother" Sermon by Dr. Stockdale.

At the First Congregational Church, Tenth and G streets northwest, the minister, Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, will preach a Mother's Day sermon at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. His subject will be "The Unforgotten Mother." In the evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Stockdale will preach on "Present-Day Jonahs."

There will be a discussion on "Evangelism for the Inner Life." The Young People's Society will meet at 6:30 in the Sunday school room. The subject for discussion is "Being a Christian at Home." John Reeves will be in charge.

A conference for officers and teachers of Congregational Church schools will be held Thursday evening in the east parlor at 6:45 o'clock.

Next Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5, an international garden party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Lane, 5327 Conduit road, for the church family and its friends.

All Souls' Unitarian School To Observe Mother's Day.

Mother's Day will be celebrated by a special service at All Souls' Church School. The junior and senior departments will meet together. At the 11 o'clock morning service the minister, Ulysses G. B. Pierce, will preach on the subject, "The Mount of Memory."

Pierce Hall Players will hold an open meeting on Monday evening. A short play will be presented and plans for the coming year discussed. On Thursday the Washington Chapter, Unitarian Laymen's League, will hold its annual ladies' night dinner. Dr. Charles Pergler, professor of international law at National University, will speak on "Whither European Democracy?" The various sewing groups and scouts will meet as usual, and the class in supervised play, under the direction of Laura Blake McCarthy, will hold its regular week-day sessions.

French Service Tomorrow Appropriate to Mother's Day.

The French service at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church will continue through the month of May, after which they will be suspended for the summer, as usual. At the service tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock Frank Liotard will deliver a sermon appropriate to Mother's Day.

Dr. Hutchinson to Deliver Mother's Day Sermons.

Mother's Day will be observed at Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church South tomorrow. The pastor, Dr. Forney Hutchinson, will occupy the pulpit. His morning subject will be "The Mother of Zebedee's Children." His evening theme will be "Some Other Mothers." The morning music is "Mother Song," by Eldridge; that for the night program, "Blessed Quietness," "My Name in Mother's Prayer" and "Before the Ending of the Day" will be offerings by the quartet, which is composed of Mrs. LaVergne Sims Fairchild, soprano; Miss Elizabeth Holder, contralto; John L. Mitchell, tenor; Arthur Tabbutt, basso, assisted by Miss Edith Gottwals, organist.

Various members of the church will entertain guests of the Home for the Aged at Gaithersburg, Md., in observance of Mother's Day. Mrs. C. G. Koonce is in charge of arrangements. The twenty-seventh anniversary of the Gospel Mission will be observed in this church May 16, 17 and 18. The principal speaker is Dr. Harry A. Ironside, pastor of Moody Memorial Church, Chicago.

"Spirit Within Wheels" Topic of Dr. Perkins.

"The Spirit Within the Wheels" is the sermon topic for the Loyalty Sunday service of Dr. F. W. Perkins tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the Universalist National Memorial Church.

On Tuesday the women to sew for the Red Cross will meet in the parish house at 10 o'clock. At noon luncheon will be served. The business meeting of the Mission Circle will be at 1:30. The Church School Association will meet on Thursday from 7 to 8 o'clock in the Romaine-Van Schaick room.

Tomorrow afternoon the Girl Scout Troop is holding a farewell party in the young people's room. At 6 o'clock the Y. P. C. U. is to have supper and the annual business meeting. At 8 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the play to be given by the Y. P. C. U.

John J. Esch Will Address Mount Pleasant Forum.

John J. Esch, former chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will address the Adult Forum of Mount Pleasant Congregational Church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. He will speak on "The Commerce Clause of the Constitution; Its Purpose and Operation."

An operetta, "Way Down South in Dixie," based on Negro songs by Stephen Foster, will be the feature of a vaudeville concert by the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church quartet and chorus Monday evening in Fishburn Hall.

The Rev. Russell J. Clinchy will speak at the morning service in the Mount Pleasant Church tomorrow on "The Most Modern Saying of Jesus."

Dr. Taylor Will Preach On Mothers in Bible.

At the Central Presbyterian Church the pastor, Dr. James H. Taylor, will preach Sunday morning on "Great Mothers in the Bible" and at night on "The Witness of the Prophet Joel."

The church has secured the services of F. V. Poag, a student at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., to assist in the work of the church during June, July and August. He will assist in the Daily Vacation Bible School, in the work of the Sunday School and in the pastoral work of the church.

Full Gospel Tabernacle To Observe Mother's Day.

At the Full Gospel Tabernacle, North Capitol and K streets, Mother's Day will be celebrated starting with the program arranged by the Sunday school tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

At the 11 a. m. service, the sermon will be on "Church Discipline." At 6 p. m. the young people will hold their service, and at 7:30 p. m. Evangelist Staats and party will conduct the final service of an interesting series at the Tabernacle. Evangelist Staats will preach on "The Unpardonable Sin." The pastor, the Rev. Harry L. Collier, will resume his regular services on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Copenhaver Will Preach Mother's Day Sermons.

The two sermons of Dr. John C. Copenhaver, pastor of Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church South, Thirteenth street and North Carolina avenue northeast, tomorrow will be appropriate for Mother's Day, and he will take as the subject of his morning sermon at 11 o'clock "The Woman Who Asked God for a Child." As guests for the morning service members of the congregation will bring to the church old folks from the church Home for the Aged in Gaithersburg, Md. "The Ideal Home" will be the subject of the evening service at 8 o'clock, the service to be conducted by Dr. Copenhaver.

Sunday school services will be held at 9:30 tomorrow morning. Services of the Young People's Department will be held at 7 o'clock, as will be the services of the Wesley Fellowship group, each service to be held in the room allotted to each organization.

Christian Science Churches

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow. The Golden Text is from Galations, iv:7: "Thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ." Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Moses was an hundred and twenty years old when he died; his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Text Book, "Science and Health, With Key to Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man in Science is neither young nor old. He has neither birth nor death. He is not a beast, a vegetable nor a migratory mind. He does not pass from matter to Mind, from the mortal to the immortal, from evil to good, or from good to evil.

"Such admissions cast us headlong into darkness and dogma. Even Shakespeare's poetry pictures age as infancy, as helplessness and decadence, instead of assigning to man the everlasting grandeur and immortality of development, power and prestige." (Page 244.)

Stocks' Advance Checked By Profit-Taking Onslaught

Market Three-Tenths Down on Lighter Sale of 4,612,310 Shares.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Stocks and several commodities ran into heavy profit-taking today, but in no market were the net casualties severe and trading was generally lighter.

Final changes in most directions were small; for stocks the closing average of 90 issues was fractionally lower. Beer and alcohol equities, together with a sprinkling of other favorites, enjoyed measurable prosperity, but old line industrials, as a rule, were a trifle heavy. Sales totaled 4,612,310 shares.

U. S. Steel, American Can, General Electric, Allied Chemical, Consolidated Gas, North American, American Tobacco "B," Union Pacific, United Aircraft, National Biscuit, Industrial Rayon and General Foods reacted fractions to something more than a point. Copper also eased, despite a 7-cent domestic quotation for the metal. The "wet" group was strongly represented by Owens-Illinois, National Distillers, Crown Cork and Liquid Carbonic which closed about 4 points higher. Sears Roebuck, American Woolen, New York Air Brake and shares of a number of less prominent manufacturing concerns strengthened 2 or so.

American Telephone was actively traded, selling up 3 points before meeting such resistance. Wall street's forecasts of next week's dividend action by that company are divided, some feeling that current business improvement will be taken into account by the directors. The ratio of telephone losses is understood to be declining. Western Union was stimulated by word that it had made money in April. Otherwise, utilities did little, nor were rails much changed.

The Presidential signature on the farm-inflation bill seemed to have been well discounted in foreign exchange circles, for the dollar rallied moderately. On the whole, markets got little direct impetus from the day's news, which included word that America's tariff truce proposal had been accepted by leading world powers.

The Markets

What the Stock Market Did

	Fri.	Thur.
Advances	393	671
Declines	320	80
Unchanged	157	125
Total issues	870	876

Stocks.

Heavy profit-taking checked stocks' advance and the list closed three-tenths of a point down. Lighter trading followed and sales totaled 4,612,310 shares.

Bonds.

Firmness in high-grade bonds was a market feature. The list gained three-tenths of a point. Sales declined to $17,981,000.

Curb.

Irregularity marked early trading and after considerable profit-taking a vigorous rally enabled the list to close firm. The volume of sales mounted to 637,000 shares.

Wheat.

Corn led wheat in a climb to the highest price in two years. Wheat closed nervous at ¼ off to ¼ up. Oats joined the advance. May wheat sold at 73⅞ cents.

Cotton.

Price movements were narrowed and selling and realizing trimmed advances. The general market was up 1 to 3 points. July sold at 8.95. Liverpool reported buying.

GOODS MARKET.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Standard print cloths sold at 4½ cents a yard for June delivery today, an advance of 50 per cent from the lowest point. Additional mest demand and forestall contraction in output resulting from short hour legislation pending. Rayon yarn mills are now well sold into July with demand continuing and advances probable in the near future. Wool goods were active as to demand but sales was restricted by agents because of trade uncertainties. Burlaps were in a strong position. Linens sold well for spot equipment.

BONDS SENT HIGHER; TRADING IS LIGHTER

New York, May 10 (A.P.).—Firmness of high-grade bonds was the feature of the listed loans market today, where a number of the recent speculative favorites encountered considerable profit-taking resistance.

United States Government securities continued their steady advance, with gains ranging from one-thirty-second to twenty-thirty-seconds of a point, with interest principally centered in the low-yield treasuries.

Sales totaled $17,981,000, par value, or about $5,000,000 under yesterday's high mark for the past year and a half. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans managed to hold a gain of three-tenths of a point at 72.5, another new 1933 high.

Commodity Prices Advance From 40 to 100 Per Cent

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—Commodity prices were on a high perch today as the farm relief and currency inflation bill became a law. They had been scared upward by the plans for inflation, which President Roosevelt has said he would use to force prices to prewar averages.

Some basic commodities are already up 100 per cent from depression lows, such as hides. Silver has had almost as great a rise. Flour is up 40 per cent, wheat almost 80, corn almost 100. Hops sold in Oregon at the highest prices in 15 years.

The board of trade here, bread basket of the world, gleefully saw grains smash all high records for the season, with talk of dollar wheat based on today's top of almost 79 cents. A similar scene was enacted in the livestock yards, butcher shop of the world, with peak prices paid for hogs, steers and lambs, putting inestimable millions of dollars into the pockets of the farmers, backbone of the Nation.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Another active business session was experienced on the stock exchange today. Industrials, oil shares and rubber stocks improved, while gilt-edged securities declined again. German bonds were weak on Geneva reports and transatlantic issues following opening of Wall street market were irregular, owing to profit taking. The closing was steady.

Paris—The tone of the bourse was uncertain owing to the conflicting influences of the boom market in Wall street and the Geneva disarmament difficulties. Quotations tended lower owing to the reduction of holdings by traders. The market closed unsettled.

CURB STAGES RALLY AFTER PROFIT DRIVE

Prices waxed and waned intermittently and heavy profit-taking was in evidence at times. The volume amounted to 637,000 shares, slightly exceeding yesterday's 623,000.

Isolated weak spots among the industrials appeared in Aluminum Co., which dropped back 2 points and Deere & Co. off nearly a point in light trading.

Final Meeting Set By Railroad Credit

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—The final meeting of the Railroad Credit Corporation will be held May 26, it was announced today by E. G. Buckland, president. Loans to railroads on this date will approximate $70,000,000, he said, against which the corporation will hold about twice that amount in collateral.

Tax reserves set aside by the corporation at the end of the month will total approximately $2,500,000, Buckland stated. The original amount set aside for this purpose was $4,500,000.

After June 1, 1933, the organization will become a liquidating corporation, it was explained. The corporation was set up by the railroads to aid needy carriers in meeting fixed charges. Its funds were derived from the freight surcharges granted more than a year ago by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CORN LEADS WHEAT IN NEW HIGH SHIFT

Record Price of Two Years Made by Former; Oats Join Advance.

Chicago, May 12 (A.P.).—Corn led wheat, oats and rye today to fresh high record prices, the topmost for corn in almost two years.

At the new pinnacles, wheat and corn were both up more than 5 cents since Tuesday, but late profit taking brought about setbacks. The corn belt today was reported as practically water-logged throughout the territory east of the Mississippi River, and fears were expressed that the 1933 corn crop would be one of the smallest in many years.

Corn closed nervous, ⅛ to 1⅛ above yesterday's finish; wheat, ¼ off to ¼ up; oats, showing ¼ to ½ gain, and provisions at a rise of 12 to 40 cents.

Aid to Corn Rise.

Special significance by corn traders was attached to reports showing that delay to corn this season is largely in plowing, so that the situation is much more serious than if plowing were normal and only planting was delayed.

With lowlands flooded and small streams out of banks, opportunities for plowing as well as chances for planting were considered to be at a minimum rarely paralleled.

Bill Has Little Effect.

Signing of the Roosevelt combined agriculture and inflation bill today had little effect on the grain markets, as for some time the majority of traders have been operating on assumption that the measure would become a law.

Dealings in wheat today were not as large as yesterday, and during the final hour an overbought condition for at least the time being was disclosed. Rallies, however, were in progress as the day came to an end, with spreaders buying here against sales at Winnipeg.

It was reported that France and Canada had effected an agreement whereby Canadian wheat would be admitted into France at a reduction of about 50 per cent in the tariff. Oats chiefly were governed by corn action.

COTTON PRICES RISE IN SPITE OF SELLING

July Closes at 8.95 With General Market Up 1 to 3 Points.

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Price movements in cotton were narrower today. The recent advance attracted heavy realizing and Southern selling, but the offerings were quite readily absorbed by continued trade or investment buying.

The tone was steady in the late trading. July contracts after selling off to 8.80 early, rallied to 8.98. Then broke to 8.77 and closed at 8.95. The general market closed very steady net 1 point lower to 3 points higher.

The opening was generally 2 to 8 points lower. There was some foreign selling through houses with Liverpool and continental connections and the early offerings sent prices about 10 to 15 points net lower. This was followed by a rally in which all active months made new highs.

Farm Bill Discounted.

The President's signature of the farm bill being anticipated had no effect on the market. The irregularity of fluctuations was attributed largely to technical readjustments following recent sharp advances.

Southern selling was accompanied by reports of rather freer offerings in the interior, but it was said that these were being absorbed by mill buying with the basis holding steady. There were reports of a continued active demand for cotton goods. The New York Cotton Exchange Service reported domestic mill consumption for April at 470,000 bales against 366,000 last year.

Liverpool cables said that Bombay and Manchester buying in that market had been supplied by continental selling and profit taking. Exports today, 20,078, making 5,846,955 so far this season. Port receipts, 34,867. United States port stocks, 4,095,762.

SATURDAY MAY 13, 1933 SPORTS

PITT DEFEATS NOLAN, 3 AND 2, FOR MANOR TITLE

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

Chicago, Ill., May 12.

THE growing tendency of big league ball clubs, especially in the West, to call off ball games the moment the weather man starts making faces, in order that Saturday and Sunday double-headers can be scheduled, strikes seriously at the foundation of baseball as an every-day attraction.

It is difficult to blame the men who watch over the club treasuries for their alacrity in ordering the postponement of week-day games in order that week-end bargain bills can be offered when the club can recoup its losses, especially the money losers of the league, but the effect may be far-reaching.

It is conceivable that if the custom continues, baseball may resolve itself into simply a week-end sport. The fans, now quite safe in the knowledge that double-headers will be due virtually every Saturday and Sunday, will be inclined to wait until the week-end to get their fill of baseball at bargain rates, and the clubs will find it hard sledding on the single week-day games.

Radio Broadcasting Has Effect.

Radio broadcasting of the games also has its effect on the customers. The fans may be content to get their baseball over the radio during the week and spend their money only for the week-end bargain bills, and if such a situation crystallizes, the ball clubs can not hope to escape the consequences.

Probably as much as any other single factor, the broadcasting of big league games has had a devastating effect on minor league baseball. The decline of the minors from approximately 50 organized leagues a half dozen years ago to barely 15 this season is attributed greatly to the fact that minor league fans are content to listen to the broadcasts of big league games rather than pay their money for home-town talent in the minors.

Griffith Opposed To Idea.

This department never could see the logic of broadcasting the big league games from a club owner's standpoint. The clubs have their ladies' days to capture the interest of the feminine element, and the promotion of interest in baseball by the broadcasts is seemingly offset by the number of stay-at-homes content to get their baseball over the radio.

Clark Griffith, of the Griffith Stadium Griffiths, has long been one of the stanchest opponents of radio broadcasting of the games and is leading the fight for the abolition of the broadcasts on the theory that baseball can interest its customers in other ways besides offering a word picture that will suffice a great percentage of fans who, otherwise, would pay to see the games.

Renew Lobbying For Title.

Nats, who won the lobby-sitting championship of Cleveland last week, got a fair start on the Chicago title today when rain confined them to the upholstery of their hotel.

VIRGINIA A. C. SCHEDULED.

SMALL FIELD STARTS TODAY IN PREAKNESS OVER MUDDY TRACK

Broker's Tip, Head Play Will Resume Turf Battle.

By HENRY McLEMORE.

BALTIMORE, May 12 (U.P.).—Broker's Tip—just another race horse this time a week ago—tomorrow will seek to write his name alongside those of Sir Barton, Gallant Fox and Burgoo King, the triumvirate which holds the distinction of winning both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Although victorious in Kentucky last Saturday, Broker's Tip is not expected to go to the Preakness post favorite. Tonight's betting had the Bradley colt cofavorite with Head Play, and the general opinion was that Mrs. Silas Mason's hope would be the popular choice by post time.

Both Broker's Tip and Head Play will carry strange jockeys, the two young men who waged the memorable battle down the stretch at Churchill Downs, having been set down on the street level for 30 days for rough riding.

Smith to Ride Broker's Tip.

Jimmy Smith will have a leg up on Broker's Tip, while Alfred Robertson will be in Head Play's pilot seat. These men are veterans, more interested in winning than fighting, so there is little likelihood of a repetition of the dog fight that Meade and Fisher staged as their mounts hammered toward the finish line.

Although most of the talk was of Broker's Tip and Head Play tonight, there were other candidates in the field of eleven conceded a strong chance to win. Among them was Ladysman, W. R. Coe's fragile colt and 1932's juvenile champion. Although Ladysman ran a poor fourth in the Derby, Trainer J. H. Stotler refuses to lose faith in him, and is quoted as saying that Head Play is the only horse he fears tomorrow.

Muddy Track Is Prospect.

With the skies overclouded and occasional rain, a muddy track was in prospect. In the event of a slow strip John E. Hughes' Silent Shot, noted for his ability to step along when the going is slow, is sure to be soundly backed.

The forty-third running of the Preakness, which is worth some $25,000 to the winner, is expected to be witnessed by a crowd of about 30,000. Col. E. B. Bradley, owner of Broker's Tip, will not see the race. Col. Bradley also was absent last year when his Burgoo King carried the Idle Hour Farm colors to victory.

CUBANS BEAT CANADIANS ON COURT

Take Three Straight Doubles Sets to Overcome Lead.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 12 (A.P.).—Cuba, in an underdog role, upset the favored Canadians in their doubles match in the North American zone Davis Cup series today, with Capt. Ricardo Morales, Cuban ace, showing the way to a great uphill victory, 4—6, 0—6, 6—4, 6—4, 10—8.

Teaming with Arturo Randin, fourth ranking Cuban player, the Cuban captain's net play, his placements and his powerful service were the big factor in the unexpected triumph over Dr. Jack Wright and Marcel Rainville, top ranking Canadians.

Time and again Morales rushed up to the net for kills that brought applause from the gallery, while his brilliant recoveries helped turn the tide that seemingly had set in strongly for the Canadians.

Needing only a doubles victory to clinch the series, the Canadians started out with a pace that took the first set, 6—4, and the second, 6—0. Randin, showing some nervousness under fire, was weak in his returns, enabling the Canadians to come in for points on terrific smashes close to the net.

Randin steadied in the third set, and as Morales continued his fine play, the Cubans showed a marked superiority over their Canadian rivals. Wright and Rainville were constantly hitting outside and into the net with the latter, the worst offender, perhaps.

The victory came to the Cubans after two defeats in the singles match and still left them with their backs to the wall, with Canada needing a victory in one of the singles tomorrow to take the series and win the right to meet the United States in the zone finals.

NET PLAY POSTPONED.

The annual City of Washington tennis tournament, scheduled today, has been postponed until next week because of rain and wet courts. Bill Shreve, secretary of the local tennis association, announced that entries will be received up until Friday night at the Tennis Shop.

Phillies' Two Rallies Defeat Cubs by 8 to 4

Red Sox Buy Werber and Pipgras

Only Cash Involved; Two Leave Yanks Immediately.

Former D. C. Sandlot Star in 1st Year in Majors.

DETROIT, May 12 (A.P.).—General Manager Eddie Collins and President Thomas A. Yawkey, busily engaged in building up the league-trailing Boston Red Sox, tonight announced the purchase of George Pipgras, right-handed New York Yankee pitcher, in a cash deal.

The two Boston bosses improved a rainy afternoon further by buying Bill Werber, a likely youngster, who went to the Yankees from Buffalo this season to fight for a shortstop berth, and who is a former Washington, D. C., sandlotter. No announcement was made of the cash involved in either deal.

The deal is effective immediately, and it is likely that Pipgras may find a suit to fit him in time to be on deck for the double-header with the Detroit Tigers here Sunday. His return to the Red Sox is more or less a homecoming for Pipgras, who broke into the big show with Boston in 1923 after a year with the Madison Club in the Dakota League.

Pipgras was farmed out and traded to the Yanks in 1923. He spent the years until 1927 playing in the Southern League, and started with the Yankees in the spring of that year. His first season saw him winning ten and losing three games.

In 1928 Pipgras had his best year with the Yankees, winning 24 and losing 13 contests. In 1929 he had 18 successful starts and dropped 12 games. In 1930 he broke even, winning 15 and losing the same number. His poorest year was 1931 when he was credited with only 7 victories against 6 defeats.

In 1932 Pipgras won 16 and lost 9 games. Thus far this year he has won 2 and lost 2 games.

Giants Nip Pirates, 11 to 3; Even Series

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Hal Schumacher came through with another well-pitched game today, letting the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates down with eight hits, and the Giants broke loose with a 14-hit assault that netted an 11-to-3 victory and evened the series.

TRIBE LOSES, GOES INTO 2D PLACE

A's Score Five Runs in Ninth to Crush Ferrell, 7-3.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 12 (A.P.).—The Philadelphia Athletics punched a ragged hole in the Cleveland infield and routed Wes Ferrell—both in the ninth inning—to win the first of their series here today, 7 to 3. Thus the idle Yankees coasted back into the league leadership.

Until the fateful ninth the game had been an exciting duel between Ferrell and Leroy Mahaffey and the Indians led the procession at the end of the eighth, 3 to 2.

Then the Athletics unleashed a powerful attack, two Indians erred, and the net result was five runs. More than 14,000 women, who turned out for the first ladies' day in Cleveland in 10 years, were both thrilled and disappointed.

Foxx started the explosive ninth with a single, and Cochrane walked. Higgins sacrificed and Burnett failed to cover first on the throw, permitting Foxx to score and leaving Cochrane on third and Higgins on second.

McNair tapped to Ferrell and Miller batted for Mahaffey. Miller hit to Ferrell, who touched out Cochrane on the base line, Higgins going to third. Knickerbocker then fumbled Bishop's grounder, Higgins scoring and Miller reaching third. Cramer's single scored Miller and sent Bishop to third. Johnson's single sent Ferrell to the showers, Bishop home, and Cramer to second. Connally replaced Ferrell, but the Athletics weren't finished. Coleman singled to right, scoring Cramer. Foxx, however, up for the second time in the inning, sent a fly to Vosmik.

Chisox Face Al Thomas Today

Tilt Yesterday Was Rained Out; Nats Hope for Series.

Team Hitting Well; Better Pitching Now Sought.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH
(Sports Editor The Post).

CHICAGO, Ill., May 12.—The Nats are still holding their own in the West, with four victories and four defeats on the eight-game tour thus far, but at the rate they have been winning, the Nats will still be holding their own in September while the Yankees or some other club will be holding the pennant.

The success or failure of Washington's current Western trip depends on the outcome of the remaining three games of the series here with the White Sox. Rain won the decision over both clubs today and goes into a triple tie for the honors on the Nats' Western tour with the records showing four victories each for the Nats, the West and the weather.

Anything less than a sweep of the three remaining games with the Chicago club will raise a serious doubt as to the Nats' success in its initial Western venture. Three victories and a 7-4 edge in the 11 Western battles would send the Nats home with a respectable percentage, but any other outcome against the so-called weaker West would be no pleasing commentary on Washington's pennant bid, and if perchance they lose the next three to the Chisox, well, well, well.

Weaver to Get Call Today.

Manager Joe Cronin has Al Thomas all dusted off and ready to fling at the White Sox tomorrow, and the Nats probably will be in there swinging against Ted Lyons.

The paradox of the situation in St. Louis was this: In the two games the Nats got good pitching, they couldn't win; in the two games that they received some Class ZZ hurling, they went out and got enough runs to beat the Browns. But the fact remains that Crowder and Weaver, the two guys who were so very faithful with their pitching last year, are about as effective as the Swiss fleet.

It is doubtful, too, if the Nats can depend on the Yankees to take it on the chin as frequently as Ruppert's men have taken it thus far in the West. New York figures to go down into St. Louis and clean up the series with the Browns, and it behooves Cronin's young men to extract at least two victories from the three games with the White Sox.

In Striking Distance All Week.

The Nats have been in striking distance of the lead all week, and it is only because the Yankees suffered setbacks in Cleveland and Chicago that Washington is not very far from first place. But, as I said, it is doubtful if the Yankees can be depended on to lose with such regularity.

The rest of the league has the Nats to thank for tightening up the race by taking four out of five from the Yankees in the East. The Yanks might have come West with as much as a six-game lead if the result of the New York-Washington series was reversed, and the club owners owe the Nats a deal of gratitude for preventing a runaway at the start. But their work is not yet finished by a matter of 130 games.

There are no complaints about the Nats' hitting. They suffered their second shutout of the year against George Blaeholder in St. Louis, but it is a matter of common knowledge that Blaeholder has accounted for exactly half of the Browns' eight victories.

SHOREY, NEE FALL IN MORNING ROUND BEFORE FINALISTS

Wins Tourney

HARRY PITT.

Club Champion Adds New Crown; Has 9 One-Putt Greens.

By DAVE HERMAN.

HARRY PITT, the debonair expert of the links, has discovered that hope long deferred is sweet in realization.

Pitt yesterday won his own, club golf invitation tournament, the Manor championship, where three times previously he made gallant but futile bids. The Manor "moose," who has captured virtually every invitation event in this section, defeated Parker Nolan, the long-driving Indian Spring heavyweight, by 3 and 2 in an interesting finals match that was featured by Pitt's magnificent recovery shots and his skillful putting.

Favorite from the start of the tournament Tuesday, Pitt trained his heavy artillery on diminutive John Shorey in the morning semifinal match, and exploded the Kenwood lad's hopes with a 6 and 4 victory.

Pitt Leads 3 Up At Turn.

Shorey had Pitt 1 down going to the fourth when the Moose unlimbered his golf guns, later blasted out a couple of birdies, led 3 up at the turn, and ended his opponent's misery on the fourteenth green after taking three straight holes.

Nolan, who has played in plenty of District tournaments but never reached a finals until yesterday, eliminated Maurice Nee, young Manor star, in his semifinal match, 2 and 1, shooting his way over the soggy course with a 71, even par and equaling the winning medal round of W. D. Fondren, of Augusta, Ga.

Nee, conqueror of Fondren in a record-shattering 27-hole overtime match, was 1 up crossing the road, but Nolan fired in a birdie on the eleventh, won the fourteenth, the fifteenth with a birdie, and settled the issue with a half on the seventeenth. So powerful was Nolan's play on the second nine that he burned up the course in 34 strokes, one below orthodox figures—matching his 34 scored in the qualifying round.

Play Nine Holes In Rain.

So Pitt and Nolan started out in the rain and played in the rain for nine holes before it subsided.

They halved the first in par fives, after Pitt's drive landed in grass by the trap, and Nolan had sliced through the woods into a trap on the second fairway, only to recover brilliantly. Pitt went 1 up by trundling a 15-footer smack into the cup for a birdie 3 on the third. Nolan topped his drive on the 282-yard fourth, was short with his second, and Pitt, well on in 2, won the hole with a 4.

Pitt made a great comeback to gain a half with Nolan on the fifth. He sliced his tee shot into the woods, played out safely and made a fine approach 8 feet from the pin for a 4.

They halved the sixth and seventh in par fours. Nolan's putt for a birdie skimmed by the cup on the seventh.

The champion went 3 up by winning the short eighth with a perfect pitch to within 5 feet of the pin after overdriving the green. Nolan's drive hit a tree, bounded 10 feet from the green and a bold approach proved costly.

Nolan won his first hole of the outgoing side on the ninth. Pitt hooked two shots into the rough and wound up with a 6. Nolan dubbed his second, but recovered for a par 5. Pitt hit the turn 2 up.

They halved the tenth and eleventh in fours. Pitt, trapped on his drive, exploded over the green on the

BOSTON, May 11 (A.P.).—After Wally Berger tied the score in the ninth inning with his sixth home run of the season, the Boston Braves belted Relief Pitcher "Dizzy" Dean for three hits in the eleventh today to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3.

TRAFFIC JUDGE BEATS STAR PLATERS IN PIMLICO FEATURE

Watts Horse Victor Over All Rowes

By WALTER HAIGHT
(Post Staff Correspondent).

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, May 12.—Preakness Eve brought little in the way of classy horse flesh to the post and after searching the card for something to label the feature, the majority of turf writers hopped on the fifth race—a mile and a sixteenth claiming race. As has been usual at this meeting, the track was muddy and the attendance small.

The winner of the adopted feature turned up in Traffic Judge, the property of R. P. Watts, which was at home in the going. Traffic Judge took the measure of a fairly smart group of platers and rewarded with a $13 mutuel. Jimmy Smith, who intends to ride Broker's Tip, winner of the Derby, in tomorrow's Preakness, had the mount. He brought Traffic Judge home a length and a half ahead of All Rowes which in turn had a four-length advantage over Integrity.

Monel and Foxiana set the pace at early stages, but Traffic Judge was in command entering the stretch and was coasted along. However, All Rowes, far back for most of the trip, came with a rush in the last furlong.

Lucky Light Pays

Lucky Light defeated the juveniles which contested in the opening 4-furlong dash. Bejshak rode the youngster home and there was much rejoicing among a chosen few at the $64.80 mutuel. Marge was second and Durga third. All the money horses were first-time starters. A poor ride spoiled the chances of Repeal.

The field that paraded to the post in the second race was so cheap it squeaked. The public, however, chose the right favorite in My Fergus and that one came walking home. Ridden by H. Erickson, My Fergus went to the front at the end of 5 furlongs and was never headed. Primlin was second and Trentonian third.

The Opportunity Steeplechase contested over the 2-mile journey and over thirteen obstacles resulted in a decisive triumph for Daniel Soot who performed for Mrs. F. M. Gould and was a heavily supported odds-on choice. Ridden confidently by M. Sims and making the running after taking pace from Proof Positive for three jumps the Gould starter registered his score by 20 lengths. Morte Main, making his debut over the jumping course, was able to drive into second position, while still another first-time starter in Sandbell accounted for third.

Hyattsville Defeats Kendall Trackmen

Hyattsville High School scored a 44-33 victory over Kendall School in their track meet yesterday at Kendall Green. It was the losers' first appearance on the cinderpath.

100-yard dash—Won by Watson (K.); second, Baldwin (H.); third, Cain (H.). 220-yard dash—Won by Watson (K.); second, Cain (H.); third, Baldwin (H.). 440-yard dash—Won by Curtis (K.); second, Jarboe (H.); third, Bradley (H.). 88-yard run—Won by Curtis (K.); second, Hayes (H.); third, Franklin (H.). Two-dollar mutuels paid—LUCKY LIGHT, $64.80, $26.80, $14.80; MARGE, $7.20. $4.80; DURGA, $9.00.

LUCKY LIGHT, rushed hard to stay within striking distance, came around the outside when straightened into the home stretch, interfered with REPEAL, but finished stoutly to draw clear under urging. MARGE sprinted clear soon after the break, was kept in the best footing, but swerved all during the stretch run. DURGA, strongly ridden, held on well in the final drive. HORATIO HACK lost ground at the stretch turn. REPEAL moved up strongly after losing much ground at the stretch turn, but was timidly handled all during the stretch run after meeting with interference in the closing furlong.

SECOND RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won ridden out; place, driving. Went to post at 2:30. Off at 2:33. Winner, Mrs. B. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MY FERGUS, $4.00, $3.20, $2.80; PRIMLIN, $7.60, $4.00; TRENTONIAN, $7.20.

MY FERGUS, taken under slight restraint while following HIEAWAY, assumed command when, midway of the final turn, came out into the middle of the home stretch and held PRIMLIN safe when shaken up. PRIMLIN, saving ground for the entire trip, continued with good energy when placed to punishment. TRENTONIAN, squeezed back going to the first turn, entered contention on the outside when leaving the back stretch, raced in spots thereafter, but outstayed HIEAWAY. Latter, rated in front, weakened in the final three furlongs. HIEAWAY, rushed into a brief lead, tired when put to a drive. SILVER SCEPTER was outrun. PEACH BASKET failed to respond when called on.

THIRD RACE—Two miles. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Opportunity Steeplechase. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won pulled up; place, driving. Went to post at 3:00. Off at 3:01½. Winner, Mrs. F. M. Gould's br. or blk. g. (5), by Dan IV—Soot. Trained by A. White. Value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 4:09 3-5 (13 jumps).

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DANIEL SOOT, $3.40, $3.80, $3.40; MORTE MAIN, $9.20. $8.20; SAND BELL, $5.60.

DANIEL SOOT took command at his leisure when going to the fourth fence, jumped faultlessly thereafter and, opening up a commanding lead at will, was taken under stout reserve after the last fence and finished pulled up. MORTE MAIN, steered wide the entire trip, bobbled at the twelfth fence, recovered quickly and held on well. SAND BELL, forced to the outside fence, but completed the stretch run with interference in the closing furlong. CAPSTONE was messed about from the start, landed badly at the third fence, but recovered and his rider was of little help. BROWN RULER entered contention at the next to last fence, but tired. CURTAIN CALL fell at the fourth jump and PROOF POSITIVE lost his rider at the ninth.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:30. Off at 3:33½. Winner, Mrs. Mason's b. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—WARD IN CHANCERY, $8.80, $5.40, $3.80; FAIR JUDGE, $15.30, $6.20; RUNNING PLAY, $5.00.

WARD IN CHANCERY, crowded out of contention at the first turn and forced to secure racing room on the outside thereafter, reached the leaders swiftly and, moving into an easy lead, drew out without effort. FAIR JUDGE, slow to get going, circled in field and finished gamely. RUNNING PLAY worked his way steadily and closed with good courage. GRAND ACRE could not menace the leaders at any stage. TRUE SWEEP, whipped into contention, assumed a brief lead, but stopped suddenly when finishing in the deeper footing during the stretch run. SKIRT raced poorly. ELECTRIC GAFF weakened badly, as did EMERGENCY AID.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:01. Off at 4:01½. Winner, Mrs. F. P. Two-dollar mutuels paid—TRAFFIC JUDGE, $13.00, $6.20, $4.00; ALL ROWES, $8.40, $4.80; INTEGRITY, $3.80.

TRAFFIC JUDGE, well placed and on the outside in the safer footing, gained command when midway of the final turn, drew clear when straightened into the main stretch and had enough in reserve to withstand ALL ROWES. Latter, racing far back for six furlongs, came around her field at the stretch turn and finished resolutely. INTEGRITY, kept on the inside when holding a forward position, struck soggy footing when entering the home stretch and he began tiring rapidly at the end. DON PEDRO could not threaten when put to a drive. MONEL and FOXIANA raced each other into submission setting the pace.

SIXTH RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. The Severn. For 2-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won cleverly; place, driving. Went to post at 4:32. Off at 4:36½. Winner, E. R. Dicken's ch. c. (2), by Chatterton—Trontwich. Trained by J. L. Garthright. Value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 3-5, 0:56 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—CHATTERDOO, $45.20, $11.80, $5.80; LODORUS, $3.60, $2.60; IP IDA, $3.00.

CHATTERDOO, away quickly and securing a slight early lead, moved clear when reaching the home stretch and held LODORUS safe. Latter, away slowly, saved ground entering the home stretch and closed full of run. IP IDA, a stout factor the entire trip, weakened in the final drive. WHITE MAN, strongly ridden, tired in the last furlong. STANDING ROOM finished evenly on the inside. THE BALLIFF broke in motion and showed speed for a half mile. SASS broke well, but raced greenly.

SEVENTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:03. Off at 5:03½. Winner, F. Hayes' dk. ch. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—CANTORIA, $12.40, $5.60, $3.80; STROLL ALONG, $5.80, $4.00; LONE HAND, $5.00.

CANTORIA, showing smart early speed, was forced extremely wide when entering the home stretch, came again after losing command and in a hard drive outstayed STROLL ALONG. Latter worked his way up while forced to race on the outside early, came through between VISHNU and the winner entering the home stretch and fought it out gamely. LONE HAND, badly outrun for the first five furlongs, closed with a rush. VISHNU, heavily weighted, was used up racing with CANTORIA and he tired inside the final furlong. LORD RAGLAN had no excuses. AIR PILOT was in the deeper footing most of the trip and tired in the final drive.

EIGHTH RACE—Mile and seventy yards. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:31. Off at 5:33. Winner, Mrs. K. Two-dollar mutuels paid—NIGHT VINTAGE, $12.40, $5.20, $3.20; ANNIMESSIC, $4.80, $3.00; MODERN TIMES, $3.40.

NIGHT VINTAGE, shuffled back going to the turn, was sent up on the outside when straightened into the back stretch, resisted strong opposition from SOEUR BLANCHE and, coming out into the better footing in the final drive, lasted to stall off ANNIMESSIC. Latter, going wide from the start, gained fast to reach the winner, but was held safe during the final furlong. MODERN TIMES always close up, responded gamely when hard urged and outstayed SOEUR BLANCHE. Latter was used up racing with the winner early. BELOW COST secured racing room all the way and met with no excuse. BANNACH LATH could not stay when put to a hard drive. FLYING MAX raced in dull fashion.

AT THE POST

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, MAY 12.

DEAR AL:

Pimlico continues to take it on the chin, due to the bad break in the weather. But the Preakness today should bring out the good people and the good cash regardless of conditions. Mike dug me up that All Rowes tip and we came close to putting over a gooda one. However, close counts only in horseshoes. If you must get into action tomorrow, you might do worse than give some of these a chance.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—CREEK is the class of this jumping race and I can't see the stable tossing off this purse. ERIC THE RED fences well and is as dependable as that victory here reveals. Seems to hold the others safe. WAR EAGLE has learned to jump and may make trouble.

SECOND RACE—SURETY goes a mile and 70 yards tomorrow and may do better than that last sprint. Is well regarded by his handlers. PELHAM, a maiden, has been showing some smart form and may take the place from LORD RAGLAND. The latter has been tipped.

THIRD RACE—PEEDEEQUE must be ridden right to take this purse. Pat Remillard put up a brilliant performance on this youngster the last time to win after Rhyming, the favorite, ran away. TAUNTON was cutting down the top one the last time and will be close tomorrow. LIBERTY OAK for the show.

FOURTH RACE—TOWEE shares top weight with several others in this field and off that mud race the other day figures to gain another purse. MACK SENNETT won for me and will be pressing the leader. BRAVE AND BOLD has a chance.

FIFTH RACE—SPRINGSTEEL is among those to get chunks of weight from FAIRBYPAIR and I believe the Labrot star can turn the trick. FAIRBYPAIR is the one to beat, however. CANRON gets in well and will be making the leaders step at the finish.

SIXTH RACE—I'm going to take the COE ENTRY in the Preakness. LADYSMAN and POMPONIUS failed to run their races in Kentucky. Tomorrow they will be on a course they know, having worked here for months. HEAD PLAY, with Robertson instead of Fisher in the saddle, may come back to take care of BROKER'S TIP. If there is a major upset, I look for INLANDER to turn the trick. Can't get that Havre de Grace race out of my mind.

SEVENTH RACE—BUTTER BEANS gets my call here. A consistent sprinter that appears to be in too fast company. However, get down across the board and watch this one roll. BROADWAY LIGHTS has developed much class and is the one to beat. LADFIELD failed to run his race last out. Dangerous in this.

EIGHTH RACE—GARLIC will appreciate the track conditions and the distance. BUB McFARLAND and SYRIAC for the rest. The latter is due for a killing soon, if not today.

Sarron Knocks Out Datto in 15 Seconds

Special to The Washington Post.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 12.—Pete Sarron knocked out Johnny Datto, Philippine featherweight, in the first round at the Pittsburgh Arena tonight. Sarron stopped his man in fifteen seconds. Sarron's victory established a record here for quick knockouts.

Final Bouts Today For Junior Boxers

Weather permitting, the final bouts of the Junior Golden Gloves boxing tournament will be staged today at Griffith Stadium before a distinguished audience, including members of Congress.

The first bout will start at 2 o'clock. Eight championship matches and four exhibition bouts are on the card. The Boys Club tumbling team will give a demonstration of its ability and unfold its bag of tricks for the gathering.

The outstanding exhibition brings together Sunny Jasme and Joe Green, both promising bantamweights. The schedule of bouts follows:

SPECIAL EVENTS.

WETZELL SWEEPS VICTOR.

D. H. Wetzell, of Boulevard, won the Interurban League sweepstakes last night at the Takoma alleys with a 636 set. Paul Throckmorton, of Rendezvous, was second, a single pin behind the winner. In third place was L. Robey with 630, three pins ahead of Charley Benlich, of Queen Pin.

Morgan Winner In Capital Shoot

Exhibiting a keen eye and steady trigger finger for the clay pigeons, R. D. Morgan, secretary of the Washington Gun Club, yesterday won the premier event of local trapshooting, the 200-target match, with a score of 192. Walter S. Wilson, treasurer of the club, was runner-up with a score of 184.

The victory entitles Morgan to represent the District of Columbia in the champion of champions shoot at Vandalia, Ohio, in August, which will be held in conjunction with the Grand American Handicap.

Today's program includes 50 pairs of doubles in the morning and the New Deal Handicap in the afternoon. The latter event carries cumulative purse awards totaling $550 and will be fired at 100 targets at distances of 17 to 24 yards. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Maryland Beats V. M. I. Nine, 6-0

Maryland scored its second successive shut-out against a Southern Conference foe when it trimmed the Virginia Military Institute nine, 6 to 0.

Chase and Bartoo, of the Terps, figured in a triple play to give their backers an added thrill. It came in the fifth inning with the bases loaded. Scott lined to Chase, who doubled Edmunds off first, then threw to Bartoo to nail Outten at second.

Five Cadet errors, coupled with the eight walks allowed by their moundsmen and nine Old Liner hits spelled the doom of the Virginians.

PITT BEATS NOLAN FOR MANOR TITLE

eleventh, but took only one putt. Trapped on his second on the twelfth, Pitt won back a hole by canning a 5-footer—his third one-putt green in a row. Nolan cut down Pitt's lead to 2 up on the thirteenth with a par 4 as the Manor star topped his second and took a 5. Pitt sliced his drive, missed his second, but sank a 6-footer for a half on the Fourteenth. He won the fifteenth with a birdie four with a spectacular approach 1 foot from the cup. Nolan sliced his tee shot out of bounds.

Both played the sixteenth poorly for sixes, two over par. Nolan topped his drive into a trap, missed his second, overplayed the green on his third and missed a 10-footer. Pitt sliced into the woods, hit a tree on his second, dubbed his fourth near the green, but made his short putt to win the match.

Is Even Par for First Nine.

Pitt was even par for the first nine and 2 over through the sixteenth. He had nine one-putt greens.

Prizes in four other flights and consolations were awarded late in the afternoon.

Craig McKee won the first flight consolation, while Tom Webb, jr., of Washington; was 1 under par in beating L. T. Newton, of Indian Spring, for the second flight honors.

Merion Is Chosen For '34 Golf Open

New York, May 12 (A.P.).—Two of the country's oldest golf courses today were selected by the United States Golf Association as the venues for the amateur and open championships in 1934.

The Country Club of Brookline, Mass., home club of the U. S. G. A. president, Herbert Jaques, will be the scene of the amateur and the Merion Cricket Club, of Ardmore, Pa., where Bobby Jones won his last amateur title in 1930, will entertain the open.

The holding of a national tournament is no new experience to either club, as the Country Club was host to the amateur in 1922 and Merion, in addition to the 1930 amateur, also saw the first amateur victory of Jones in 1924.

Both the title events this year are being held in the Midwest, the open at North Shore, Chicago, June 8, 9 and 10, and the amateur at Kenwood, Cincinnati, Ohio, during the week of September 11-16.

Johnny Broaddus Takes Low Board Diving Title

Johnny Broaddus added the District A. A. U. indoor low-board diving championship to his long list of achievements at the Ambassador swimming pool last night where he triumphed over a large field of contestants. Dyer Ghomley was second and Knox Moncure third.

The Ambassador junior natators scored an easy victory over the Y. M. C. A., in their meet, which saw two records smashed.

JUNIOR MEET.

50-yard free style—Won by Rawls (A.); second, Porterfield (A.); third, Todd (Y). Time, 24 3-5 seconds. (New record.)

50-yard back stroke—Won by Wilson (Y); second, Rait (A.); third, Thacker (Y).

25-yard free style—Won by Orstein (A.); second, Oaks (Y); third, Rawls. (Y).

150-yard medley relay—Won by Ambassador (Rait, Goldberg, Rawls).

50-yard breast stroke—Won by Goldberg (A.); second, Wilson (Y); third, Taswell (Y). Time, 34 1-5 seconds. (New record.)

SOCCER LEAGUE AWARDS.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia, holding an Equity Court. American Security & Trust Co., trustee under the last will and testament of Ellen R. Middleton, deceased, plaintiff, vs. Rogers Monroe Ross et al., defendants. Equity No. 49503. Order of publication. The object of this suit is to determine whether the power of appointment vested in Jessie Ross Thomson, deceased, by the provisions of the codicil to the last will and testament of Ellen R. Middleton, deceased, was effectually exercised, and to obtain instructions to the plaintiff, as trustee under the last will and testament and codicil thereto of said Ellen R. Middleton, deceased, as to the disposition to be made of the funds now in its hands as such trustee. Upon motion of the plaintiff, it is by the court this 8th day of May, 1933, ordered, that Rogers Monroe Ross, individually and as executor cum testamento annexo of the estate of Maud Standard Ross, deceased, No. 12200 Liberty Heights avenue, Baltimore, Maryland; Herbert C. Ross, No. 1703 North Sheridan road, Peoria, Illinois; Curtis H. STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

YELLOWSTONE National Park's many geysers range in size from tiny jets of hot water to huge spouts, which throw steam and hot water 250 feet high. Some of the geysers spout for only a few minutes, others have a sustained flow up to three hours.

Most famous of the Yellowstone geysers is Old Faithful, which has, since its discovery in 1871, played at intervals averaging 65 minutes winter and summer. The geyser stream rises 120 to 170 feet high, and lasts about 4 minutes at a time, pouring out more than 1,000,000 gallons of hot water. Old Faithful gives enough water for a city of 180,000 people.

A new geyser, which came into existence in 1928, is the park's largest in point of volume of water. The Giant, another important geyser, throws its water the highest—reaching a height of 250 feet. A now extinct geyser, Excelsior, is considered the largest active hot spring ever known. It last erupted in 1888.

A smooth and fairly substantial sea floor made possible construction of one of the strangest railroads on earth, when in France the St. Servan ferry was built to run on rails laid on the bottom of the ocean. The problem of tides was solved by building the passenger car high enough to clear the surface at high tide.

A joint, dovetailed on four sides, can be taken apart and put together easily, if it is made as shown in the above drawing. The grooves and tongues are parallel, running to adjacent sides of the joint instead of to opposite sides, as is usual.

MOTHER'S DAY RITES HERE TOMORROW TO BE MANY AND VARIED

Elaborate Exercises Will Be Held at Arlington; Plans Made by Churches.

Washington will join the Nation in observing Mother's Day with special services in all churches and ceremonies of reverence by philanthropic organizations.

One of the largest of the public ceremonies will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m., when the American War Mothers hold their ninth annual Mother's Day services at Arlington National Cemetery. The exercises will be held in the amphitheater and at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

The colorful services will include a concert by the United States Army Band and solos by Miss Dorothy Reddish, Mrs. Gertrude Lyons, Neal Parish and Harry W. Phillips, cornetist.

Greetings from the American War Mothers will be given by Mrs. Virgil H. Stone, national president, of Lander, Wyo. The principal addresses will be made by Secretary of War George H. Dern and Representative Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey. Announcements will be made by Col. Richard T. Ellis. Invocation will be given by Capt. Sidney Key Evans, chief of chaplains, United States Navy, and benediction will be given by Col. Julian E. Yater, chief chaplain, United States Army.

Dedication of New Home.

At 7 p. m. the American War Mothers will dedicate their national home and headquarters at 1527 New Hampshire avenue with a program of speeches and music, followed by a reception.

The services at the Church of the Immaculate Conception will begin tomorrow at 5 p. m. and will be broadcast over radio station WOL.

The Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor, will make the principal address and preside at the program. He will be assisted by the Rev. S. A. Czyz, the Rev. J. Kelly Reese and the Friars of the Atonement.

The program will include the colorful May procession, in which 65 girls of the Immaculate Conception High School will take part. The court of the May Queen will be gowned in pastel dresses and will carry colorful bouquets.

The musical program, under the direction of Harry Wheaton Howard, will include Miss Florence Yocum, soprano; Miss Ann Arlen, violinist, and the Boys Sanctuary Choir.

"Mary's Day" Observance.

Today Washington Catholics will conduct an observance of "Mary's Day," set apart annually during the last six years for special honoring of the Virgin Mary as the "Mother of All."

Under the direction of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae those who observe the day here and throughout the country will attend mass and receive Holy Communion in honor of the Virgin Mary and will wear visibly during the day the "miraculous medal."

The federation will hold its local exercises at Immaculata Seminary this afternoon. The Sisters of Providence will entertain the alumnae after the religious services in Immaculata Chapel.

The Girls clubs at Friendship House will hold a Mother's Day entertainment tomorrow at 5 p. m. Tea will be served and a musical program given. The Mothers Club, in turn, will entertain for the Nebs Club at the settlement with a social on Wednesday evening. Music and a play will be followed by games and refreshments.

Synagogue Exercises.

The Visayan Circle clubhouse will begin its services at 8:30 p. m. Following a musical program an address will be given by Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, guest of honor. Opening remarks will be made by Diosdade M. Yap, president of the circle. Presentation of flowers to mothers will be made by the entire membership.

Those taking part in the musical program are Mrs. Candido Mediran, piano selections; Jose Doquino, vocal solo. A recitation, "Mother's Love," will be given by Mrs. Antonino Aquino. Dancing will follow the services.

Members of the Ohev Sholom Synagogue will hold their celebration tomorrow at 3 p. m. at the synagogue. Recitations and music will be presented by members of the Social Club and Sisterhood of the Synagogue.

Man, 68, Badly Hurt When Struck by Auto

Junius Broaddus, 68, 2011 Newton street northeast, suffered severe lacerations to his face and a possible skull fracture yesterday when struck by an automobile at Mills avenue and Rhode Island avenue northeast. He was treated at Sibley Hospital. His condition was reported serious.

Police said the car was driven by John R. Fitzgerald, 1224 Talbert street southeast.

PLANS PROGRESSING ON BANK REOPENINGS

Franklin Institution Obtains Half of Needed Consents to Reorganize.

Consents representing more than half of the 75 per cent of deposits necessary to meet requirements of the bank conservation act in the plan to reopen Franklin National Bank were announced by officials of that bank yesterday. They also said that a committee of depositors is voluntarily canvassing other depositors for prompt agreement to the institution's plan to reopen as Franklin National Bank.

Directors of Washington Savings Bank yesterday voted formal approval of the decision of that bank's reorganization committee that it join the "Spokane plan," which has been suggested to restricted local institutions by the reorganization committee of the District National Bank and with which the reorganization committee of Potomac Savings Bank is in substatial accord. Detailed plans will be submitted stockholders and depositors later. This places three banks definitely in substantial accord with the plan.

Conservators of several restricted banks held a long conference in the board room of Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., yesterday. Following it, the possibility of the last-named institution entering into a merger with other banks was discussed.

At the end of the meeting, John Poole, president and conservator, declined to make any statement other than to say that he had made no definite recommendations as yet to the officials of his own bank. He made no comment on his own attitude toward the proposed new central bank.

Officials of United States Savings Bank still have the "Spokane plan" invitation under consideration, but have made no definite decision pending discussion of the plan with the bank's directors and stockholders.

Dean Wilbur to be Honored.

Dean William Allen Wilbur, provost of George Washington University, will be honored this afternoon at student exercises in Rock Creek Park. A series of humorous athletic events will feature the program at Sixteenth and Kennedy streets northwest.

$209,580 WAS LEFT BY MRS. CRAIGHEAD

Kin and Churches to Share Wealth Under Will Filed in District.

Mrs. Alice Weakley Craighead, who died April 21, left a personal estate of $209,580.98, it was disclosed yesterday when her will was filed for probate in the District Supreme Court.

Among those who were named to receive bequests from the estate were Maria W. Craighead, a sister-in-law, $1,000; J. Barrett Craighead, a nephew, who is to have $5,000 in cash and a trust fund of $5,000; the trustees of the Union Theological Seminary, New York, $10,000; the Church of the Covenant, $5,000; the Board of Ministerial Relief and Sustention of the Presbyterian Church, $2,000, and $1,000 each to the Board of Home Missions and the College Board of the Presbyterian Church.

The will directed that the remainder of Mrs. Craighead's father's estate should go to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church. The father was the Rev. James G. Craighead. The American Security & Trust Co., executor of the estate, is directed to establish a school for Indians, Mormons, mountaineers or some other cause with the remainder of the estate.

Riverdale Man Dies From Auto Injuries

Fred Angstead, 51, 3714 Thirty-first street northwest, injured Thursday at Riverdale, Md., when he was caught between a fast-moving automobile and truck, died yesterday at 12:30 p. m. at Providence Hospital.

George J. Zorn, 51, 622 Madison street northwest, driver of the automobile, and Fred C. Lefevre, 32, West Grove, Pa., driver of the truck, are being held by Hyattsville police on a technical charge of reckless driving.

The accident, according to witnesses, was caused by an unidentified car, which was proceeding along Baltimore boulevard in advance of the truck, making a lefthand turn into Madison avenue in front of the Zorn car. Angstead was walking across the street.

VOIDING OF HOSPITAL LICENSE SOUGHT FOR CANCER SANITARIUM

Hearing Will Be Granted to Institution, Provided Request Is Made.

Health Officer William C. Fowler late yesterday recommended that the license of the Washington Cancer Sanitarium, 1414 Girard street northeast, be canceled, and Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, said that the recommendation would be adopted.

The corporation counsel will be instructed to notify Dr. H. R. Street to show cause as to why the license should not be revoked, Dr. Reichelderfer said, and a hearing will be granted, if requested, before formal action is taken by the Commissioners.

Following an inspection yesterday morning, Dr. Fowler reported to the Commissioners that the sanitarium was not equipped as a hospital and that apparently no patients had been lodged there for three years. The Health Department inspector interviewed Dr. Street and Mrs. Ida M. Brown, said to be the owner of the property.

Dr. Fowler said that there have been several complaints against the institution since it was licensed in November, 1913, but no occasion was found previously to recommend revocation of the license. As there is no fee attached to the license and no renewal is required, the sanitarium has apparently been holding a license without actually operating for the last three years.

The commission on licensure has considered the licenses of Dr. Street and Dr. Sherwood Ferris, Dr. Fowler said, but decided to take no action until after the trial. The commission can not revoke licenses to practice medicine in the District, but can recommend revocation to the District Supreme Court.

Shenandoah Pictures Go on Exhibition Again

Dr. George F. Bowerman, librarian of the Public Library, announces that the photographs of the Shenandoah National Park region which were shown at the annual meeting of the Potomac-Appalachian Trail Club, held Thursday evening in the lecture room of the Mount Pleasant Branch of the Public Library, will be on exhibition in the sunroom of the branch beginning today through May 27.

The beauty and variety of scene which the newest of national parks has to offer is admirably represented in this excellent collection of pictures taken by members of the club. There are about 100 pictures of which fully half are by Ernest L. Crandall, photographer for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The other pictures include those submitted in this year's photographic contests or in former contests, and gifts of members of the club.

Citizens Chairmen Talks for Program

George E. Sullivan, chairman of the law and legislation committee of the Federation of Citizens Associations, last night made a plea for enactment of the 4-point program sponsored by the federation in an address over Station WMAL.

The program urged (1) early creation of the joint Congressional committee proposed by Representative Mary Norton to study the District's needs and make recommendations; (2) replacement of the present "hit and miss" method of deciding the Federal contribution to the District each year with a fair fiscal relations policy; (3) reduction in water rates of 10 per cent; (4) horizontal cut in realty assessments by 20 per cent; (5) modification of the public utility act so as to prevent courts from reviewing technical facts in valuation appeals.

Mr. Sullivan also paid tribute to Senator King and Mrs. Norton for "their genuine friendship for the voteless residents of the District of Columbia."

Worker Seriously Hurt By Fall of Clam Bucket

Vincent J. Rose, 19, of Baltimore, was severely injured yesterday when the clam bucket on an excavation machine, at Sixth and D streets northwest, dropped on his foot.

Rose was working on an excavation job for the Morocco Construction Co. Misjudgment as to the reach of the crane is believed to have been the cause of the accident.

Audubon Group Goes For Fifth Field Outing

The Audubon Society of the District will hold its fifth field outing for the observation of birds today. The group will assemble at the Chevy Chase Lake 8:30 a. m.

Arranging the outing are: Clarence R. Shoemaker, Mrs. Clarence A. Aspinwall, William Howard Ball, Murray T. Donoho, Mrs. Leo D. Miner and Mrs. Robert M. Reese.

$156 Worth of Goods Burglars' Loot in Store

Cigars, cigarettes and candies, totaling $156 in value, were reported stolen from the drug store of Max Kosson, 1438 Seventh street northwest, by burglars Thursday night.

Junior Contests Held Tonight.

The junior contests of the District of Columbia Federation of Music Clubs will be held at the Y. W. C. A., at 7:45 o'clock tonight. This is the first time that a contest has been held at night. The public is invited.

Socialist Organizer to Speak.

John R. Quinn, national organizer of the Socialist Labor party, will speak on "The Industrial Organization of the Workers or Industrial Feudalism" at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the new Colonial Hotel.

$45 in Clothing Stolen From Car.

FATHER RYAN URGES REVIVING GUILDS AS OCCUPATIONAL UNITS

A return to occupational groups such as the ancient guilds with the owners, managers and employes participating in its government for the common purpose of filling a social need, was advocated last night at the joint conference of Maryland State Social Welfare workers and the Washington Council of Social Agencies, by the Rev. John A. Ryan, director of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

The Rev. Mr. Ryan told the meeting at the United States Chamber of Commerce Building that Pope Pius XI places chief emphasis on the State, but that he does not advocate the usurpation of industrial functions by the State.

Competition is Blamed.

Dr. Isador Lubin, director of Brookings Institution, addressed the conference at its opening session yesterday morning. He warned that no civilization could again withstand the conditions faced by this country in the past four years.

The problem of unemployment, Dr. Lubin said, could not be solved for several years. He stated that the unscrupulous competition of industry was the cause of existing low wages.

Election of officers was held by the Maryland organization yesterday. Miss Anna D. Ward, of Baltimore, was elected president. Other officers were Capt. George H. Marshall and Miss Gertrude Glick, vice presidents, and Mrs. Adolph Guttmacher, treasurer.

Tax Financing Urged.

At an early session yesterday William Hodson, of the New York Welfare Council, outlined the problems of administering public funds in welfare work. He advocated that all social work be financed by taxation.

Miss Bertha McCall, director of the National Association of Travelers Aid Societies, said at the conference that the antagonism of communities to outsiders was to blame for the inadequate care of transients.

Mrs. John J. O'Conner, member of the board of the Washington Council of Social Agencies, presided at the session last night. Linton B. Swift, of the Family Welfare Association of America, addressed the group.

The sessions today will begin at 9:30 a. m.

Gas Merger Bill's Approval Is Sought

The House District Public Utilities subcommittee will be asked to report favorably the House bill authorizing merger of the Washington Gas Light Co. with the Georgetown Gas Light Co., at a meeting called for 10:30 a. m. today.

Representative Loring Black, jr. (Democrat), New York, chairman of the subcommittee, favors immediate approval of the project. As the gas companies promise widespread improvement under its terms, offering jobs to more than 200 men, Representative Black thinks it should be considered in the light of emergency legislation, and passed this session.

If favorably reported this morning, it will be called up before a meeting of the full House District Committee Wednesday. Speaker Rainey is said to have promised time for the measure before adjournment, if the committee places it on the House calendar.

Western High Youths Sought by Authorities

Police last night were still searching for Philip Anderson, 15-year-old son of Col. and Mrs. P. M. Anderson, of 5508 Broad Branch road northwest, and Robert P. Patterson, jr., 14, of 3306 Highland place northwest, both Western High School students, who disappeared from their homes Thursday.

Col. Anderson said he thought his son may have become worried and decided to go away because he was in an auto accident and damaged his car. A servant at the Patterson home said he heard the boys talking about going to the World's Fair in Chicago.

Sharp Upturn Ahead For Paper Industry

All the barometers employed by business indicate that buyers of paper anticipate a sharp upturn soon. E. M. Hughes, of the Strathmore Paper Co., of West Springfield, Mass., said yesterday in an address before the Advertising Club of Washington:

"Both large and small buyers are increasing their inquiries," he said. "Happenings at Washington have put people on the toes of expectancy."

Trail Club Will Hike To Manassas Gap, Va.

The Potomac-Appalachian Trail Club will hike from Ashby Gap to Manassas Gap, Va., tomorrow. The drive to the starting point, Paris, Va., will be made by bus, leaving Treasury place at 7 a. m.

The trail, reported to be in excellent condition, winds through the flower garden of the Potomac Appalachian section. The hikers will be led by Herbert L. Solyom, 1000 River road, Bethesda, Md.

Buddies of Lost Battalion Meet Here After 15 Years

A shadowy line advanced across a French battlefield. It was 1918, the Lost Battalion was hemmed in by enemy forces and the First Gas Brigade of American troops was attempting to cut an escape passage through for their beleagured comrades.

There was a burst of machine gun fire. Many of the advancing line fell in their tracks. One was Pvt. M. A. Rainey. His sergeant, Edward McDade, stopped a moment:

"Can I do anything, Rainey," he said.

"Go ahead," said Rainey. "I'll get by somehow."

Night before last Private M. A. Rainey, of the United States Park police, was assigned with the detail to move the bonus marchers from Seaton Park.

Rainey was strolling through the milling veterans when a hand was laid on his arm.

It was his old sergeant, "the best sergeant a guy ever had," said Rainey.

And the two men had a reunion right there. It was the first time they had met since Rainey fell with five machine gun slugs in his body.

Rainey finally recovered in the base hospital and for fourteen years has been connected with the Park Police. McDade, who comes from Michigan, rode here on a freight train to ask for his bonus.

GASOLINE TRUCKER BURNED IN COLLISION

Henry L. King, 33, of Clarksburg, Md., is in critical condition at Emergency Hospital, and J. Carlton Knight, 34, of Rockville, less seriously injured, is at Montgomery County General Hospital at Sandy Spring, Md., as the result of an accident yesterday on the Rockville pike, south of Rockville.

King was critically burned when gasoline from his overturned truck ignited and set fire to his clothing after a head-on collision with a car operated by Knight. The truck was overturned on the concrete curbing alongside the Washington-Rockville car line, causing the gasoline tank to break open and scatter gasoline over the hot motor.

His clothing in flames, King crawled from the truck and ran across the field to a nearby farmhouse, where the occupants tore the flaming clothing from his back. First aid was administered by the Rockville Volunteer Fire Department Rescue Squad, which took him to Emergency Hospital. Other firemen extinguished the fire and carried Knight to the county hospital. Knight suffered injuries to his back and lacerations on the body. King was burned on the face, head and body.

Linn Gale Elected President of Forum

Linn A. E. Gale was elected last night to his fifth term as president of the Washington Open Forum at the annual business meeting. Leland Barton, John A. Savage, O. C. Miller, Mrs. Magdalena Gale and Miss Flo Stein were named vice presidents; Clarence S. Tucker, secretary; Samuel D. Stein, treasurer.

Representative Magnus Johnson, with the other Farmer-Labor party representatives from Minnesota, P. H. Shoemaker, Henry Xrens, Ernest Lundeen and Paul J. Kvale, were chosen honorary vice presidents.

Friends School Honors 50th Year of Founding

More than 1,500 yesterday attended a reception commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Sidwell's Friends School. The gathering was held at the Wisconsin avenue buildings of the institution.

Features of the celebration were exhibits of the work of pupils, including objects of art and handiwork, and a fashion show by the pupils illustrating the costumes worn in the 50 years of the school's existence.

Man Injured in Crash Near Riverdale Dies

William F. Angstadt, 40, of 3714 Thirty-first street northeast, died yesterday at Providence Hospital from injuries received in an auto accident, Thursday on the Washington boulevard near Riverdale, Md.

A coroner's jury was sworn in shortly after the accident and an inquest has been set for 7:30 p. m., Monday in Hyattsville, Md. Acting D. C. Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald released the body to Maryland authorities yesterday afternoon.

GARDEN TOUR SET FOR THIS MORNING

Rain Alone Will Halt Visits to Historic Spots in Georgetown.

Barring inclement weather, Georgetown's historic gardens, now in their prime, will be open for inspection at 10 a. m. today. The annual tour, conducted by the Georgetown Pilgrimage Committee, has received several setbacks because of inclement weather.

The afternoon list of gardens will be open at 2 p. m., it was announced by Mrs. Robert F. Whitehead, chairman of the committee. In the event rain hampers the program today, the pilgrimage will be postponed until Monday and Tuesday.

Annual inspection of the gardens is held to raise funds for the upkeep of a settlement house at 3238 N street northwest, where 20 of Georgetown's underprivileged children are cared for.

Tickets to view the gardens may be obtained at the Mayflower Hotel or the American Automobile Association. Admission may also be paid at the gardens.

Information regarding the gardens may be had by stopping at any Georgetown home before which tour tables are set.

League Approves Roosevelt Stand

The National Economy League today indorsed the decision of President Roosevelt to have reviewed the new regulations in regard to the payment of compensation to World War veterans with specific service-connected injuries.

The league's position was made known by Gilbert G. Browne, chairman of the organization's managing committee, in telegrams to President Roosevelt, Director of the Budget Douglas and Louis Johnson, national commander of the American Legion. The telegram to the President follows:

"The National Economy League is gratified to learn of your reconsideration of the effect of the new regulations in regard to compensation to World War veterans with specific service-connected injuries. It will support any program which will protect the truly war disabled veterans and their dependents as vigorously as it will fight all demands for payments or benefits to veterans not disabled in line of duty. On this principle only can true justice be obtained for both the veterans and the citizens of this Nation."

GOVERNMENT SETUP CHANGE IN DISTRICT TO BE STUDY TOPIC

Senator King Picks Special Subcommittee to Ask Officials' Help.

By J. BERNARD M'DONNELL.

Reorganization of the District Government will be studied by a special subcommittee of the Senate District Committee named by Senator William H. King (Democrat), of Utah, chairman, at a meeting of the committee yesterday.

Change in the District Government machinery has been under consideration by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is said to have wanted candidates for District Commissioners to understand that their terms might be cut short by the change.

Senator King, Senator Patrick McCarron (Democrat), of Nevada, and Senator Arthur Capper (Republican), of Kansas, former chairman of the Senate District Committee, comprise the subcommittee which will immediately begin collecting data and opinions and suggestions from various District officials and others, so that the full committee will be in a position to act on any reorganization proposal submitted to the regular session of Congress which will convene in January.

"The subcommittee intends to ask the cooperation of District officials and others who are in a position to be of help with information about consolidations and other possibly wise changes which might be made in line with the President's plan," Senator King said. "We want to get the data which will equip us to deal with the proposal when it is submitted.

Appointment of the special reorganization subcommittee was made by Senator King following adoption of a resolution by the full committee.

Annual Party Is Held At Children's Hospital

Celebration of National Hospital Day at Children's Hospital yesterday was marked by a party for the children, given by the junior league. Invitations had been sent to more than 300 dispensary visitors and these, with the children at the hospital and neighboring youngsters who just "dropped in," filled the grounds of the institution.

Hospital Day has always meant a party at Children's Hospital but this year, with every penny needed for care of sick children, hospital officials had decided to forego this annual event. Then the Junior League stepped in and took charge.

K Street-Dupont Circle "U" Turn Is Eliminated

The District Commissioners yesterday amended the traffic regulations so as to prohibit the making of a U turn on Connecticut avenue between K street and Dupont Circle.

Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer recommended the change on the ground that traffic congestion on the avenue is steadily increasing and that the elimination of U turns would improve the condition somewhat.

Crittenton Heads Name Miss Riggall

Miss Carrell Riggall was appointed chairman of a committee to cooperate with a committee of the Washington Federation of Womens Clubs for better films at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Managers of the Florence Crittenton Home.

The board voted to acknowledge the action of the District Commissioners in the closing of a taxi dance h
